Youths With Chain, Machete Jailed After Drive-In Row

Youths armed with a machete and a length of chain were arrested in Mill Valley last night on suspicion of creating another disturbance at C's Drive-In on Miller avenue.

A third youth, Leroy Straight, 20, of Woodacre, was being sought today for slugging a soldier in the same altercation.

Last night's slugging was the latest in a series of fights and vandalism that have erupted at and near the drive-in.

PAIR JAILED

In jail today were Robert Vernon Treacy, 21, a champion weight lifter who gave his address as 2450 Fifth avenue, San Rafael, and his companion, Robert Hernandez, 18, of 1333 Cambridge avenue, Novato.

Mill Valley police arrested the pair at Enchanted Knolls about 11:30 last night at the request of the sheriff's office. Inside the car, police found a machete, about two and one-half feet long. Officer Dan Terzich said the machete belongs to Treacy, who is a tree cutter.

CONFISCATE CHAIN

Police also confiscated a chain with a handle from Hernandez. They were booked on suspicion of drunkenness. Treacy is also booked on suspicion of having a dangerous weapon—the machete.

Ruble told deputies he and two buddies went in for a cup of coffee about 8 p.m. when several youths in a car began asking them questions. Suddenly, a youth (later identified as Straight), slugged him in the left eye and asked him if he wanted a fight. When his buddies started getting out of their car, they were faced by about six or seven youths, the victim told police.

Drive Starts To Preserve Old St. Hilary's

A campaign to acquire and preserve old St. Hilary's church on the Tiburon Peninsula hillside as an historic monument and museum is the first project of the newly organized Tiburon Landmarks Society, according to Mrs. Robert Bastian, acting chairman.

Plans also call for development of the half-acre church site as a public park.

Officials of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco are interested in having the old church preserved and have authorized Rev. James J. Forristal, pastor of St. Hilary's Parish, to negotiate sale of the property to the local historical group, Mrs. Bastian said. The proposed purchase price was not disclosed.

The society plans to solicit individual contributions and schedule a fund-raising event for sometime this spring.

Las Gallinas Unit Vows To Fight Airport

One hundred members of the Las Gallinas Village Improvement Assn. voted overwhelmingly last night to oppose efforts by Robert de Young to obtain county approval for a private airport on the Smith ranch north of Gallinas Creek in Santa Venetia.

The county board of supervisors in January rejected 3-2, a planning commission recommendation favoring the airport location.

De Young, an employee at the ranch, who would operate the airport, has said he hopes to convince the supervisors that the airport should be installed at the ranch.

3,000-FOOT RUNWAY

Proposed is a 3,000-foot runway, planned for initial use by from 10 to 20 small planes, de Young has indicated.

Opponents have insisted that the project would constitute a hazard to Gallinas Valley residents and tend to lower property values in the area.

EXPAND BOUNDARIES

Members agreed to expand the association's boundaries to open membership to persons residing within the area bounded by North San Pedro road and Meadow and Vendola drives. The new boundary, to be included as an amendment to the bylaws, will open membership to about 300 persons.

Military Fund Bill Clears House Group

The House Armed Services Committee yesterday approved a $1,247,178,000 missile-age construction bill that includes funds for new construction at Hamilton Air Force Base and a Marine Reserve training center in Santa Venetia.

The bill has $1,285,000 earmarked for Hamilton, for purposes which the Air Force has not yet announced.

It contains $490,000 for building a Marine Reserve training center at the future county civic center site, to replace the Tamalpais Center in Kentfield now used by the 14th Rifle Company.

Chairman Carl Vinson of the Armed Services Committee said he hoped to get the bill on the House floor March 25.

Mayor Christopher Will Run Again

The mayor said he would base his campaign on his record, including the police department's cleanup of crime.

McLaughlin Quits NMWD Position

Jerome B. Gilbert, 28, who has been assistant general manager and chief engineer for the district for 10 months, was named as McLaughlin's successor.

McLaughlin has been on the district staff for nine years, and has been general manager since 1956. He was previously with a San Francisco engineering firm.

In a statement issued by the district after McLaughlin's resignation was accepted, it was noted:

"During the time McLaughlin was with the district its facilities were greatly expanded.

"The storage capacity at Stafford Lake was increased by the construction of a new spillway. Other construction projects undertaken by the district include major pipelines on Olive avenue and in the south Novato area.

"During his term as general manager the district increased its number of customers by more than 50 per cent, while water consumption almost doubled."

McLaughlin is a director of the Bay Area Water Works Assn. He resides at 1120 Court road, Novato, is married and

Ike Signs Bill For Hawaiian Statehood

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today signed "with great satisfaction" a bill to admit Hawaii as the 50th state.

He then cabled Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii advising him of the action, thus clearing the way for a vote by the Hawaiian people themselves on whether to accept statehood.

Their approval—expected to be overwhelming—will clear the way for the island's territory's formal admission sometime this fall. It thus will join Alaska, admitted last year, as the first new states to join the union since 1912.

Hawaii's 40-year battle for statehood was climaxed last week when Congress put its final stamp of approval on the enabling bill.

Eisenhower signed the legislation at 10:21 a.m. in a regular office routine that was devoid of any pomp and ceremony. He acknowledged the importance of the event, however, by using nine different pens to affix the date and his signature,

"It has given me great satisfaction to sign the act providing for admission of Hawaii into the union," Eisenhower said.

Sad St. Pat's Day For Two Greens

Two men named Green were fined in Marin Municipal Court by Judge A. E. Scheidecker yesterday for drunken driving.

Charles Cornelius Green, 47, of 480 Irving court, Mill Valley, was fined $263. He was arrested March 6 on Highway 101.

Convict Put In Isolation For Assault

John Manning, 26-year-old San Quentin prisoner who clubbed a felow inmate last Friday, has been placed in isolation for 29 days by order of the prison's disciplinary committee.

The case was referred to Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich for possible prosecution of Manning on an assault charge. The prisoner's scheduled appearance before the Adult Authority next month for parole consideration was put off until September.

Victi of the assult was Johnnie Norwood, 23, of Los Angeles, who suffered head wounds and multiple bruises when hit with a 2-by-4 board in a battle that broke out shortly after the lunch hour. Norwood is expected to be released from the prison hospital tomorrow. He is serving five years to life for robbery.

Manning, also from Los Angeles, is serving three to life on a rape conviction.

Fairfax School Board Rules Out Tax Hike

Superintendent Told To Seek Means Of Paring Expenses

Trustees of the Fairfax School District last night rejected any idea of asking for a tax rate increase for 1959-60.

A 25-cent increase in the $1.25 tax rate per $100 assessed valuation was suggested by Supt. Harold R. DePue as one way to bridge the gap between next year's estimated income and expenditure.

If Fairfax School District gets the same state apportionments in 1959-60 as this year, its income will be approximately $281,000.

SALARY INCREASE

Its expenditures will total about $335,000 if all its present services are maintained and if its teachers are granted a 10 per cent salary increase (an increase of $24,000 over this year).

The four trustees at last night's meeting (Trustee Jack Uhte was absent) told Superintendent DePue to consider three other money-saving possibilities when next year's budget is drawn up:

1. Eliminate school bus transportation and save about $2,000.

2. Increase average class size from 29 to 33 pupils and eliminate three teachers, thus saving $18,000.

NO PAY HIKES

3. Grant no pay increases to teachers.

The big question mark is the size of state apportionments for 1959-60, said DePue. This will not be known until the state Legislature recesses in mid-June, although the trustees will be presented with a preliminary budget next month.

The formula for state apportionments is based partly on the number of pupils and partly on the "wealth" of a school district. This year Fairfax received $182 per child; San Anselmo School District received $173 per child, and Kentfield, $152 per child.

In other business last night, the Fairfax trustees:

1. Voted to pay $500 for one teacher's salary for the June 24 to July 24 summer session to be held at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo, as Fairfax's share of last summer's $2,400 deficit.

SCHOOL YEAR

2. Approved a 180-day school year for 1959-60 from Sept. 10 to June 16.

3. Went on record in favor of Assembly Bill 1000 to increase state apportionments to all school districts and Senate Bill 750 which provides survivorship benefits to state teachers retirement system at no additional cost to district or teacher.

The trustees opposed passage of AB 807, which would provide tenure after three years for teachers in districts with 250 to 850 pupils.

Incorporation Foes Ask County Probe

Charges of "apparent fraud, secrecy and misrepresentations" in proceedings toward incorporation of Novato were leveled yesterday by seven Novato property owners in a petition to the board of supervisors and county boundary commission.

The petition asks the supervisors to request an investigation of the incorporation campaign by the district attorney and the county grand jury.

BRINDEL ASSISTS

Taking part in filing the petition with the county clerk yesterday and in serving copies on members of the boundary commission was Paul Brindel, a leading opponent of the incorporation proposal. Brindel, however, did not sign the petition, presumably because his property is not included within the currently proposed city boundaries.

The petition includes these charges:

1. That the "so-called Home Rule Committee" which has drafted the incorporation proposal "consists of less than 20 individuals, some not property owners within the proposed boundaries and therefore not qualified by law to participate in any incorporation proceedings."

PUBLIC EXCLUDED

2. That the committee "arbitrarily and capriciously prepared the aforesaid map (showing proposed city limits) at private meetings from which the general public was excluded."

3. That North Marin Supervisor William A. Gnoss took part in "secret deliberations" and that his participation was "improper inasmuch as he is a party at interest, being the owner of a large amount of real property" within the proposed boundaries.

4. "That the general public and property owners of Novato have been given no opportunity to meet with and question one William Zion, operating under a fictitious name, who is the alleged author of a report and survey which confuses and misrepresents the facts and issues pertaining to the proposed City of Novato."

CHAMBER VOTE

5. "That only 68 out of a total membership of 170 in the Novato Chamber of Commerce voted in favor of the proposed incorporation scheme . . . thus showing that the preponderance of public opinion is adverse to this proposal."

In addition to asking for an investigation by the district attorney and grand jury, the petition asks the supervisors to hold a public hearing in Novato on proposed city boundaries, and that Gnoss disqualify himself from participation in any proceedings of the board of supervisors in connection with the incorporation proposal.

Board Chairman Walter R. Castro said today he will give the petitioners time on the supervisors' agenda next Tuesday afternoon to present the petition.

HAMILTON OPENS GATE TO PUBLIC TOMORROW

Hamilton Air Force Base will be open to the public during an open house from 2 to 5:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Included in displays will be jet fighter planes, cargo and rescue aircraft of types in use at the base.

The Hamilton band will give a concert at 2:30 p.m., the Air Force precision flying team, the Thunderbirds, will stage a 27-minute demonstration of close-order high speed flying over the field, starting at 4:45.

A number of retired high ranking Air Force officers will be on hand for the occasion, as will about 400 of its future officers—the class of 1962 from the Air Force Academy, which will parade at 4 p.m.

Terra Linda Given Recreation Plan

A plan for establishment of a recreation district in the Terra Linda area, including much of the 1,090 uninhabited acres sought for annexation to San Rafael, was laid before the Terra Linda Community Services District board last night.

The proposal was made by Donald G. Black, the district's parks and recreation commissioner, at a meeting that ran until 1:40 a.m.

Specifically, Black asked the board to endorse the circulation of petitions for creation of a recreation district.

Deciding the matter needed careful study, directors tabled the request until their next meeting April 7.

Black's proposal calls for a recreation district encompassing the entire area of the service district, plus Terra Linda Oaks Unit 9 and much of the open land lying between Terra Linda and the northern city limits of San Rafael.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday instructed the county boundary commission to prepare a legal description of recreation district boundaries proposed by Black.

The commissioner last night stressed the disadvantages of providing recreational facilities only within service district boundaries. Inevitably, he said, such facilities would be used by valley residents living outside the service district. He contended this would generate friction because the "outsiders" would not be paying any taxes to the Terra Linda district.

Black said the area he proposes for a recreation district is a "geographic entity" and will remain so even if the now uninhabited territory is annexed to San Rafael.

A recreation district, said Black, appears to be the only type of legal entity which could cross political boundaries, since neither San Rafael nor the service district alone could serve the entire area recreation-wise.

Black said he believes it would be to the advantage of owners of the uninhabited land to bring much of their property into a recreation district. He noted that a large portion of this territory is to be developed residentially and claimed its inclusion in such a district would tend to raise property values.

Marin Driver Injured In Fatal Crash

Berkeley police said Young, of 10 Girard avenue, Sausalito, has been living at a boarding house at 1334 Spruce street, Berkeley.

The car smashed into a tree at Euclid avenue near Oak street. Young was admitted to Cowell Hospital with a possible concussion, police said.

Kendall, who resided at a campus dormitory, was identified by Berkeley police as the youth arrested last month for illegally warning motorists against a radar speed trap.

Another Marin County Irish Sweepstakes ticket turned up today. Mr. and Mrs. Colin Menzies of 417 Magee avenue, Mill Valley, disclosed that they hold a ticket on Pintail, a 50-1 shot.

Menzies has been a maintenance man with the Mill Valley School District for 16 years. Mrs. Menzie is with Mayer's Men's Store in Mill Valley.

CHP Takes Kids To 3 Schools

The California Highway Patrol was called on this morning to transport Tamalpais Valley children to Tamalpais Valley, Edna Maguire and Marin Terrace Schools after two bus drivers refused to try to negotiate a torn-up grade left slick by a drizzle of rain.

Tamalpais Valley Fire Chief Herbert Owen said road work yesterday on Marin drive had left dirt on the pavement which turned to mud. He complimented bus drivers Alfred Bedecarrax and Henry Brum for their decision not to risk children's lives by attempting the slippery grade with the school buses.

HE'S SARDINE IN FRANCE, ENIDRAS IN U.S.

Enidras, a chef at a prep school here, was born Roger Sardine in Diette, France. He became a U.S. citizen in 1938. Since sardine is a word often taken lightly here, Roger turned it around and named himself Enidras.

Now he's planning a trip back to France. He asked the judge to allow him to reverse his name to Sardine, so the home folks will remember him.

Hundreds Marvel At Exhibits Of Young Marin Scientists

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Troubled with colds and sore throat? Jean Gustafson, another Tam high senior, has found experimentally which mouth wash and throat lozenget most effectively inhibit bacteria growth.

Confused by conflicting claims of soap and detergent makers? Kenneth Schultz, Tam high junior, and Sara Eleanor Hughes, eighth grader at Pacheco School in Raphael Village, have some findings that should interest you.

Spring, Jean, Kenneth and Sara Eleanor are but four of nearly 200 students in Marin high schools and seventh and eighth grades who produced 127 exhibits on display at the Marin Science Fair in Wood Hall of Tamalpais High School.

Hundreds crowded through the hall last night to marvel at the amazing variety of exhibits by the young scientists. The show will be open to the public for the last time from 7 to 9 o'clock tonight.

The experiments range from a simple demonstration of transmission of electricity by Michael Slattery, Marin Catholic High School freshman, to an exceedingly complicated electronic setup—with a mass of purchased units—built by Jan Katz of Redwood High School to show the comparative power requirements of transistors and vacuum tubes.

Christine Marshall, 12-year-old seventh grader at Reed School in Tiburon, reached into the past for her exhibit. She built a fascinating replica of the French cinematographe of the 19th Century, long-ago forerunner of today's wide-screen talking picture.

Nora Nininger of Larkspur, Redwood High School freshman and sister of Neil Nininger, a Westinghouse Science Award winner last year, reached into a field explored by Albert Einstein to prepare a display on the question, "Is time the fourth dimension?"

Satellites captured the interest of two exhibitors. John Younger, eighth grader at Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School, produced models of Sputnik and Jupiter. Lynn Watson and Carol Kokjer, 12-year-old Reed School seventh graders, made a model and diagram of a weather satellite.

The control of smog engaged the attention of William Gowen, a 12-year-old seventh grader at Edna Maguire School. His solution, shown by a model, is a smokestack which has a postively charged electrode running up the center and negatively charged sides. His theory: Particles in smoke will become electrically charged and adhere to the sides of the smokestack, resulting in "clean" smoke.

Three young scientists made complete models of factory machinery from such materials as tin cans and cardboard tubes out of toilet tissue rolls. George Stoll, Edna Maguire School eighth grader, chose a cement factory for his model. Stewart Hindley, 16, and James Wall, 15, sophomores at Tam High, modeled refineries of cane and beet sugar.

Just the titles of some of the other exhibits suggest the wide range of inquiring young scientific minds: "Are you really clean?" "How starfish eat." "What is color?" "What is Maxwell's demon?" "Building blocks of the future."

You have to see for yourself.

Wingless Aircraft Predicted By 1970s

PALO ALTO (AP)—Stanley Hiller Jr., president of the Hiller Aircraft Corp., predicts wings on airplanes are on the way out. By the 1970s, airplanes will take off vertically without using fixed wings, he said.

Hiller's comments were made in connection with the company's annual report, issued yesterday, which showed net income for 1958 totaled $327,125, equal to 80 cents a share, compared with $374,151 or 61 cents a share in 1957.

4 Children Die In Fire

Their mother, hands and face badly charred, saved three other children and drove them in a pickup truck to a neighbor's house for help. The survivors were taken to a hospital in nearby Olean.

The dead were identified as Barbara Hecker, 14; her brother William, 10, and two sisters, Holly, 13, and Joan, 3.

Mrs. William Hecker and a daughter, Christine, 9, were reported in critical condition. The other two, Jacqueline, 12, and Loretta, six months, were in fair condition.

Hospital Seccession Hearing Set Tonight

Supporters of the move to withdraw Novato from the Marin County Hospital District are expected to be on hand in large numbers tonight at an 8 o'clock public hearing at Hill School in Novato.

The hearing was set by the Marin hospital district directors to hear citizens' comments on the proposed secession.

The directors have the option of granting the withdrawal tonight or of setting the date for an election to decide the issue.

A petition with more than 500 signatures was presented to the board in October, but legal technicalities have held up action.

S. Ames (Bud) Pence, Marin General Hospital administrator, said that if the board determines the move is in the best interests of the district and the area to be withdrawn, it may grant the separation tonight.

He said if the board cannot find this, it must set the date for an election in the Novato area. A majority vote then would be enough to authorize the secession.

A group of local physicians hope to construct a hospital in Novato if the area is taken from the hospital district.

Highway Reopens At Lake Tahoe

LAKE TAHOE (AP) — State Highway 89 on the west shore of this mountain lake was reopened to traffic yesterday.

The state Division of Highways reported the reopening is a month or more earlier than usual because of relatively light snows. Snow and slides close it each year.

The route skirts the steep shores of Emerald Bay. A controversy has developed over whether the bay's mouth should be bridged, or the shore tunneled to provide an all-weather highway.

I-J Again Offers Reading Bargains

Subscription to 40 magazines will be offered at special combination rates with Independent-Journal subscriptions. Subscribers can choose two, three or four magazines to be delivered by mail, making payments along with their regular monthly I-J subscription payments.

H. E. Abshagen, known to newspaper boys as "Uncle Hank," who originated the combination sales program, is explaining its workings to I-J carrier-dealers in a series of meetings this week.

The boys, while selling the combination offer, will be competing for prizes including cameras, radios, electric clocks, hi-fi sets, baseball equipment and Disneyland trips via Western Airlines, said Leone. The contest will end May 2.

I-J OUTSELLS 3 S. F. PAPERS COMBINED HERE

New audit circulation figures just published give the Independent-Journal more paid readers in Marin County than three San Francisco newspapers combined.

For the 12 months ended last Sept. 30—the latest period for which audited figures are available—the Independent-Journal was credited with an average of 24,441 paid readers daily. Weekday averages for San Francisco newspaper circulation in Marin were 11,623 for the Chronicle, 9,582 for the Examiner, 4,829 for the Call-Bulletin and 2,090 for the News.

The combined Marin circulation of the Chronicle, Examiner and News totaled 23,295, topped by the I-J's 24,441.

Sunday Chronicle sales in Marin averaged 15,360. Sunday Examiner sales were 17,727.

The new figures are contained in reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, just published. ABC audited figures credit the I-J with a gain of 1,741 paid subscribers in the one-year period ended last Sept. 30.

Planners To Decide On Marinwood Center

The Marin County Planning Commission will attempt to decide on April 20 whether to permit Gerald P. Hoytt to go ahead with a major shopping center in Marinwood — or whether to heed the plea of a group of residents for a "moratorium" on all development until final adoption of a master recreation plan.

Hoytt, original Marinwood developer, Monday night presented to the planners his proposed design for a shopping center in the now-storeless community. Donald Fry, vice president of Marinwood Assn., countered with a report prepared by Miller, Severin and Kite, San Rafael architect firm, outlining needs for recreation. The two conflicted.

Hoytt called the conflict "one of misunderstanding."

"The people will learn that we have set aside land over and above our requirements," he said. "I think they will find there are areas very much usable for recreation."

But the report by the architectural firm held: "It is a fact that there are very few acres which remain open for possible change in designation . . . Hoytt Enterprises has pretty thoroughly saturated the various neighborhoods with residences."

The report prepared for the home owner group proposed that a site set up earlier by Hoytt for a neighborhood shopping center at Lucas Valley and Miller Creek roads be used, instead, for a community center — church, fire station, community building, picnic area, playground. Another recreational site is proposed at Miller Creek road and Las Gallinas avenue.

Fry also claimed an area proposed by Hoytt for apartments, adjacent to Hoytt's proposed 19-acre shopping center at Miller Creek road and an extension of Marinwood avenue, might better be used for recreation.

Hoytt proposes a shopping center patterned closely after that he has planned for Novato. A supermarket and two service stations would be the first units.

Fry suggested that no further Marinwood development be allowed until a master plan setting aside recreational areas has been adopted.

Thieves Take $100,000 In Gems, Jade

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Police today sought thieves who stole jewelry and jade valued at $100,000 from the home of Egyptian-born film director Fouad Aref.

The 33-year-old Aref, brought here by the late Cecil B. DeMille, said the valuables taken include four watches worth between $800 and $15,000.

Also included in the loot was a $10,000 decoration from the late Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia and a gem-encrusted ring bearing the face of an Arab shiek valued at $10,000.

Aref, who said his father was once commander of the royal bodyguard of King Fouad, father of the expelled King Farouk, told police he discovered the theft yesterday after spending the previous night away from home.

Ex-Film Star Calls Husband's Suit A 'Smear'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Frances Farmer, former film star, said through a spokesman yesterday that her agent-husband's suit for $250,000 in fees is a smear.

Miss Farmer, who does a film commentary on an Indianapolis television show, said she and her husband; Leland Mikesell, 51, have separated and she plans to file suit for divorce.

Mikesell said in his suit that the actress signed a contract in 1957, before they were married, to pay him half her salary. He estimated her present earnings at $10,000 a year but said she may earn $500,000 in the next two years.

Marin Housing Firm Sued For Legal Fees

Alliance Military Housing Corp. of Marin is being sued for $48,513 in legal fees which a Washington, D. C., attorney claims is owing to him for work in the sale of La Mesa Village in Monterey County.

Attorney Minor Hudson of Washington, D. C., filed the suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday through San Francisco attorney Dan L. Garrett Jr. According to Hudson, the Marin corporation, whose principals are Calvin C. B. Wheeler of San Rafael and John Boswell of Sacramento, owned La Mesa Village, a Wherry Act housing project. During the past two years, Hudson says he handled the sale of the village to the Navy for $700,000, whereas the Navy had offered to buy it for $360,000.

Hudson seeks to collect $48,513, which he feels is the fair value of his legal services.

Reed School Board Eyes Budget; It's $36,000 Over Likely Income

Reed Union School District trustees last night took a first look at a proposed 1959-60 budget of $509,666, which is $36,000 over the potential income at the current tax rate of $2.10 and $92,468 over the 1958-59 budget.

Lloyd R. O'Connor, administrative assistant to the superintendent, prepared the figures and gave the estimate of excess over tax receipts.

The trustees settled down to a systematic review of the proposed expenditures submitted by Supt. Paul R. Stouffer and came up with several decisions to help in "preparation of a balanced budget" after a declaration by trustee Richard J. MacLaury that "I hate to see us ask for the maximum $2.25 tax rate."

They decided:

1. Against hiring a vice principal for Bel Aire School, but left up in the air a proposal by Stouffer that accredited housewives be employed in supervisorial duties to relieve teachers of schoolground supervision at a yearly cost of about $1,800.

2. Tabled the request for teacher salary increases of $200 per year each.

3. Tentatively approved employment of a librarian for the district and an outlay of $3,000 for books and library supplies.

4. Tentatively approved a vice principal at Reed School to also direct Belvedere and Tiburon Schools.

5. Tentatively approved selling $20,000 of bonds to pay for the Reed School sewer assessment.

6. Approved a teacher recruitment budget of $500 minimum, and an in-service teacher training program.

7. Approved retention of an extra half-day teacher for seventh and eighth grades at Reed School, who spends the other half day on speech therapy in the district.

The trustees also voted to request the state to increase its allocation for the Bel Aire School addition from $358,795 to $384,000 under a new state allocation formula. Plumbing and heating items totaling $1,700 were eliminated from the contract to meet state requirements.

Greyhound To Augment School Buses

Reed Union School District trustees last night found a solution to the bus transportation problem, which has been troubling them since school started last September.

On April 8, a Greyhound bus will augment the three school buses now in service, transporting a maximum of 51 children for $19.50 per day. The contract calls for "reasonable use" of the bus from 8:20 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

"We can't run a bus on $19.50 per day," Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said.

Trustees will consider using Greyhound entirely for bus service in the 1959-60 school year to eliminate the proposed expenditure of $14,000 for a fourth district bus. Stouffer estimated total cost of bus rental would be about $10,000 a year.

Soldier Arrested On Morals Charge

The soldier, Carl Whiteside, who police said is married and stationed at Ft. Baker, was trapped through cooperation of a woman who had witnessed the alleged act last week and who alerted Acting Police Chief Howard Goerndt when the man made his appearance in the same district yesterday.

Hub Police Probe Report Studied

The transcript of a secret hearing into the workings of the San Anselmo Police Department held by a three-member committee of the San Anselmo City Council was being read today by Police Chief Donald A. Wood and City Manager Arthur W. Brewer.

The thick typewritten document arrived Monday evening, said Brewer. The full five-member council ordered the transcript turned over to the police chief and city manager on March 3 after a great hue and cry over the way the investigation had been conducted.

Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., who was chairman of the committee, resigned. The other two members were William Franchini and Carleton G. E. Little.

Woman Hurt By Car In San Rafael

Mrs. Sophie Phillips, 55, of 1114 Court street, San Rafael, was in San Rafael General Hospital today recovering from injuries suffered yesterday when she was hit by a car.

She suffered contusions of the left leg. Hospital officials reported her condition is good, and she would be released soon.

San Rafael police cited the driver for violating the pedestrian right of way at Fourth and H streets about 1:20 p.m. yesterday. Mrs. Fern Gaspard, 75, of 10 Center street, was making a left turn from H street to Fourth. Mrs. Phillips was walking north across Fourth street at the time.

$150 In Tools Stolen

About $150 worth of assorted tools was stolen from the home at 856 Railroad avenue, Novato, from which he is in process of moving to a trailer court, Champlin Starrett Dean reported to sheriff's deputies last night.

Bolinas Trustees Approve Agreement With Stinson

Trustees of the Bolinas School District last night formally approved creation of an inter-district agreement with the Stinson Beach district covering such items as bus operation and classroom schedules.

The agreement was previously approved by the Stinson Beach board. Details of the operation are to be worked out.

Trustees also formally approved inclusion of Bolinas in a proposed study of a possible unified West Marin school district. The same proposal was previously approved by Stinson Beach trustees.

Board Clerk Gene W. McDaniel announced he would not be a candidate to succeed himself on the board. He is completing six years as a member. He is also on the Bolinas Harbor District board and a member of the county harbor committee.

Candidates who have already filed for the post include Mrs. Mildred E. Haraldsen, a former trustee, and Ben Roark, affiliated with the Tevis ranch.

Arthur E. Carpenter will run for the post to which he was appointed last year, filling out the unexpired term of James Dougan, who resigned.

Planners Delay Study

Consideration of the proposed new Larkspur zoning ordinance was put over by the Larkspur Planning Commission last night until its April meeting.

The Remarkable Story of Wide-Track Wheel Design

How It Started • How It Works
What This Highly Successful
Pontiac Achievement Means to You

It all started, as most innovations do, with a problem to be solved.

The problem was that when you turned a corner or rounded a curve your car swayed and everybody aboard leaned with the force of the turn.

Over the past few years car body widths have been increased to give you more passenger room and comfort. But widths between the wheels have not increased proportionately. This between-wheel width is called the "track".

THE SOLUTION

The answer was simply to widen the track to match the body. We moved the wheels five inches farther apart. This widened the stance, but not the car. This was the birth of Wide-Track Wheel design.

You use the same principle and feel a similar effect when you stand erect with your feet spread wide apart. You're braced and steady.

LEAN AND SWAY REDUCED

Our first road tests showed how significantly we had reduced lean and sway. The car held to the turns and hugged the curves as had no other car we had ever driven, except for sport cars, which of course are not designed primarily for passenger comfort.

This greater stability gave the driver a noticeably improved feeling of security, control and confidence. All passengers, back and front, rode with less fatigue, more comfort.

IMMEDIATE PUBLIC ACCEPTANCE

It usually takes car owners a little time and many miles to be convinced of the merits of many automobile engineering improvements. That's because some improvements are far removed from the car owner's everyday driving experience.

Not so with Wide-Track Wheels. There was an immediate understanding of what we had done and a fast and favorable response to its advantages.

From the first week our dealers began demonstrating the 1959 Pontiac, we knew Wide-Track Wheel design was every bit the accomplishment we had hoped for. People who drove the car told us it was the finest, easiest handling automobile they'd ever been in.

WHO'S BUYING ALL THE NEW PONTIACS?

Pontiac sales, we are happy to report, have confirmed public opinion. This car has apparently captured the imagination of tasteful people who were looking for clean, uncluttered styling. People attracted by the quality of workmanship and attention to detail we give every single Pontiac we build. And, of course, people quick to grasp the remarkable story of Wide-Track Wheel design.

YOUR NEW PONTIAC

Investing in a brand-spanking new automobile, fresh, sweet-smelling and totally different is a wonderful thing to happen to a family in the spring. Wouldn't it do your morale good to become the owner of a gorgeous new Wide-Track Pontiac within the next few weeks?

We are confident it is an automobile in which you will take great pride and from which you will reap much personal satisfaction and enjoyment.

Party Fight Shapes Up Over Death Penalty

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A battle between Republicans and Democrats over California's death penalty flared up today in the Legislature.

The Republican caucus voted overwhelmingly yesterday to make a partisan issue of it and attempt to keep the death penalty.

The Democratic caucus "talked about it but decided not to take a vote," a spokesman said, adding "there were too many opinions on both sides."

The bill, AB221 by Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan (D-Los Angeles), would outlaw the death penalty for any crime and result in commuting the sentences of 25 prisoners now on San Quentin Prison's Death Row.

Approved by the Assembly Crime Committee Monday night, the measure will be on the calendar for Assembly passage tomorrow, but McMillan said he would not take it up until next week.

Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl (R-Oakland), chairman of the GOP caucus, said he counted 30 of the 33 lower house Republicans at the caucus and all but "one or two" of them voted to keep the death penalty.

"We thought it was time for us to take a position on this matter," Dahl said. "We felt we should stand up and be counted for the protection of our families as well as the public."

Although Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown has said he will sign a bill abolishing the death penalty if it is sent to him, the fight against abolition has been led to this point by a strong Brown supporter, Assemblyman Thomas J. MacBride (D-Sacramento).

MacBride battled against a similar measure in the 1957 session but the lower house passed it to the Senate, where it was stopped. MacBride also tried to amend it to keep the death penalty for certain kidnapers, two-time murderers and prisoners who attack guards.

He said he would not try to amend the death penalty abolition bill this session because he thought he had the votes to kill it cold on the Assembly floor.

In the committee action on the bill, five Democrats and one Republican voted to ban the death penalty and two Republicans voted to keep it.

Solon Gypped Of $6.60 Hits Back

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D-Richmond) has struck back at a merchant who gyped him out of $6.60 worth of trading stamps.

The Assembly Governmental Efficiency Committee yesterday approved a bill authored by Masterson which would require stores which give trading stamps on any items to give them on all items.

Masterson told the committee that he purchased a television set from a local merchant who advertised that he gave trading stamps.

But, the lawmaker said, the store told him—after taking his money—that it did not give trading stamps on TV sets and radios.

"Those stamps would have been worth $6.60," Masterson compained.

Masterson said a store which refused to give trading stamps was "taking money away from a person just as if it short-changed him."

"I am sure that individual members of this committee would take up a collection to refund the $6.60 if you would drop this bill."

Disturbing Peace Charge Dismissed

A charge of disturbing the peace against Ernest John Gates, 22, of 155 Blackfield drive, Bel Aire, was dismissed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on motion of Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth.

Almonte Club To Hear Candidates

The three candidates for the Tamalpais Valley Fire District Board have been invited to address tonight's meeting of the Almonte Improvement Club at Almonte Hall at 7:30 o'clock according to Mrs. Janet Taylor, club president.

The candidates are Raymond J. Massagli, now serving as board chairman, Wayne D. (Bill) Ellis, and William Mibach.

Stiff Crackdown Set On Reckless Drivers

SACRAMENTO (AP)—"No leniency, no second chance" for reckless drivers, Motor Vehicles Director Robert I. McCarthy warned today in announcing a new campaign to suspend their licenses.

Four moving violations in a year will mean almost automatic suspension of a driver's license for 10 days, he said.

About 1,000 drivers already are being called to appear at department hearings for repeated moving violations, McCarthy said.

Previously, there has been no hard and fast rule for the department to suspend licenses for such offenders.

However, the director said that from now on, the limit is four or more convictions within 12 months for the average driver and five or more for professional drivers, such as truckers and bus drivers.

The penalty for the professionals will generally be only five days, McCarthy said, because it costs them their livelihood rather than being merely inconvenience.

The offenders are called in to appear before state driver improvement analysts who review their records.

"In most instances a minimum suspension of 5 to 10 days will be recommended," McCarthy said in a directive to the department staff.

Caribbean Study

NEW YORK (UPI) — Senate Democratic whip Mike Mansfield (Mont.) proposed last night that the Organization of American States be called into session to examine the Caribbean situation.

He said he felt the hemisphere may be faced with prospect of little wars in that region growing out of an intermingling of dictatorships and revolution.

U.S. Draws Up Tentative Peace Pact With Reich

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has prepared a tentative draft of a German peace treaty for possible use in a foreign ministers meeting with the Soviet Union.

By contrast with the Soviet peace treaty proposal of several weeks ago, the U.S. provisions would leave the way open for a sovereign all-German government to forge whatever links it wished with neighboring nations and other countries of the world.

The U.S. document — some officials say it is more a statement of principles than a tentative treaty draft—has been proposed to Britain, France and West Germany for discussion.

The Western European allies were reported today to be cool to the idea of carrying forward plans for a German peace treaty at this time. They apparently feel the more urgent problems are those involved in reunifying Germany.

But U.S. officials emphasize that the Soviet government obviously intends to raise the question of a peace treaty at a foreign ministers meeting, and they want the Western powers to be ready to meet it in some way. It is felt here that when the occasion arises the Allies should be ready to tell the Soviets and the world the kind of peace which they would make with an all-German government.

Present Western planning is based on the idea that the essential first step in solving the problems of Germany is some move toward reuniting the divided country and creating an all-German government.

To this end Western policy planners now meeting in Paris are talking about proposing to the Soviets the creation of a federation to bring East and West Germany under a single political roof.

The highly tentative U.S. draft is understood to be based on the principle that when a peace treaty finally is signed, Germany should be given full control over its own affairs and should be free to choose its own course in international relations.

U.S. and other Western leaders believe that an all-German government which accurately reflected the wishes of the majority of the German people would choose to maintain very close ties with the Western nations and to exercise the right of German membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Soviets have long protested NATO membership for West Germany.

Sausalito Fire Chief's Ultimatum: 3rd Man Or Ambulance Won't Roll

Sausalito Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry delivered an ultimatum to his city council last night: "Either I get an additional man in the department, or I don't let the ambulance go out when there are only two men on duty."

The City of Sausalito has its own ambulance, operated by the fire department.

Perry agreed to maintain the present arrangement, which has only two men on duty at some times, until July 1. "But after that, the responsibility is in your laps," he warned the councilmen.

The fire chief's suprise statement came at the conclusion of a report to the council from City Manager Donald A. Duerr, making suggestions for correction of deficiencies in the city's water distribution system for fire protection.

Perry said many of the mains were too small and corroded to supply the fire pumps adequately.

Duerr reported the Marin Municipal Water District is working out a capital inprovements program with cities in the district to cover the problem. He said a matching fund formula is involved. He was authorized to discuss with the water district steps required to correct storage and distribution deficiencies.

The council also authorized immediate expenditure of $1,500 in budgeted funds to provide three hydrants on a 12-inch main on Bridgeway.

Terra Linda Directors Cut Selves Off Payroll

Meeting in Bernard Hoffman School, the board members rescinded an October resolution which authorized directors' salaries of $10 per meeting.

The rescinding resolution said financial needs of the district "are of such importance as to take precedence over any compensation to directors."

It also noted that appointment of commissioners to handle many administrative functions has reduced the directors' work load. The board adopted the commissioner system some months ago after deciding directors should restrict themselves to legislative duties as much as possible.

In other matters last night the district board:

2. Set the district's first 1959-60 preliminary budget hearing for April 21.

3. Authorized Fire Commissioner Elmer Johnson to confer with Dixie School District officials about installing another fire hydrant in the vicinity of the Hoffman School addition, now under construction.

4. Authorized inspection of district files by a Marinwood group which is exploring the possibility of forming a services district in their community.

McElroy Warns On 'Probes' By Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy warned today that the free world must be prepared to resist "one probing action after another" by Russia or Communist China.

In testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, McElroy strongly supported the Eisenhower administration's request for authority to spend $3,930,000,000 on foreign aid in the 12 months beginning July 1.

He said: "If the free world can not stand up firmly to these probes when they are initiated, we may well be faced with a major conflict as the Communists, pressing ahead with their win-by-threat policy, make it imperative that at some point we meet the issue squarely."

McElroy said it would be "short-sighted indeed" if this country spent more than 40 billion dollars for its own armed forces but declined to spend "the much smaller sums needed to maintain and modernize the forces of our allies which are essential to our whole defense concept."

The defense chief conceded that there have been some inefficiencies in the mutual security program.

"However, I think it would be a critical mistake to curtail the program because of isolated instances of waste and inefficiency, representing a small percentage of the total," he said.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of staff, declared that he did not regard military aid as "a vast boondoggle."

"This label is a direct slap at our allies and to our own country and a source of comfort to our adversaries," he said.

Defector Tells Of High Living By Russ Chiefs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities says a top Soviet secret service agent who defected five years ago gave the West an intimate view of Kremlin leaders and their private lives.

The defector was identified as Petr Sergeyeviv Deriabin, one-time No. 3 man in the Okhrana, the ultra hush-hush secret police responsible for guarding Soviet leaders.

Deriabin is reported living somewhere in the United States. But the committee won't say where because of the danger of possible retaliation by Soviet agents.

MADE PUBLIC

The committee also wouldn't divulge when Deriabin testified. Committee Chairman Francis F. Walter (D-Pa.) said only he and staff director Richard Arens were present during the testimony, which was made public Monday.

Walter described Deriabin as the highest-ranking Soviet oficial ever to defect to the West.

State Department sources said the defector asked for and was granted political asylum in the United States after crossing the Iron Curtain into Austria in February, 1954.

LIVED WELL

Deriabin testified that the late Josef Stalin and current Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as well as other top Soviet leaders lived better than American millionaires.

Deriabin said one Soviet official, Popov, who was secretary of the Comunist Party's Moscow committee, threw ribald parties two or three times a week.

The former Soviet agent also:

1. Named Red agents who accompanied Russian exchange groups to the U.S. such as the Moiseyev Dancers.

MONEY IN U.S.

2. Said that East German Premier Walter Ulbricht has socked away money in an American bank "for his future if something happens in East Germany."

3. Declared that some refugees from communism who come to the United States actually are Red agents.

4. Estimated that one out of every 15 persons in the Soviet Union is either an informer or agent for the secret police.

U.S. Planning Three-In-One Satellite Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is planning something new in satellites—a three-in-one job. It will be part of the Vanguard series and will include a balloon to study friction in space.

Dr. John P. Hagen announced plans for it yesterday and said it will be launched soon from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

In effect, Hagen said, the new Vanguard will provide three separate satellites:

1. The empty case of the launching vehicle's third-stage rocket, a metal tube weighing about 52 pounds.

2. A 13-inch plastic sphere with an arm extending about two feet. There will be a magnetometer at the end of the arm to measure the earth's magnetic fields. This satellite will weigh about 22 pounds.

3. A 30-inch expandable balloon weighing one-and-one-half to two pounds.

Before launching, the balloon will be folded into a small tray at the base of the plastic sphere. When the nose of the launching vehicle separates from the final stage rocket, a gass cartridge will inflate the balloon—if all goes as planned.

Youth Breaks Wrist In Fall At Pool

Neil Cunningham, 15-year-old student at Sir Francis Drake High School, lost his balance yesterday afternoon as he practiced springing on the diving board of the high school pool and fell to the concrete pool-side, breaking his left wrist.

He was kept overnight at Marin General Hospital. Neil is a son of John J. Cunningham, a general contractor of 26 Grove lane, San Anselmo.

ADMIRAL'S WORD

Russ Ships 'Snooping' Mid-Pacific

HONOLULU (UPI)—Rear Adm. Benjamin E. Moore revealed today that Russian submarines and surface ships have been "snooping" along the Navy's Pacific barrier between Midway and the Aleutians.

Moore commands the 1,500-mile electronics fence whose ships and radar planes extend the DEW (Distanct Early Warning) system to the mid-Pacific.

The admiral said Navy radar Constellations and destroyer pickets have made numerous contacts with Soviet naval units all along the Pacific barrier area.

SUBS SPOTTED

"Their surface ships," the admiral said, "have patrolled the length of our Pacific barrier, and we've spotted Red submarines snooping the area."

The admiral said because of security reasons it was impossible to specify the times, locations or further identify the Soviet ships.

A spokesman for the 4,000-man naval command said continuous round-the-clock sea and air patrols are now being run the entire length of the North Pacific where Japan sent its undetected task force to attack Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. High altiude winds of more than 150 miles an hour bring northwestern American and Canadian cities within four hours jet flying time of Russian airfields that dot the Kamchatka Peninsula. Heavy overcasts along the route have made this a built-in avenue to the Americas for any sneak attack launched by Russia.

FULLY AWARE

Admiral Moore told UPI he was certain the Russians were aware that the barrier planes and ships had now reached a fully operational stage.

"They know what we're doing," he said, "and what's more important, they know that we know they are snooping and patrolling the entire length of the Pacific barrier."

Communists Lose Control Of French City, Begin Riots

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Communist rioters fought with police last night after losing control of the city administration in this big Atlantic port where they have governed for six years.

Non-Communist councilmen banded to elect Socialist Robert Monguillon mayor by a one-vote margin—giving him 19 votes to 18 for Communist incumbent Rene Cance.

The Communists, sensing defeat, first sought to block the election by sending 250 fanatics storming into the City Hall chamber where the voting was taking place.

Police threw the hecklers out and the fighting spread to the street with 1,000 demonstrators milling about. Four policemen were hurt. Windows were broken in several stores.

World Bank Funds Would Bust Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, approving more U. S. funds for the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, has specified they are to come out of next year's budget.

The action, by unanimous vote yesterday, would wreck President Eisenhower's hopes of a balanced budget for the year beginning July 1. The President had asked for the funds for the current fiscal year, and had included the spending in the deficit of nearly 13 billion dollars he forecast for the fiscal year ending June 30.

WINNIE THE POOH COMES TO MARIN

Larry Lehner is shown in costume as Piglet in San Francisco State College Children's Theater production of "Winnie the Pooh." The fantasy will be presented in the San Rafael High School auditorium at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday by the Junior Theater of Marin. Those not holding season tickets may pay admission at the door.

L.A. Respiratory Fatalities Rise

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Health officials don't know whether smog is to blame, but they say deaths from four kinds of respiratory ailments increased from 22.2 per 100,000 population in 1949 to 38.6 in 1957.

The ailments are asthma, emphysema, bronchitis and pulmonary congestions.

The information is in a report by Dr. Ralph R. Sachs of the city health department, who said:

CD Test Finds Flaws In U.S. Plan For Marin

Marin County could not accommodate 82,000 civilian evacuees in the event of a war alert, Donald A. Jensen, county administrator and civil defense coordinator, told the board of supervisors yesterday.

Jensen said a civil defense exercise now under way in Marin has indicated that only 30,000 non-essential civilians could be billeted in North and West Marin outside the so-called atomic danger zone.

The 82,000 estimate was furnished last year by a federal research team which has recommended a new wartime survival plan to the state Disaster Office.

Jensen said conferences this week with officials of the local Red Cross chapter, county health and welfare departments and Marin Medical Society indicate the federal estimate is totally unrealistic.

"There are a lot of things wrong with it (the federal plan), but I guess that's what we're trying to find out with this test," Jensen said.

Annexation Fails In San Jose Vote

SAN JOSE (UPI)—San Jose's bid to annex three outlying districts was rejected by a 2-to-1 vote yesterday in a special election.

Unofficial returns from the six precincts involved in the 75-square-block area showed 501 voters in favor of having the area become part of San Jose—and 1,068 against. A simple majority was needed.

If the measure had carried, it would have increased San Jose's population by 7,600. Included in the annexation plan were the Burbank, Bradley Manor and Beverly-Burbank districts west of the city.

Baty's Judge Appointment Will Be For Full Term

David R. Baty's appointment as judge of Marin's Northwest Judicial District is for the full six-year term, not until the next general election.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan told the county board of supervisors by letter yesterday that a recent attorney general's opinion held any such appointments must be for the term prescribed by law.

Jordan's letter termed "untenable" an assertion by John H. Mundo of Inverness that the supervisors' appointment of Baty should be effective only until the next general election. Mundo, who had sought the appointment himself, said in a recent letter to the board he was merely trying to clear up a legal point, not deprive Baty of his post.

Baty's appointment is to become effective when he qualifies as a voter in the Northwest Judicial District. He told the supervisors yesterday he expects to fulfill the residency requirement about April 1. He will succeed 87-year-old Judge Silas L. Stice, who resigned in January.

Sausalito To Purchase Waterfront Property

Sausalito city councilmen last night approved 4-0 what Councilman John E. Koenig Jr. described as "a $20,000 gamble," as they agreed to purchase a strip of property fronting Ondine restaurant.

The strip fronts 125 feet on Bridgeway and extends 40 feet into the bay.

Koenig explained his comment by noting that by spending $20,000 for the property now, the city would avoid spending "perhaps 10 times as much" later to condemn the property if the city decides to widen Bridgeway.

Owners of the Ondine, he explained, plan to move the building 66 feet out from the shore on new pilings by leasing added bayward space from the city. Ondine attorney Robert L. Dreyfus confirmed the plans.

The city is to receive $31 per month on a new 50-year lease for the overwater area. It is also to receive $50 monthly, after the initial five years, for Ondine's use of the front portion being sold to the city, which will be used for parking.

Dreyfus said the transaction will become effective only if his client obtains satisfactory financing for an expansion project.

Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. was absent.

In other action, the Sausalito council:

1. Approved 3-1, Councilman George E. Keeney dissenting, a contract with the county for property assessment and tax collection in Sausalito for a two-year period. The county supervisors had previously approved the agreement for a five-year period, necessitating a resubmittal of the plan.
2. Called for bids for widening of Bridgeway between Bay and Dolphin, to be opened April 7. The job, estimated to cost $6,500, would be a gasoline tax fund project.
3. Upheld planning commission denial of a rezoning to permit construction of a motel addition by Thomas M. Bladley on Olive street near Bridgeway. Builder J. Frank Silva said it would be a 15-unit enlargement of a 30-unit plant he will build. Several nearby residents protested.
4. Postponed action on plans for private operation of city-owned parking on Bridgeway opposite the Village Fair.
5. Authorized repair of a small public park at the foot of North street on the beach, which was damaged in a January storm.
6. Agreed to have a representative of the city at tomorrow's meeting of the state Regional Water Pollution Control Board in Oakland when it will consider taking action on pollution of Richardson Bay.
7. Approved a request by the Lions Club for its annual public fireworks display on Shell Beach July 4, including the closing of several streets in the area.

TRUMAN SHUNS OFFER TO BE EDITOR FOR DAY

BOSTON (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman has turned down an offer to be a newspaper editor for a day.

The job was offered him by the Boston Globe after Truman told the University of Missouri School of Journalism that he wished he could be a newspaper editor for a while.

The Globe said it received a letter from Truman yesterday in which he refused the offer, and said: "You see, the difference between your profession and mine is that the editors know all about how another man's business ought to be run, while I do not pretend to know the mechanics of yours."

Plans Asked For Harbor Development

Mill Valley wants a coordinated county program for developing small craft harbors by mid-May.

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission Monday night agreed to ask the city council to set a mid-May deadline for the county planning office to submit plans for the harbor development proposed in the Mill Valley marshlands.

If the county planning staff cannotp roduce by then, steps should be taken to "start the ball rolling" through outside channels, the park board added.

The commission also recommended that the council petition the county to acquire approximately 20 acres of privately owned tideland property adjoining city-owned land for harbor and recreational use.

It also recommended that the summer recreation program again be undertaken with William Castelli in charge.

Lemnitzer Named Army Staff Chief

At the same time, Eisenhower nominated Gen. Nathan F. Twining, an air officer, for reappointment as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, a post he has occupied since Aug. 15, 1957.

GEN. LYMAN LEMNITZER

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke was nominated for reappointment to a two year term as chief of naval operations and Gen. Thomas D. White for reappointment for two years as Air Force chief of staff.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Taylor had informed Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy that he did not want to be reappointed when his present term as Army chief expires June 30.

Hagerty said Taylor definitely was not being dropped from the chiefs of staff because he opposed cuts in the size of the Army.

Lemnitzer, 59, is now serving as vice chief of staff of the Army. He has been in that post since July, 1957. During World War II, he accompanied Gen. Mark Clark on his secret submarine mission to negotiate with the French in North Africa.

Taylor on June 30 will complete four years as Army chief of staff. When Eisenhower named him to the post in 1955, he did not limit him to a two-year term, but Lemnitzer's appointment today was for a specific two years.

Reed Trustees Cool To Merger Proposal

The door was opened for discussion of Southern Marin school district unification last night by trustees of the Reed Union District, but the trustees showed little enthusiasm for the idea.

The board wound up a one and one-half hour discussion of Ralph A. Groves' proposal to unify Reed, Sausalito and Mill Valley elementary districts with the southern portion of Tamalpais Union High School District by adopting a resolution of willingness to have board representatives meet with Sausalito and Mill Valley trustees to discuss the matter.

"We don't want to close the door on this proposal," trustee Ahleen Tresnon said, "but our administration is working with the Tamalpais High School District to solve our problems, which are not in common with the other two districts."

"I am reluctant to give up what Reed has and what we might achieve," trustee Alfred J. Azevedo said. "Are the other districts interested in spending money, as we have, to improve their educational and curriculum programs?"

Henry Schubart, only spectator at the meeting, spoke against the proposal. "The community will lose its jealously guarded prerogative of close personal contact between parents, children and trustees," he said.

In a debate with Groves on the advantage of the unified district, trustee Richard J. MacLaury proposed instead of unification, a more formal liason between elementary and high school administrations. He suggested a future meeting with the other two boards on the needs of elementary districts.

Bargaining Talks Seek To Avert N.Y. Paper Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Representatives of the New York Typographical Union and the Publishers Assn. of New York met again today to try to avert the threat of a printers' strike against 10 daily New York and Long Island newspapers.

Federal Mediation Commissioner Bernard J. Forman said yesterday after a three and one-half hour negotiating session that "no concrete progress was registered" toward writing a new contract to replace one which expired last Dec. 7.

The union has 4,000 members employed by the newspapers. The membership voted Sunday to request authorization from the International Typographical Union for a strike ballot. The chief issues in the dispute are resetting of advertising plates, wages, hours, union discipline over foremen and use of teletypesetting equipment.

Two Kentfield Trustees To Run

They are Henry G. Hayes of 300 Goodhill road, Kent Woodlands, and Mrs. Rachel P. Conner of 131 Almenar drive, Greenbrae.

Light Opera Leads Chosen

Leads for the Mill Valley Light Opera Company production of Frederich Von Flotow's opera "Martha" were announced today by company president Cary Smith.

Two singers have been chosen for each major role, he said, as a number of excellent singers tried out for parts.

Title role of "Martha," also called "Lady Harriet" will be sung by Jean Kahler and Carroll Solo; that of "Nancy," her companion, by Johanna Billings and June Purviance.

Lee Gerner and William Peavey will alternate as "Sir Tristam"; baritones Dr. Judson Mackby and Cary Smith will do "Plunkett". The role of the sheriff will be sung at all performances by Ray Castel-Blanch a longtime light opera company member.

"Martha" is scheduled for presentation late in May at San Rafael High School Auditorium.

Chorus director David Reed said there are still openings in all voice ranges. Chorus rehearsals are set for 8 p.m. every Monday in Park School Auditorium in Mill Valley.

Sewer District Annexation Set

Directors of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District Monday night agreed on the conditions and terms of annexing some 100 acres of land above Hawthorne Terrace and Del Mar Estates to the district.

With a representative of the area present, the directors debated the problem for more than two hours. They agreed that improvements would include a main trunk line on Tiburon boulevard and two lift pumping stations.

The land owners indicated they would commence annexation proceedings and would launch a special assessment district to finance the improvement.

Directors set for April 6 at 8 p.m. an adjourned meeting to study district ordinances and investigate the advisability of purchasing sewer cleaning equipment.

Actress, Mate Split

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Corinne Calvet, French beauty now a U.S. citizen, and actor Jeff Stone announced through their attorney yesterday they have agreed on a trial separation.

The couple, blaming pressures of their careers for keeping them "separated for most of the past year," gave no indication if or when a divorce action would be filed.

The 33-year-old Parisian-born star married Stone in 1955, a year after she divorced her first husband, actor John Bromfield, whom she had wed in 1949.

Macmillan In Canada On Way To See Ike

OTTAWA (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, on his way to talks with President Ensenhower, today urged the Western powers to frame a united policy on Germany based on "firm principles combinwith a readiness to negotiate."

Macmillan arrived by plane from London. Before leaving for Washington tomorrow, he will fill in Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and other Canadian officials on his Berlin crisis talks in Moscow with Soviet Premier Nikita Khruschev.

Macmillan plans to see ailing U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital before he meets with Eisenhower.

Diefenbaker and other officials were on hand to greet Macmillan, who led off his remarks with a tribute to Canadian Foreign Secretary Sidney Smith, who died Tuesday.

Macmillan said it was generally accepted that East-West negotiations on Germany must take place this summer.

Speaking first in English and switching later to French, Macmillan said he went to Moscow to feel out the ground, and he believed he had attained success.

The British leader, accompanied by Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd, hopes to convince Eisenhower that a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev can solve the explosive Berlin situation without shooting.

2 Women In Novato Brawl Sentenced

Mary L. Beltramini, 25, and Mrs. Ollie Birdwell, 31, both of 1120 Vallejo street, Novato, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace on March 4.

They were each given suspended five-day sentences and put on 90 days probation by Judge A. F. Scheidecker.

The two women were arrested during a fist-swinging, hair-pulling, all-woman gang fight that raged through two bars and spilled out into Novato's main street.

Bad Check Suspect Enters Innocent Plea

Mary Evelyn Marisko, 30, of Whittier, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of passing two bad checks of $27 each at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera in February, 1958.

Judge A. F. Scheidecker set a preliminary hearing for Monday at 3:30 p.m.

Real Estate Values Views &

"How can you tell what a used house is worth?" is a question which we have been asked many times.

Actually there is no easy answer.

While land rises in values from inflation, houses (especially older ones) don't advance as rapidly because they are subject to considerable depreciation.

As a leading Coast Realtor explains: "Most home owners don't subtract anything for the years they have lived in the house. No man selling a ten year old car expects to get anything like his original price out of it. Yet, though a house piles up mileage too, and gets behind the times in styles, the owner expects to sell for at least what he paid for his house and many expect a profit."

Mildred Vail

When we are asked to appraise a home for the "sales value" we try to carefully weigh all factors—the replacement cost less depreciation is one of the best guides, plus the condition of the property, comparison with similar houses, etc.

Frankly, we have found local residents are "reasonable" when the full facts are explained.

Let us help you sell your home — we'll start with an agreement as to fair market price of your home. This figure may be MORE or LESS than what you paid for the property. But in any event, it will be "realistic" which makes your chances of selling better. Call now! Wm. E. Doud & Co., multiple listing service, DU 8-8494.

Charles E. Neils Of Larkspur Dies

Charles E. Neils, 57, of 204 West Baltimore avenue, Larkspur, a Marin resident for 21 years, died this morning at a local hospital after long illness.

DULLES PLANS TO REST IN WARM, SUNNY PLACE

WASHINTON (UPI) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made plans today to go soon to some "warm, sunny place" to rest from his cancer treatments.

The 71-year-old official was to have his 19th massive radiation exposure. It was one of the last treatments he will receive at Walter Reed Army Hospital, which he entered early last month for a hernia operation that disclosed a recurrence of abdominal cancer.

Dulles was expected to leave his hospital suite within a week and decide by April 6 whether to continue in office. State Department sources said the secretary would relax and regain his strength for about two weeks in some temperate spot before making the decision.

Murder Suspect To Take Stand

Trial continued today before a jury of 10 women and two men in Marin Superior Court, with Judge Jordan L. Martinelli presiding. Public Defender Leonard Thomas, defense attorney, said Davis shot his wife in self defense to protect himself and his nine-month-old son, whom he held in one hand at the time he fired the fatal shot. Davis' common-law wife, Viola Baker, 32, died instantly in the kitchen of their home at Building B-1, Apartment 535, last Christmas Eve.

According to the public defender, Viola taken a knife to Davis and other men in the past, and Davis was afraid she would attack him and their son.

Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich, prosecutor, has not indicated whether he would ask for a first degree murder, second degree murder or a manslaughter conviction. Weissich said today he would merely present the facts and let the jury decide the seriousness of the crime.

If the jury brings a first degree murder conviction, it would be the first time in Marin County that a second trial would be necessary under a new state law to determine whether the death penalty or life imprisonment be invoked. Penalty for murder in the second degree is fixed by state law at five years to life.

The case is expected to wind up Friday. Sheriff's Inspector William Bradley, who investigated the shooting, testified this morning on the events leading to the shooting.

Another witness was a neighbor, Matthew Walker, who was an eyewitness.

Publisher Named Park Commissioner

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov Edmund G. Brown has named publisher Joseph C. Houghteling of Atherton to a four-year term on the state Park Commission, replacing Dr. Robert E. Burns, president of the College of the Pacific.

Houghteling, 34, is publisher of the Sunnyvale Standard and Mountain View Register Leader, president of the Los Gatos Times-Saratoga Observer and Gilroy Evening Dispatch publishing companies and vice president of the firm which publishes the Pleasanton Times.

A Democrat, he has been a member of the State Central Committee and was a delegate to the 1956 Democratic National Convention.

He is married and has three children.

The appointment will require confirmation by the Senate.

Dr. Burns' term expired.

State Finance Picture Perks Up Slightly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Controller Alan Cranston reported today that February was the brightest spot in a still-gloomy financial year.

Revenues for the month totaled $154,775,005 while expenditures amounted to $102,643,117—a difference on the credit side of $52,131,938.

It's only the third time since July 1, 1958, that income has exceeded outgo. The others were August and November. February revenues allowed the general fund to repay 55 million dollars of the 96 million it borrowed from the architecture revolving fund and the investment fund.

The general fund is still in debt to the two special funds for 41 million dollars. The state has collected $128,051,005 less than it has spent since the start of the fiscal year.

Cranston credited the February improvement to the year-end business upswing, especially Christmas shopping.

Total general fund expenditures for the first eight months of this fiscal year were $856,310,135, an increase of $61,050,665, or 7.68 per cent over the corresponding period of 1957-58.

Total revenues for the same eight months were $728,259,130, an increase of $9,725,897 or 1.35 per cent over the previous year.

Sales tax revenues have increased over last year by $2,610,534. The total collected through February was $460,496,050.

2 Bills Aimed At Park Commission

SACRAMENTO (AP)—It's not certain how much, but the state Park Commission stands to lose some of its power under legislation pending in both houses.

The Assembly today received a bill stripping the commission of its control over state beaches and parks policies. The measure by Assemblyman Pauline L. Davis (D-Portola) was approved yesterday by the Committee on Natural Resources, Planning and Public Works.

The Senate Natural Resources Committee is scheduled to hear a bill Friday by Sen. Nelson S. Dilworth (R-Hemet) that would take administrative functions from the commission but leave it with policy control.

Opposition to Mrs. Davis' measure leaving the commission with only the right to advise and consult with the natural resources department and its beaches and parks division came from those who favor the Dilworth bill.

One supporter of the Senate bill was DeWitt Nelson, director of natural resources, who would be given full responsibility for policy and administration of beaches and parks under the Davis bill.

Board To Restudy County Hiring Rule

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will take a long, hard look at rules adopted by the county personnel commission for establishing eligible lists of county job seekers.

This was decided yesterday after the board learned it may not, under present rules, allow a department head to make a permanent appointment of a person he wishes to hire if the commission has declared others eligible for the same position at higher priority.

GIVES OPINION

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan expressed the opinion in a memorandum to County Administrator Donald A. Jensen. The latter had asked whether the supervisors could overrule the commission in such cases.

Jensen requested the opinion after Mansfield Lewis, county communications director, said he wanted to hire a girl who was ninth on the commission's list of eligibles for a switchboard post. Lewis said the girl, whom he had employed on a temporary basis, had proved exceptionally able.

But the personnel commission has not certified the ninth name on the list because its rules give Lewis a choice from only the first five. Of these applicants, Lewis believes only one might possibly qualify.

NO PROVISION

Jordan's memorandum said the ordinance creating a personnel commission contains no specific provision for commission certification of eligible lists for vacant positions. He noted this procedure was established under the commission's own rules.

The county counsel said the commission may adopt such rules under an ordinance section allowing the supervisors to delegate to it "the power to provide for the conduct of competitive examinations to determine the fitness of applicants."

"The board of supervisors has by acquiescence, if not by formal act, approved these rules," Jordan declared, "and so long as the rules remain unchanged they are binding upon the commission and the board."

JORDAN'S BELIEF

He held that until the commission or board should alter the rules, "the board may not permit the department head to make a regular appointment of the person he desires."

If it wishes the power to permit such appointments regardless of the commission's eligibility lists, Jordan said, the board should direct the commission to change its rules accordingly.

At the suggestion of Supervisor William D. Fusselman, the board decided to tell Lewis he needn't accept any of the first five names on the switchboard operator list pending a review of the commission's rules. The girl Lewis hired on a temporary basis thus may remain on the job, at least for the time being.

Fusselman cautioned against putting the personnel commission "in the position of dictating to elected or appointed department heads."

LARGE CROWDS AT CHURCHILL ART EXHIBIT

Academy secretary Humphrey Brooke said the attendance is at least twice as good as that attracted by the 1952 Leonardo de Vinci showings, which had the previous best attendance. Lines up to 200 yards long are commonplace for the Churchill "amateur daubs" which continue on exhibition for another two weeks.

Electrified Air Proves Good For Allergies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A medical researcher reported today the breathing of electrified air apparently is good for some people with allergic respiratory trouble.

UNKNOWN FACTOR

Dr. Klotz said investigators had found that some unknown factor causes allergic people to react even when they are kept in rooms where temperature, humidity and pollen are controlled and atmospheric pressure is watched closely.

These patients reacted to an oncoming storm before the weather change could be detected by instruments. This suggested electrical changes in the atmosphere as a possible factor.

VARIATIONS RECORDED

Variations in the electrical charge of the air at Orlando are recorded daily and efforts are being made to determine if they are related to the behavior of people with allergic respiratory trouble, Dr. Klotz reported.

There are constant but slight variations in the electrical charge of the atmosphere. Natural forces knock electrons off some molecules or add extra electrons to other air molecules. The process is called ionization.

Normally, said Dr. Klotz, the air contains about one ionized molecule for every 27 trillion molecules. Usually there are slightly more positive than negative ions.

Relatively simple and inexpensive instruments are available for producing either negatively or positively ionized air.

So many tourists get their cars stuck in the sand of Cocoa Beach, Fla., while they're watching missiles being launched from nearby Cape Canaveral that civilians equipped with jeeps do a thriving business towing out the autos at $15 apiece.

SKATES HIS ROUTE

Neighborhood Loves The Musical Mailman

SIERRA MADRE (AP)—A blare of jazz out front, a string of kids behind. And in between, a big friendly grin.

He is known on his route for his ways with music and children—a sort of Pied Piper on roller skates.

See that transistor radio on his belt? Hear it? He bought it with Christmas money the folks on his route gave him. He says people like music.

See how they come out before he gets there? It's the music that draws 'em. And the fact he's so friendly, of course.

The skates? He's been using them since Christmas. He had two deliveries a day then. Christmas rush, you know. Said he wanted to get ahead of the game. That's the way he makes his work seem, too—like a game.

Some days he doesn't skate, and he doesn't walk. On those days he runs. He's peppy, he is. Vitamins are why. That's what he says, anyway.

He needs that umph, even if he is just 30. He has several irons in the fire. Carrying mail all day in Sierra Madre, a community adjacent to Pasadena, is just one of them.

Another one is his duty in the Marine Reserve Fighter Squadron at a naval air station. He was a machine gunner with the Marines in the Korean War.

The main reason he's in a hurry to get his daytime work done, though, is his night job. By night he's a dance band leader. He has his own 12-piece orchestra. He plays bass, saxaphone, clarinet and drums. Besides that, he sings.

Bond is uncommon in lots of ways, but there's one way he is just an ordinary, everyday kind of postman—the kind you hear jokes about. On his day day off he likes nothing better than a nice, long hike.

"I've gotta keep in trim, man," he says.

'Blue Baby' In Good Condition

CHICAGO (AP)—David Stewart, a former "blue baby" whose condition has been corrected by surgery, appeared today to be well on the way toward a chance for a normal life.

The 29-month-old boy from Sharp Park (San Mateo County) was removed from his oxygen tent for several hours, ate a meal of soft foods and was taken off the critical list at Children's Memorial Hospital.

Judge's Fatal Illness Blamed On Death Penalty Remorse

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—Friends said today the death of Dist. Judge Ryland Taylor, 69, was partly due to the remorse he felt in having single-handedly to sentence a knife-slayer to death 11 days ago.

"Judge Taylor took every case to heart," said Dist. Judge David Zenoff. "That was the reason he became ill. Passing the death sentence preyed on his mind.

"He died because of devotion to duty."

Taylor, a judge since 1953, died yesterday after suffering a heart attack. Eleven days ago he sentenced confessed killer Jack Rainsberger, 24, a Los Angeles handyman, to death for the slaying of Las Vegas divorcee Erline Folker, 24.

"I am definitely satisfied in the Rainsberger case," Taylor said after passing the death penalty. "But is is just too much of a burden to have one man sentence another man to die.

Park Plan Report

A report on the study of the proposed Tiburon peninsula regional park district will be given at tonight's meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Land Conservation Committee in the Reed Schol auditorium at 8 o'clock, according to Philip Leslie, chairman.

TAX FACTS

Meals Given By Employer Are Tax-Free

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Do you receive meals and lodging from your employer?

Chances are good they are income tax free to you, as the code says:

Peter J. Wikel

"There shall be excluded from gross income of an employee the value of any meals, or lodging furnished to him by his employer for the convenience of the employer, but only if:

1. In the case of meals, the meals are furnished on the business premises of the employer, or

2. In the case of lodging, the employee is required to accept such lodging on the business premises of his employer as a condition of his employment.

"In determining whether meals or lodging are furnished for the convenience of the employer, the provisions of an employment contract or of a state statute fixing terms of employment shall not be determinative of whether the meals or lodging are intended as compensation."

This seems to clearly indicate that if you receive meals on the business premises of your employer that they are not taxable income to you, regardless of any employment contract or union agreement to the contrary.

This also seems to clearly indicate that the fair rental value of lodgings furnished to you are not taxable income to you, regardless of any contract to the contrary, if you are required by your employer to actually live at the site of your job. For instance, an apartment house manager's apartment, a chauffeur's or caretaker's cottage, etc.

The social security tax does not follow this rule. You may find that you are receiving meals and lodging that are not income taxable to you, and that you are paying social security taxes on the fair market value of such meals and lodgings. It may be that you and your employer are going to have difficulty in keeping records straight on these.

This applies only to meals and lodging furnished in kind. Any cash allowances will have to be included in income to the extent that they are taxable income to you.

Kite-Flying Girls Give Boys A Run

Two girls gave the boys a run for their money in last week's kite flying contest at Deer Park School in Fairfax.

Desma Lazzerino placed with the largest kite in the upper grades and Pamela Stout came up with the prettiest kite in the same division.

The boys, however, still flew the most kites, flew them higher and won the most prizes.

John Abbott got the awards for the best flying kite in the contest. All other awards were made in duplicate: One for the primary and one for the upper grades.

The other winners included Randy, Helene and Ronnie Tripp, highest flying kites; Jarred Rossman and Butch Cook, littlest kites; Jack Carter and John Back, most unusual kites, and in the primary division, John Barton O'Brien had the largest kite and Jim Sherbert, the prettiest kite.

Benito's Boots

MILAN, Italy (UPI)—Authorities have returned Benito Mussolini's boots and riding trousers to the dictator's widow, Donna Rachele.

The boots and trousers were the only garments on Mussolini's body when it was strung up by the heels at a Milan gasoline station in 1945 after Italian partisans had executed the fleeing dictator and his mistress, Clara Petacci. The garments, kept since then as evidence, were returned yesterday under a court order issued earlier this year.

VIENNA IN NORTH MARIN? SHE SAYS SO

Residents of Novato may have never imagined their area bears resemblance to that around Vienna, Austria. But Hedi Pavelka (center), American Field Service exchange student from Vienna, said during a week at Novato High School that she found much in North Marin to remind her of her home country. Here, Hedi is being interviewed by Howell Brozton and Sally McDermott of the Novato High newspaper, the Hornet's Buzz. Hedi is a student at El Cerrito High School during her year in the United States, but exchanged places for a week with Gudrun Zschenderlein of Germany, Novato High exchange student. While in Novato she stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Dann A. Smith and daughter, Marge, at 2 Pastel court.

College's Application For Funds Under Study

An application of College of Marin for more than $9,000 in federal aid for science and language programs was being processed today in Sacramento.

College president Ward H. Austin said the college has applied also for more than $19,000 in classroom equipment under Sec. three of the National Defense Act of 1958.

If granted the aid would:

1. Establish a foreign language teaching laboratory in the basement of the library, equipped with 24 listening stations, two tape recorders and four playback circuits.

2. Provide an analog computer and other materials for a mathematics laboratory.

3. Purchase $5,044 in chemistry teaching equipment.

4. Add $2,266 in equipment for teaching of physics.

5. Add equipment totaling $4,109 to the geology department, including four new stereoscopic microscopes.

Austin said the school would receive notice of acceptance or rejection of the requests on April 10.

Bid Opening For Kentfield School Set

Bids will be opened at 5 p.m. on April 20 for the $107,000 Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield.

The six-classroom school will be located at the foot of Wolfe Grade on Sir Francis Drake boulevard near Marin Catholic High School.

Supt. Harold DePue said work is expected to start in mid-May, and the school should be completed about November.

The Kentfield school board also discussed estimated expenditures for the 1959-60 year, which is $532,000, about $35,000 more than for the past year.

In other action Monday night, the school trustees:

1. Approved hiring one teacher for the summer school staff. The employment of a second teacher will be held up pending a review of enrollment.
2. Authorized payment of $1,500 for the summer recreation program.
3. Voted to support two bills in the state Legislature: One to increase state apportionment to all districts, the other to provide survivorship benefits in the teachers retirement system at no additional cost to district or teacher.
4. Accepted with regret the resignations of Mrs. Joan Choulos and Miss Patricia Moore, both of Kent School. Both will leave as of June 30.
5. Hired Mrs. Corrine Giampaoli for third grade and Mrs. Elaine Brighton for first grade, both at Greenbrae School. Mrs. Giampaoli taught three years at Willits High School and a year at San Rafael High School. Mrs. Brighton taught in Salt Lake City schools.
6. Adopted a 180-day school calendar. School will open Sept. 10 and close June 16.

Ship's Engineer Lost Overboard

A company spokesman identified the veteran merchant seaman as John Beach, about 45, of San Francisco.

Capt. Franklin Pierce said other ships in the area were radioed to be on the lookout for Beach, who fell overboard in a moderate sea with five-foot swells. He said the freighter would continue the search.

School Aides Study IBM Processing

Business managers and clerks of the various school districts in Marin County were to meet this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon to get acquainted with payroll processing by IBM machines.

The meeting was being held at the office of County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis at 317 Fourth street, San Rafael.

County Auditor Leon A. de Lisle and his staff members, including Arleigh Sewell, head of the IBM Data Processing, would be on hand to explain the various procedures in the use of IBM and future possibilities for the school districts.

PRETTY GOOD GAME—AND SO EASY, TOO

Rather than wait for the others to go around, Shirkey rented a set of clubs and learned as he went along. It was his first game.

At the 17th hole, his 199-yard tee shot plunked into the cup for a hole-in-one.

Bill Qualifying Candidates Killed

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An Assembly committee has rejected a proposal which would have required all candidates for state attorney general to be lawyers of at least 10 years' standing.

Assemblyman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco), author of the measure, did not even appear before the Constitutional Amendments Committee to take up his plan.

He sent word to the committee that he didn't care what the group did with the bill. The committee decided to kill it.

AF 'Bombs' Protested

AOMORI, Japan (UPI)—Farmers near this north Japanese city complained today that their property is being bombed by the U.S. Air Force.

A delegation told provincial authorities that planes overshooting a range near Misawa Airbase have dropped five partially disarmed practice bombs in Japanese fields, making craters as much as five feet across and two feet deep.

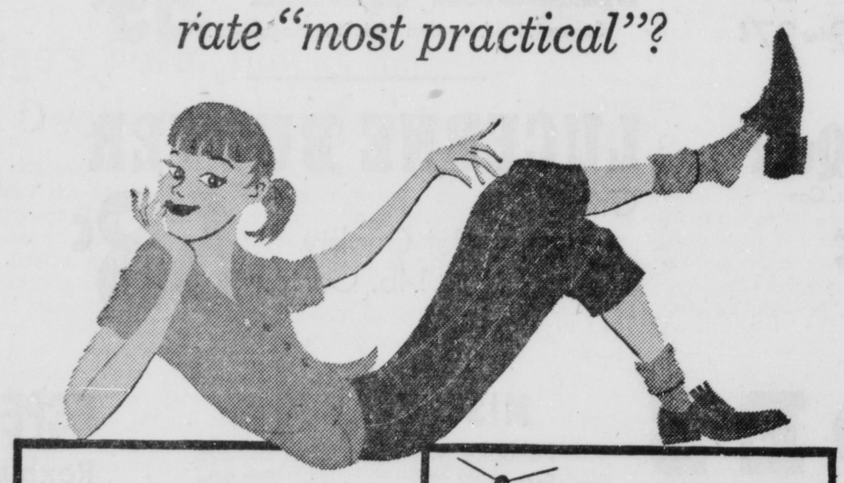
What medium do teen-agers rate "most practical"?



ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: THE DAILY NEWSPAPER. In a recent study of teens made by Eugene Gilbert & Co., the daily newspaper was shown to be a big influence on their living and spending habits. When asked which medium they considered the most practical, 54% said it was the daily newspaper, while only 17% named TV. To advertisers who want to get their share of the $9 billion teen market, we say, "Tell it to the teens in the daily newspaper!"

Moore Shoots For Bassey's Title Tonight; It's A Tossup

The fight ends a year and a half campaign by Moore to get into the same ring with Bassey and the challenger is confident he will emerge from the bout in Olympic Auditorium the new champion.

Interest in the championship clash mounted in the past week with the demand for tickets reaching a peak the final three days, indicating a near-capacity throng of around 11,000 and a gate somewhere in the vicinity of $100,000.

NATIONAL TV

The fight will be blacked out in Southern California for a radium of 250 miles from Los Angeles. But the rest of the nation will be able to see it on television (ABC) starting at 7 p.m., PST.

Although wagering was brisk on the bout, it remained at 6-5 and take your choice in man-to-man action.

The fight took on a grudge aspect last Sunday when Moore failed to appear at a public workout in Olympic Auditorium. Bassey, who showed up, took Moore's failure as a personal affront and vowed he would give his opinion of the challenger's lack of courtesy in the ring tonight.

EXPERTS DIVIDED

The experts were as divided as the public in picking the winner. Some felt Moore was far better than any of Bassey's previous opponents both as a puncher and as a boxer.

But the Bassey adherents said the champion would wear down the challenger and if he did not knock him out he would outpoint him.

Moore's camp claimed that Bassey could be hit easily and if Moore did the landing it would be with more telling effect than any of the champion's previous opponents.

COMMON FOE

The only common foe they have met is Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno. Bassey knocked him out in three rounds last April and Moore scored a knockout last December in one round.

Financially the bout will be rewarding for both. Bassey is guaranteed $45,000 against 40 per cent of the gate plus a television fee. Moore is fighting for a straight 20 per cent of the take. The challenger has agreed to a re-match within 90 days either here or in London if he wins.

Drake Blasts Lowell '9' On Two-Hitter

Dave Christian, a junior righthander who weighs only 135 pounds, looks like a giant on the mound yesterday as he pitched the Drake Pirates to a 15-2 victory over the Lowell Indians in San Francisco.

Christian gave up only two singles, struck out seven batsmen and walked four as he became the first Drake pitcher to go the distance this season.

Three Pirates each collected three hits—Dick Spackman, Dick Llewellyn and Paul White, the latter with a bases-loaded double included. Christian contributed a pair of safeties to the 15-hit attack.

Drake entertains Marin Catholic tomorrow afternoon.

Ski Film, Fashion Show Tonight At SRHS Auditorium

"Site for the Olympics," Dr. Frank Howard's newest skiing film, will be shown tonight 8:30 o'clock in the San Rafael High School Auditorium.

The film will show Far Western skiing from its start in the 20s, through its period of rapid growth in recent years and will end with pictures of the Olympic site at Squaw Valley and the new Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl. Following the film there will be a fashion show of ski clothing from San Rafael Sporting Goods. Admission is $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

The affair is being sponsored by the Marin Ski Club as a source of revenue to be used for construction of its proposed ski lodge at Soda Springs. The club has recently purchased a lot and construction of the cabin is to start as soon as the snow melts.

The building was designed by a group of club members and construction will be done by volunteer members. A scale model of the cabin will be at the Auditorium tonight.

Dodgers Seek Righthander, Talk Over Deal With Cards

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A trade may be brewing between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the St. Louis Cardinals.

Los Angeles and St. Louis meet here today and general managers Buzzie Bavasi and Bing Devine plan to discuss the situation. Bavasi apparently feels the Dodgers pitching staff needs another righthander and indicates the Cards want an outfielder. The Dodgers have already given the Cards Gino Cimoli for Wally Moon and feel they got much the better of the trade.

Yesterday's game between the Dodgers and Detroit was rained out but Los Angeles held an inter-squad contest and Ron Fairly, prize rookie outfielder, was injured sliding into second base. He had to be carried from the field but is expected back in the lineup within four days. He strained muscles in his right hip.

The practice game between the Dressens and the Reeses ended in a 5-5 tie. Duke Snider contributed a double and Jim Koranda a triple.

NCAA COACHES SPEAK

Louisville Favored, But Newell Picks Cincinnati

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The four coaches whose basketball teams will compete in the NCAA finals here this weekend undoubtedly are in better spirits today.

For 28 minutes yesterday they took turns consoling one another in a session best described as an electronic seance.

Reporters at Louisville's elaborate Freedom Hall where the tournament will be played interview the coaches over a four-way telephone hookup.

Voices of the coaches—Freddie Schaus of West Virginia, George Smith of Cincinnati, Pete Newell of California and Peck Hickman of Louisville—were piped in.

The coaches' opinions of their opening round opponents left no doubt history's four greatest teams will compete.

Then they in turn discussed their own teams and thoroughly shattered the illusion.

The only thing that can be deduced logically from their discussions is that each is firm on two points:

1. My team will not win.
2. I don't think my team will lose, either.

Then the reporters asked: Just whom do each of you think will win?

And with the men who know their teams the best, it was Louisville two to one.

Newell and Hickman picked Cincinnati and West Virginia, respectively, because those happen to be the teams they play in Friday's opening round.

The Friday schedule has Louisville and West Virginia in the 7:30 p.m. (CST) opener and Cincinnati and California in the nightcap about 9:30.

Providence Wins Stunning Upset Over St. Louis

NEW YORK (AP)—"It's unbelievable."

That's what Coach Joe Mullaney of Providence College kept shouting last night after his "Cinderella" team beat second-seeded St. Louis 75-72 in double overtime to reach the semi-finals of the National Invitational Tournament.

New York University also advanced to Thursday's semi-finals with an easy 63-48 victory over Oklahoma City. This second game of the basketball doubleheader at Madison Square Garden was strictly an anticlimax to the crowd of 14,269.

Providence, which upset Manhattan 68-66 last Saturday in the last six second of play, now is pitted against St. John's of New York while NYU goes against top-seeded Bradley.

St. John's beat Providence 73-55 early in the regular season, but this time, the happy Mullaney declared, "we're going to give them a better game."

Orth Takes 4th In ABC Singles

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Robert Orth of Kenosha, Wis., made the only change in the top 10 standings of the American Bowling Congress Tournament yesterday when he took fourth place in the singles.

Ed Lubanski of Detroit leads the singles with the 764 he rolled Feb. 26. Lubanski captained the Pfeiffers of Detroit team which leads the open team division with 3243. He also is the leader of the all-events division.

'Hex' Strikes Giants Again

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants, plagued by injuries and illness to the extent that catcher Bob Schmidt is the only first-line player to escape the "hex" to date, take on the Chicago Cubs today after dropping their third straight to Boston.

Manager Bill Rigney nominated Mike McCormick and Curt Barclay for hill work in an effort to improve on the club's poor 3-6 Cactus League mark.

As for the injury and illness department, Trainer Frank Bowman had this to say:

"I've been in the business 38 years and this is the worst spring I've encountered."

The latest victims were: shortstop Andre Rodgers, pulled back muscle; second-baseman Daryl Spencer, ingrown toenail; outfielder Willie Kirkland, swollen leg by virtue of a spider bite; and third-baseman Ben Valenzuela, bronchitis.

"There's one good thing about this spring and not much else," observed Rigney. "We'll be the most unscouted team in baseball when we go into St. Louis for the opener. We haven't been able to field anything close to our starting nine since closing day last September."

That fact was all too evident at Scottsdale yesterday when the Giants came up with only four hits while dropping a 6-1 decision to the Red Sox. It was their fourth defeat of the year at the hands of Boston, which now has an 8-1 mark in Cactus League play.

NO SUPPORT

Stu Miller hurled five innings for the losers, giving up three runs and getting no support as usual. Billy Muffett and Joe Shipley followed in that order, the former getting racked for three runs on the same number of hits during his one-inning stint.

Catcher Hobbie Landrith provided half of the San Francisco hit production, getting a triple and single in two official trips to the plate.

Cal Tactics Don't Include Trying To Stop Robertson

BERKELEY (AP) — California won't be out to stop Oscar Robertson Friday night when the Bears play Cincinnati in the semi-finals of the NCAA Basketball Tournament at Louisville, Ky.

The Cal players read. They know the Big O is the nation's leading collegiate scorer, that he ranks with the best in ball handling and rebound departments.

"We know we're not going to stop Robertson," said Al Buch, the Bear captain on Coach Pete Newell's Pacific Coast Conference champions.

"We know we're not going to hold him to 10 points," he added. "But we can sure make him work harder for the ones he gets.

"Rather than stop Oscar, we will have to control the rest of his team. Press the guards, make it tough for them to pass.

"And we'll have to help each other. Although we'll play our usual one-to-one defense, we'll be falling off when necessary to help a man who's out of position."

Buch, a 6 feet 2 Brooklynite turned Californian, was thinking defense. That's what Newel stresses and the 180-pound senior has learned his lesson well.

At Abraham Lincoln High School in Flatbush he averaged 21 points a game. As a freshman at Cal, he set a record, 18.4 points a game.

But now he's the playmaker and, perhaps more important, a stalwart on defense. He has averaged but 9.1 points a game this year.

Against Utah in the NCAA regionals, he stole the ball for easy layins three times. That's one reason he is called a one man "panic" squad.

The Bears, in compiling a 23-4 record, held opponents to an even 50 points a game, best defensive record in the country. They averaged offensively 63.7, mediocre when compared with schools who play "race horse," fast break basketball.

For the opposition, it is just the opposite. "Make the other guy make a mistake" he said. "Make him shoot farther back. Don't let him have the shot he wants."

Working this strategy, along with Buch, are Darrell Imhoff, 6-10 rebounding specialist; Denny Fitzpatrick, 6 footer and the team's leading scorer with a 13.4 point a game average; sophomore Bill McClintock, 6-5 and No. 2 in rebounding; and Bob Dalton, 6-3.

The bench is deep and strong with Dick Doughty, 6-8, able to give Imhoff a rest: Jack Grout, 6-5, Bernie Simpson, 6 feet, and Jim Langley, 6-3½, all able performers.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Spencer Has No Excuses; He Just Wants To Play Regularly

CONNOLLY

There are two sides to every question. One is right and the other can be wrong.

I refer to the case of Daryl Spencer, sturdy San Francisco Giant infielder, who can, or cannot, be of terrific importance to the clubs' flag chances in 1959.

Spencer was geared to be a shortstop and almost made it in 1958. But somewhere, somehow, along the line he slipped. He didn't fall right on his tail bone, but as far as the results are concerned he might just as well have.

Spencer was not a fugitive from justice exactly but he was so tired of it all that at the height of his career he had to answer the call to military service. And that cost him two seasons from 1954 to 1956.

NO PLAYER ever got a better build-up last year than Spencer. He was heralded as another Honous Wagner because of his hands; he had great balance; he could throw; he wasn't the slowest guy in the world and he was taught to hit by a great batter of years gone by . . . Lefty O'Doul.

And for awhile, particularly in the beginning of the 1958 season, Spencer looked like the McCoy.

But along about the middle of the season he seemed to tire. He wasn't getting that jump on the ball in the infield. A lot of it was blamed on his co-partner Danny O'Connell.

Then Big D, as the San Francisco scribes had nicknamed him, began to hit like a butterfly. His early season potent wallops were gone. He didn't clip the ball smoothly and he finally wound up the season with an average of .256 in 148 games, not in the least impressive.

They said a lot of nasty things about Big D. They said he wasn't a hustler. So a few weeks ago I had occasion to be in Arizona and I cornered the guy.

SPENCER NEVER fibs. He can't. He doesn't know how.

"I just got tired," Spencer said.

"I saw the big apple coming to the plate but I couldn't clobber it as I did in the early days of the season.

"My fielding suffered, not because I didn't get the right kind of support to my left and to my right, but because I wasn't able to move fast enough. I had slowed up, so I thought.

"Then I got a rest when it was late in the season. And when the year ended I wasn't too well satisfied with myself. But I know I could make it in 1959.

"Then I was told to get acquainted with playing second base. I knew then, for the first time, that the San Francisco brass had given up on me. I wasn't sore. I was mad at myself. I was to blame.

"But in my early days in baseball I had played second and third base. I found it hard to adapt myself to these positions because I really thought I was moulded to be a shortstop.

"YET WHEN I took inventory on myself, I discovered that I'd either have to adapt myself to playing second base or get going. So when I reported to the Giant camp in Phoenix, I was dead set on playing second base.

"I love it. I don't care where I play as long as I play regularly. I can't bear to sit on the bench, excepting for a blow or a breather during the season.

"So I have resolved to be a second sacker or a third sacker or a shortstop during 1959. And where I play doesn't matter.

SAFE BOATING

By HARRY HEIFETZ, Commander
U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 14

Confidence

It seems to me that one of the best aids to safe boating is the confidence of the skipper in his ability to handle any situation.

Your passengers want to trust you, skipper. They want to have full confidence in your ability to see to their safety.

So you must cultivate an attitude that will instill confidence in your passengers.

If one of your passengers suddenly says "I smell smoke!" and you jump as if a bee had stung you and look pale and frightened, immediately your fear will communicate itself to your passengers and you have the makings of a disaster.

But on the other hand, if you have good control of yourself and can without undue haste tell the passenger not to worry, that you will have a look around and go about the business in a calm manner, your passengers will be calm, (at least outwardly, and that's half the battle).

AND ACTUALLY, you have good cause to be calm, because the chances are 1,000 to 1 that what your passenger thought was smoke was only a wisp of exhaust blown into the boat by a light breeze.

If you're going through a bit of chop and you strain and tug at the wheel to keep her on course and you give the appearance of fearing that you might lose control at any minute, you can just bet your passengers will take the cue and become frightened and even show signs of seasickness.

But if you plant your feet firmly and sway with the motion of the boat as if this was old stuff to you, your passengers will take that cue too and they will hang on and chatter about how rough it is and will be glad to be a part of it all, knowing as they do that the skipper won't let anything happen to hurt them.

This all boils down to one thing, skipper: You must not show fear. The sea demands your respect, but not fear.

TO HELP YOU develop this feeling of confidence skipper, the U.C. Coast Guard Auxiliary wants you to remember this:

Confidence is a habit. In this instance you can acquire it best by knowledge, knowing your boat better, knowing the waters you travel better and by practicing a confident attitude. Practice standing at the wheel confidently. Practice swaying with the boat. Practicing answering imaginary questions from passengers.

If you are sincere in wanting to acquire the confidence habit, you'll be amazed how quickly you can do it! And a boat with a confident skipper makes a happy cruise. One other thing: You will have a much happier cruise if you put your passengers to work. Knowing the boat makes more confident passengers.

BY ALL MEANS let them get acquainted with the boat. Give them an idea of the works below decks. Answer all questions pleasantly. But firmly insist that rules set up by you be strictly followed. People like an orderly ship. So if your rules call for all small children donning life jackets when coming aboard, you stick to it. If you want all passengers seated out of the way while you maneuver into a berth, you say so. Proper rules do not cause irritation. On the contrary, sensible rules indicate that the ship has a thoughtful skipper and makes for a happier ship.

And remember skipper, no ship under way is big enough for two captains. (Wives please note.)

Jordan-Akins Bout Postponed 3 Weeks

ST. LOUIS (AP)— A three-week postponement of the welterweight championship rematch between Champion Don Jordan and Virgil Akins was granted Tuesday because Jordan's training was interrupted by his wife's illness.

The fight was rescheduled for April 24 at Kiel Auditorium here. It had been set for March 6 but a tornado damaged the St. Louis Arena and it was postponed to April 3 at Kiel.

Jordan's wife became ill after the premature birth of a baby nine days ago. The baby weighed only two pounds. Jordan's manager, Don Nesseth, said both wife and baby are all right now, although the baby is in an incubator.

Ashley Cooper downed Mal Anderson 6-4, 6-2 in the preliminary singles match. Gonzales and Anderson came from 2-5 to beat Hoad and Cooper 8-6 in the doubles.

Hoad cinched his match with Gonzales when he won the eighth and ninth games of the second set without allowing Gonzales a point.

Cal Presents Challenge In Gymnastics Meet

BERKELEY (AP)—Domination by Illinois and Penn State in the NCAA Gymnastics Championships faces a challenge this weekend from host school California and its star sophomore Art Shurlock.

The Bears have won nine dual meets in a row with Shurlock taking four or five first places in every meet he has been in this year.

Still he is no cinch in the NCAA, for the winners of the all around championships of the past three years are coming here for the competitions and two of them represent Illinois.

Don Tonry and Abie Grossfield of the Illini won the all around in 1956 and 1958 respectively, while Armando Vega of Penn State took it in 1957.

Coach Hal Frey of California, a Penn State graduate, believes one of the four will be the big gun this time. He figures Illinois or his alma mater will win the team title in the Friday and Saturday night competitions, but doesn't count out the Bears.

Michigan State tied Illinois for the team title last year, but the Spartans don't possess the same strength this time. In 1953 and 1954 Penn State's Nittany Lions won the national collegiate title with Illinois second.

They reversed this finish in 1955 and 1956 with the midwesterners winning and Penn State second. In 1957, the easterners again won with Illinois second.

Last year the monotony was broken somewhat as Michigan State edged in for the title tie and Penn State was only third. California didn't figure in Frey's first year as coach.

But with Shurlock, a 21-year-old 156-pounder from Chicago who stands 5 feet 9, the Bears have a chance this time. Frey figures Tonry, Grossfield, Vega and Shurlock all are good bets for the U.S. Olympic team next year.

All told, 25 schools have entered a total of 110 gymnasts but the California coach believes that the outcome hinges on the performance of the top four men.

Last year Grossfield won the all-around title and then went on to win both the horizontal bar and free exercise events. Other competitions include the trampoline, flying rings, parallel bars, horizontal bars, rope climb, side horse and tumbling.

In the qualifying, they throw in the long horse as an all around event since it is one on the Olympic program.

Drake Swim Star Cuts 36.7 Seconds Off School Mark

Pete Sagues slashed 36.7 seconds off the Drake High School 400-yard freestyle swimming record yesterday as he led the Pirates to a 64½-25½ victory over Lowell of San Francisco at Drake's pool.

Sagues swam the 400 in 4 minutes, 50 seconds, obliterating the year-old record of 5:26.7 held by Harold Walker.

Sagues also won the 100 free in 55.7 to share high point honors with teammate Jim Dawson who won the 50 free in 26.8 seconds and the 150 individual medley in 1:58.8.

Drake also won the Class B competition, 39-38.

SPRING LAMB WILL BE IN THIS WEEKEND!

FRIER-ROASTER TURKEYS — The smaller turkey (4 to 5 pounds) solves the problem of roasting time and going to church on Easter Sunday. In a slow oven (325 degrees) allow 20 minutes per pound or about 2½ hours. Wrapped in foil and roasted at 450 degrees, the same bird is done in 1¾ hours. Open foil the last 15 or 20 minutes to get an even golden brown.

WHAT'S SAUCE FOR A TURKEY

Marin families have a habit of celebrating any special occasion on the patio, with Dad presiding at the barbecue. Still, Easter calls for something more festive than usually sputters on the spit.

A perfect choice is turkey, which can be broiled whole, in quarters or pieces. The young broiler-fryer turkeys divide perfectly for either spit or grill barbecuing. The pieces are easier to watch for even cooking than the whole bird.

Allow one quarter of a 4 to 5 pound bird per portion.

Turkey calls for a more subtle barbecue sauce than that for red meats and game birds. Try white wine in which crushed leaves of thyme and marjoram

TURKEY BARBECUE SAUCE

Into 2 cups white wine crush 1 teaspoon each thyme and basil, 2 tablespoons grated onion and whole black peppers. Mix thoroughly with ⅔ cup olive oil.

A Festive Dinner For Heart Patients

Easter is another occasion for festive dinner planning. This Easter menu and the recipes have been planned by the Marin County Heart Assn. for those whose physicians have prescribed a restricted sodium diet.

It includes Hot Spiced Tomato Juice, Roast Spring Leg of Lamb with Mint Jelly (3 ounces-, Parslied New Potatoes, Fresh Peas with Chives, Cornmeal Muffins, Unsalted Butter, Candlestick Salad, Easter Bunny Cookies, Coffee and Milk (optional).

This menu will provide approximately 134 milligrams of sodium (without milk) based on the serving size of each food item. The dietitians who planned this menu were thinking of those who are restricted to 500 milligrams of sodium each day. Sodium value of water used in meal preparation is not included in calculations.

HOT SPICED TOMATO JUICE

12-ounce can unsalted tomato juice
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 small bay leaf
pepper to taste

Heat unsalted tomato juice (use only approved brands). Add spices. Do not bring to a boil, but simmer gently. Serve at once with a thin slice of lemon in each cup.

EASTER BUNNY COOKIES

Put into a mixing bowl 1 cup sugar, sifted. Cream with ½ cup softened sweet butter.

Add one egg.

Beat and add:

1 teaspoon lemon rind
¼ teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon low sodium milk
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons low sodium baking powder

For best results, add flour a little at a time, being careful not to get dough too stiff or cookies will be tough. Mix thoroughly; add more, until desired consistency for rolling is achieved.

Chill dough in refrigerator for 2 hours. Put dough between wax paper and roll ⅛ inch thick. Cut with floured bunny cutter.

ALL SIZES, ALL AGES

Whichever Way You Cook It Turkey Is Simply Wonderful

Since colonial times, turkey has been festive fare. It has since moved around the calendar to present its golden brown succulence at all sorts of special occasions, especially Easter. The fact that it is one of the best bargains in meat, penny per pound, has not changed its status. Nor has the fact that it has a low-fat, high protein content removed it from its regal place.

There is still something about turkey that belongs with celebration.

There may have been a time when you would have had to know a turkey or its breeder personally to serve it at Easter, but now the dilemma is different. Which of the many sizes, ages and types of turkey to buy? Fresh or frozen? And even more tantalizing, how to cook it and how to serve it.

For turkey, one of the most versatile meats for taking on nuances of flavor, also adapts to a half dozen cooking methods—depending, of course, on the kind of bird you buy.

If you're in a quandry, study this guide and then make your plans. The kind of bird you choose depends on everything from sunrise Easter services to the number of guests at table. Not to mention your family's preference for lots of leftovers or none at all.

SELECTION OF TURKEY

Turkey is available in retail markets whole, cut-up and by-the-piece, either fresh or quick-frozen. Size, age and sex of the turkey determine the class. Age influences the tenderness, which in turn helps determine the cooking method. Common classes are Fryer or Roaster, Young Hen Turkey, Young Tom Turkey, Hen Turkey and Tom Turkey.

It is unnecessary for the consumer to judge turkeys, because there are easy guides for selection. Guides for quality selection are based on brand names, government grades or both. These will be found on a wing band, a stamp on the bird, a tag, the wrap or package.

PREPARATION

Fresh turkey — If whole, refrigerate promptly at 36-38 degress F, loosely wrapped in aluminum foil, parchment or waxed paper. Use turkey within 2-3 days; if cut up, within 1 or 2 days. Just before cooking, wash the turkey in cold water, drain and pat dry.

Quick-frozen turkey — Keep turkey frozen until it is to be cooked, allowing sufficient time before cooking for defrosting. Properly packaged and quick-frozen ready-to-cook turkey stored at 0 degrees F or lower may be kept for several months.

To defrost quick-frozen turkey, follow package directions or use one or a combination of these two methods:

1. Leave bird in its original body wrap. Place on shelf in refrigerator. Allow 2 to 4 days for defrosting.

2. Place bird, still in its original body wrap, in cold water to cover. Allow 2 to 6 hours.

As soon as the turkey is sufficiently pliable, remove the giblets and neck, usually wrapped together in parchment. They will be found in the body cavity and the wishbone pocket just underneath the skin. Their removal speeds defrosting, too.

BASIC METHODS

There are five basic methods of cooking turkey: broiling, frying, roasting, braising, stewing or cooking in water. Broiling, frying, and roasting are dry heat methods of cookery. They are the usual choice for young, tender turkey — the fry-roaster or the young hen or tom turkey.

Braising and stewing are also popular methods for cooking turkey. They may be used to cook less-tender meats. Two other popular moist heat cooking methods are cooking turkey in aluminum foil and poaching.

BROILING TURKEY

All sizes of the tender fryer or roaster may be broiled —cooked by dry heat from an electric element, gas flame or hot coals, or on a revolving spit. Turkey may be cut into quarters before or after broiling for convenient serving.

FRYING TURKEY

The young turkey, 4-5 pound ready-to-cook weight, is the best choice for frying—cooking in shallow fat in a heavy skillet or kettle. The turkey should be disjointed and cut up to give 11 or 12 pieces — 2 drumsticks, 2 thighs or second joints, 2 or 3 pieces of breast, 2 wings, 2 or 3 pieces of back, the neck and giblets. By-the-piece young turkey is available in some markets, permitting selection of favorite pieces.

Coating the turkey before frying is important. A coating prevents drying out, aids in browning and helps to give the desirable crispness. Common coatings are flour, or egg and flour—both with added seasoning. Packaged coatings are also available.

Pan frying also is a popular method of cooking turkey. As it is usually done, it is not true frying. Covering the pan, with or without the addition of a small quantity of water, completes the cooking with steam after the initial browning.

ROASTING

All sizes of tender turkey may be roasted—that is, cooked by dry heat in an oven, on a rack in an open shallow pan. A low roasting temperature assures excellent drippings, rich in color and flavor for the gravy, not burned or dried in the pan. A plump, well-finished bird is desirable for desirable results in roasting.

A turkey may or may not be stuffed for roasting. Stuffing may be cooked separately in a casserole or suitable baking pan—loaf or muffin size.

Trussing or binding legs and wings to the body assures uniform cooking, even browning, and an attractive bird on the platter. The turkey also is easier to carve.

Brush skin of bird thoroughly with cooking fat before roasting. Place bird breast up on a rack at least ½ inch high in a shallow open pan. Place aluminum over bird or drape with fat-moistened cheesecloth. The foil or cloth helps in uniform browning. Basting is unnecessary. Roast in slow oven, 325 degrees F. Do not sear. Do not add water. Do not cover.

When turkey is about ⅔ done, cut cord or band of skin holding drumstick ends to the tail. This permits heat to reach the inside thigh to assure thorough cooking.

BRAISING

Braising is a moist heat method of cooking—slow browning to develop flavor and color followed by slow cooking in moist heat until the thickest pieces are fork-tender.

While braising is the correct choice for cooking less-tender mature turkey, it is a favorite method for cooking tender turkey. Turkey is disjointed and cut into pieces. A heavy kettle with a tight lid is the choice for braising. A pressure saucepan may be used and shortens cooking time.

STEWING OR SIMMERING

Simmering or stewing is slow cooking in a medium-to-large quantity of water (moist heat) to soften or dissolve the connective tissue. Although this method is the choice for less-tender meats, it may be used when meat is to be used for sliced meat platters, turkey sandwiches and salads, in creamed and a la king turkey or in a great variety of "casserole" dishes.

To stew turkey, place it in a heavy kettle with a tight lid. Add ½ cup water and ½ teaspoon salt for each pound of turkey, ready-to-cook weight.

For additional flavor, add a small carrot, small onion, 2-3 ribs of celery, a clove and 2-3 peppercorns tied in a cheesecloth bag for easy removal after cooking.

Bring water to rapid boil. Skim any froth from surface and reduce heat to simmering. Cook 2-3 hours, until thickest pieces are fork-tender.

COOKING TURKEY IN ALUMINUM FOIL

Cooking aluminum foil-wrapped turkey in a very hot oven (450 degrees F) shortens cooking time and avoids spattering the oven.

Turkeys cooked in foil have several marked characteristics. The skin may be less brown, with color spotty, and very soft. They should be cooked the final 15 to 20 minutes with the foil folded back to obtain the desired golden-brown appearance.

FRY A YOUNG TURKEY TO GOLDEN CRISPNESS

Take a tender young turkey. Dredge in seasoned flour, fry crisp in your finest oil and simmer until done. A delightful fate for one of the small, young turkeys. This method takes only slightly longer than frying chicken.

This recipe below, by the way, gives directions for "recrisping" the skin after the pieces have simmered done.

FRIED TURKEY

For each 3 pounds of turkey use:

¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning (optional)
Fat for frying, about 1 cup
½ cup flour
2 teaspoons paprika
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Combine flour and seasoning in a paper bag. Shake turkey, 2 or 3 pieces at a time, in a bag to coat evenly. Save any left-over flour for gravy.

Cook to a uniform golden brown in ½ inch layer of moderately hot fat in a heavy skillet — large enough to avoid crowding. Use tongs or two spoons for turning pieces to prevent pricking skin. Start pieces skin side down. Browning requires 15 to 20 minutes.

Reduce heat, cover tightly and cook slowly until tender, about 50 minutes. If skillet cannot be covered tightly, add 1 to 2 tablespoons water. The turkey is done when the thickest pieces are fork-tender.

Uncover last 10 minutes to recrisp skin. If desired, prepare gravy with pan drippings. The liver and precooked heart, gizzard and neck may be floured and browned with turkey the last 15 minutes.

Comes Evening—Salad Supper To Go With 'A Little More . . .'

Comes evening. Seems like everyone wants a little more of that lovely turkey and "something light, please." A tangy salad, crisp cinnamon sticks and a large pot of coffee are a perfect finale for a festive Easter Sunday.

Or this might be a delightful supper for Monday, with a prelude of soup made from the carcass and seasoned lightly with a tweak of poultry seasoning.

TOASTED CINNAMON STICKS

Ingredients: Loaf of unsliced white bread, ⅔ cup evaporated milk, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cinnamon.

Method: Cut six 1-inch slices from loaf of bread. Remove crusts; cut each slice into 3 strips. Dip strips into undiluted evaporated milk, then brush with melted butter. Stir sugar and cinnamon together thoroughly; roll bread sticks in mixture.

Place on rack in shallow baking pan. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven for 20 minutes. Makes 18 strips.

AVOCADO FRUIT SALAD

Ingredients: 3 avocados, 3 oranges (sectioned membrane-free), small bunch seedless grapes, orange French dressing.

Method: Cut avocados in half lengthwise; remove pits. Arrange 6 or 7 orange sections in avocado halves with white grapes. Serve with Orange French Dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Note: If desired, avocados may be peeled and sliced; arrange slices on salad greens with orange sections and grapes.

ORANGE FRENCH DRESSING

Ingredients: 1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated orange juice, ¾ cup salad oil, ¼ cup cider vinegar, 3 to 4 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon Tabasco sauce.

Method: Put undiluted orange juice concentrate, salad oil, vinegar, sugar, mustard, salt and Tabasco in jar, bowl or bottle. Shake or beat until blended; or mix in electric blender. Dressing may be stored covered in refrigerator. Shake well before using. Makes 1¾ cups dressing.

Rosy Talisman Grapefruit

Ingredients: For every 2 servings—1 large grapefruit, 1 orange, 2 tablespoons grenadine syrup.

Method: Halve grapefruit; remove any seeds. Separate sections by cutting down both sides of dividing membranes, working from the center to the rind. Cut around rim to loosen both sections and membranes. Loosen center core and pull out with side membranes so fruit sections remain in place. Pare orange so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Immediately before serving pour 1 tablespoon grenadine over grapefruit half; arrange orange sections petal fashion over grapefruit. Serve at once.

Hors D'Oeuvre

For a pre-meal snack, use chipped beef . . . it's so easy. Shape about 1 tablespoon of cream cheese in hands to form roll about 1¼ inches long. Then wrap with 1 strip of chipped beef.

Hint On Purchasing

When buying spareribs, remember this handy suggestion . . . 1 side of ribs is equal to approximately 2 pounds.

AN EASTER TRADITION

Roast Lamb Provencal Sets Theme For Distinctive Menu

Easter is a day of rejoicing throughout the Christian world. In many European countries the breaking of the Lenten fast on Easter morning calls for a family feast with special dishes and holiday breads, and always the Easter eggs — colored in lilac and lavender, robin's blue, palest yellow, fresh greens, pink and scarlet.

For Easter services the churches are festive with flowers from a reborn earth and millions of voices join in anthems of praise and joy and triumph in the Resurrection.

As a harmonious climax to such a day, the dinner is elegant and gay. This dinner is French and offers a roast leg of lamb, provencal. The flavor of spring lamb is incomparable. Here in Marin the young, sweet meat we call spring lamb is available all the year round and it is especially abundant during the Easter season.

The lamb is roasted with fresh mint and white wine. We like it cooked slightly on the pink side, using — with true French practicality — meat tenderizer to insure tenderness, to shorten the cooking time and to keep the meat full-sized and juicy. All recipes serve six.

ROAST LEG OF LAMB PROVENCAL

5-6 lb. leg of lamb
Seasoned meat tenderizer
1 clove garlic, slivered
½ teaspoon rosemary or thyme, powdered.
3-4 fresh mint sprigs, finely chopped
or
1 teaspoon dried mint leaves, crushed
⅓ cup mint or currant jelly
⅓ cup California, dry white wine (sauterne or sherry)

In advance:

1. Make gashes in roast with sharp knife and force slivers of garlic deep into the meat. Sprinkle all surfaces of roast with seasoned meat tenderizer, as you would salt; do not add salt. Pierce deeply at 1 inch intervals with long pronged fork; this insures penetration of the tenderizer and prevents juice loss.

2. Mix rosemary or thyme with crushed mint; rub well into surfaces of roast. Let stand at room temperature 1 hour, or cover loosely and refrigerate overnight.

To cook:

1. Preheat oven to 325° F. Place roast on rack in open pan; do not cover or add water. Allow about 25 minutes to the pound for medium lamb. The tenderizer reduces cooking time and shrinkage, so do not overcook.

2. About 30 minutes before roast is done, cover it with the mint or currant jelly, mixed well with the wine. This gives the roast a beautiful glaze and flavors the drippings for the gravy.

To make the gravy:

After removing roast from pan, drain off the fat, returning about 3 tablespoons to pan. Set roasting pan on stove burner; add 1 to 2 tablespoons flour and brown; slowly add 1½ cups water and a 2 ounce can mushroom stems and pieces with liquid; bring to boil; reduce heat and continue cooking until slightly thickened, being sure that all the crisp drippings are blended in. Stir in ⅓ cup of the white wine.

FRUIT CUP GENIEVRE

Gin, the distillation of the genievre or juniper berry, gives a piquant, yet unrecognized, flavor to this cup.

Combine a can of pineapple chunks, with their juice, a can each mandarin oranges and grapefruit segments, both drained, in a bowl. Sprinkle lightly with confectioner's sugar; add the juice of one lemon. Refrigerate at least 12 hours. Serve in chilled compotes, adding a tablespoon of gin and a maraschino cherry to each.

CHATEAU POTATOES

Using baking or new potatoes, make tiny balls with a French melon scoop. Saute very lightly in a very little butter; add to roasting pan during last 45 minutes of cooking and brown along with the lamb, turning once.

GREEN BEANS SMITANE

Cook 2 packages frozen French-cut green beans according to package direction; drain. In a saucepan, saute 1 cup finely chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter until limp; blend in 2 tablespoons flour; add ⅔ cup mayonnaise, ½ cup sour cream, 1 jigger (3 tablespoons) dry white wine and 1 teaspoon seasoned meat tenderizer. Cook mixture just a few minutes, until creamy — stirring constantly. Add to green beans at serving time.

CELERY VICTOR

Combine ⅓ cup olive oil, 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar, 1 tablespoon well drained India relish, ½ teaspoon seasoned meat tenderizer and ¼ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper. Steam 3 stalks of celery hearts in boiling salted water — tightly covered — until just tender (about 10 minutes) or, use a No. 2 can celery hearts drained. Arrange celery in a shallow dish; pour dressing over and refrigerate at least 2 hours. To serve, place celery hearts on lettuce lined plates, add remaining dressing and a garnish of sieved hard-cooked eggs and anchovy fillets.

LIME PIE

Bake and cool a flaky pie shell (9 inches). Combine 1 can of thick, sweetened condensed milk, the yolks of 3 eggs, well beaten and ⅓ cup fresh lime juice; fold in the egg whites (also well beaten). Preheat oven to 250°F.; pour mixture into pie shell and bake 10 minutes. When cool, refrigerate until needed. The pie is served with a covering of whipped cream, sweetened with a tablespoon of rum and a finishing touch of ground cinnamon.

Pineapple Adds Tropical Note To Smothered Fillets Of Sole

A fruit garnish and a dash of seasoning can provide some exciting variations in foods that are basic favorites and in short order, too.

In this recipe, pineapple slices or tidbits are placed in an attractive border around the sole for a pleasing contrast to the baked fish. The preparation time for this dish is less than 5 minutes and you'll find it an exceptionally good combination.

BAKED FILLET OF SOLE, TROPICALE

1½ pounds fillet of sole
1 medium-sized onion, sliced into thin rings
Salt and pepper
1 can cream of chicken or mushroom soup
2 tablespoons milk or sherry
6 slices of pineapple or 2 cups pineapple tidbits

Place fillets in a shallow baking pan. Scatter onion rings over and season to taste with salt and pepper. Stir cream of chicken soup to soften and add milk or sherry.

Pour over fish. Arrange pineapple slices or tidbits in an attractive border around edge of pan. Bake in a hot oven. (425° F.) for 40 minutes. Serves 4.

Basting poultry and meat as it roasts is a good way to keep the surfaces from becoming dry.

Special—Roast Cornish Hens

Ingredients: 4 Rock Cornish game hens (each 14 ounces), 4 leafy celery tops, 4 large sprigs parsley, 1 seedless orange, ½ cup (¼ pound) butter, salt, pepper.

Method: Thaw hens; wash in cold water; drain and dry; bend wings back so they are akimbo. Put a celery top, parsley sprig and one-quarter of the unpeeled orange in the body cavity of each hen; tie legs together. Spread 1 tablespoon of soft butter over outside of each hen; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place breast-side down in shallow roasting pan in hot (450 degrees) oven; after about 20 minutes spread hens with remaining 4 tablespoons soft butter and turn breast-side up. Continue to roast 30 to 40 minutes longer, basting once or twice, or until hens are extremely tender and well browned. Makes 4 servings.

Party Patties

In preparing ham patties or lamb patties the next time, add a touch of color by topping them with a maraschino cherry surrounded by 2 pieces of pineapple. For pineapple pieces, simply cut a pineapple slice into quarters.

Remember Bermuda onions for salads and go-alongs for hamburgers; they are large and sweet.

San Rafael School Plans Open House

The parents of the San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School have had an active spring semester. New officers who were installed are Mesdames John P. Ryan, president; Richard Curtis, vice president; Lynndale Engstrom, secretary; Laurence Wright, treasurer; Warren Logan, schedule chairman; Eugene Campbell, equipment chairman; Frederick Owen, finance chairman; Walter Hotzner, ways and means; Philip Hicks, education chairman; Elwin Case, nutrition chairman; and Bruce McKenzie, William Lane and W. Raymond Baur, delegate to the Marin County Council of Nursery Schools.

The school recently entertained its members, alumni and guests at a Mardi Gras Costume Ball. The dance was held at Carpenters Hall. Costumes were varied and prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Owen for best couple; Mrs. John Ryan for the cleverest female costume, and Elwin Case for the best male costume.

A White Elephant sale was held at the recent meeting of the parents' group and sufficien money was raised to buy a piece of equipment for the children's play yard which is being rebuilt this year from a plan designed by Katy and Paul Steinmetz. It is the hope of the school to have much of the yard ready for the children's use when they return from Easter vacation and for the annual Open House which will be held this year on April 9. Anyone who is interested in seeing the school is invited to attend.

The school is in session Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and is directed by Mrs. E. W. Egenberger and Mrs. M. A. McConnell. It has a capacity of 40 children from two years and nine months through kindergarten age. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Curtis.

MUSIC, DANCING

'Fiesta Flamenca' Program Given At Outdoor Art Club

Chosen as members of the nominating committee headed by Mrs. Gordon Harrison were Mesdames Frank Schroeder, Delmar Clinton, Joseph Brewster and Paul Hurd. Alternates will be Mesdames Wayne Bingham, Harold Jolley and Lowell Jett.

Miss Lee Crouch of the United States Forestry Service explained the Penny Pines Plantation program, stressing the fact that the large percentage of $22,000 contributed to this reforestation program has been made by women's clubs.

The Outdoor Art Club was the first club in Marin County to participate in the project and hopes to be able to provide for a planting of 6,800 seedlings for coverage of approximately eight acres.

Miss Crouch also called attention to the fire prevention campaign with which women's clubs are helping. The slogan "Where do you keep your matches?" is the result of concern over the fact that in the past year 10,000 acres of forest have been destroyed by fires started by children playing with matches.

Women's organizations are urged to help in the campaign to keep matches away from where children can reach them.

For the program Luisa and Daniel Maravilla of San Francisco presented a program of Flamenca music and dancing.

Daniel, American guitarist, met and married Luisa in Madrid, Spain in 1954, and they are now teachers of their respective arts as well as entertainers.

Before she performed Luisa explained how flamenca dancing originated in Andalusia, and her first numbers were of the type danced in Cadiz. Adding much interest to the program were her comments on her dances and Gypsy characteristics and customs—since she is part Gypsy herself.

But the high pont of the program was Luisa's final intricate dance done in a man's costume since it is usually danced only by a man because of the great strength needed in the legs.

Members were greeted at the door by Mesdames Joseph Wittenmeier, Robert Laughead and John Nahapiet. Mesdames Charles Bassett and M. A. Leonis were in charge of tea preparation, and were assisted by Mesdames Samuel Seifert, Gordon Von Der Werth, R. A. Young and Donald Schlemmer.

Wolo The Puppeteer To Attend Luncheon

Easter dreams for the young and the young-in-heart of all ages will be realized on Tuesday, March 24, at Rickey's Rancho Rafael. Wolo, the fascinating puppeteer who charms bright-eyed children on TV, will bring Aloysious and Petita, dressed in their Easter finery, to greet boys and girls and their mothers at the special Fashion Focus Vacation Luncheon, "Easter Dreams."

This is a particularly appropriate time to honor the Service League of the Junior Museum of Marin, whose members will be modeling at the luncheon, since the Junior Museum not only contains "Easter Bunnies," but many other live animals as well. Through the museum, children have the opportunity to learn first-hand the habits of Marin wildlife; and the nature tours given by the Museum's director are both instructive and fun. The Museum has opened wide the gateways to nature for many thousands of children. The yearly budget of the Museum is supplemented by the activities of the Service League and by its fund drive, now in progress.

Luncheon guests can dream to their heart's content, as mothers model the very latest in delightful Easter fashions, with their children, who will be smaller versions of charm and chic for the younger set. The Ross Valley Shop is providing the "Easter Dreamy" clothes for the Service League mothers. Bell's Children's Shop is dressing the moppets. The House of Kwan Yin will create interesting hairstyles to last not only through Easter morning, but to bloom prettily—under a hat or not—into spring. The gay Easter decorations will delight not only the adult fashiongoers, but also their little guests, who will be enchanted with Easter Bunnies and colorful eggs in gay Easter Baskets, as well as other "Easter Surprises." As a special treat, the children may order their luncheon from a small specially designed menu.

The Service League considers itself honored to have Wolo make his first public appearance since a serious heart attack. As his first time out to meet the boys and girls since his illness, Wolo is looking forward to seeing many old friends, and to making new ones. In honor of the occasion, March 24 at Rickey's will be "Wolo's Get Better Day" when Wolo will preside at a special table for Easter.

The Easter Dreams Fashion Focus Vacation Luncheon is open to the public, and reservations for the 12:30 luncheon may be made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael. The fashion show will begin at 1 o'clock.

Loretta Gregory Becomes Bride Of Paul Kramer

The chapel at Hamilton Air Force Base was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Loretta Lee Gregory and Paul J. Kramer. Both the bride and bridegroom are with the Air Force stationed at Hamilton.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Jeff Jennings of Pomona, the bride wore a ballerina satin gown fashioned with scoop neckline and three-quarter sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a pearl coronet and she carried a blue and white nosegay.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. J. M. Kramer of Berkeley and the late Mr. Kramer attended schools in Wisconsin.

Musical Shows What High School Teen-Agers Can Do

Marin's high schools have programs in which they excel. Tamalpais High, for example, wins science award after science award. Marin Catholic takes the oratory honors. Although Redwood and Novato Highs are too young to have any over-all record as yet, Drake is proud of the standing its students make in college. Tomales aims its program at agriculture and San Rafael has long been noted for its music department.

San Rafael enhanced its reputation over the weekend. They undertook a difficult production, the musical "Oklahoma!" Two SRO houses can testify they came through with flying colors.

The production had an interesting and exciting background. We don't know exactly how many were in the cast, but when they all came on stage at the finale there was hardly room for them to stand shoulder to shoulder. We'd guess there were at least one hundred students actually participating on stage. In addition, there must have been another 35 or 40 in the orchestra pit, to say nothing of stage crew, make-up, and all the other activities.

With this number of participants, it was to be expected that some complications would arise. It would hardly be anticipated, however, that both the male and female leads would have to drop out.

The male lead went first. He learned he was not able to continue about a couple of weeks before production date. A new lead had to be found and trained.

The female lead stayed in her part right through dress rehearsal. Then she contracted blood poisoning. On production morning at 9 a.m., the girl who had been her understudy was notified she was going on. We're told she had never sung with an orchestra until she was on the stage Friday night before a full house.

But these two and the other 98 or so came through like old troupers. They sang and shouted, they acted and danced. It was a remarkable exhibition of what young people can do when given the proper direction and opportunity.

We congratulate the faculty members responsible for the play. But more especially we congratulate the cast and orchestra, the teen-agers of San Rafael High, who came through with an outstanding production.

Cocky, Little Chatterbox

Imported from England in 1850, this aggressive little fellow established himself quickly and was soon spread from coast to coast and into Canada and Mexico.

We in Marin are not immune to this "pest." English sparrows, as everyone knows, are well established here. Their nests, which they will build out of any available material, are monuments to poor housekeeping. Their appetite for grain makes them an economic problem in farming areas. Adding insult to injury, they often crowd out less aggressive birds.

The English sparrow's lack of fear is one of its few redeeming features. Quick-tempered and something of a scold, it will attack with streams of shrill bird invective birds several times its size. It is cocky and tough.

We must admire, albeit reluctantly, this hardy little fellow's tremendous adaptability which makes him at home the year round from Canada to Mexico. He's mighty hard to discourage.

THE HIGH COST OF WAR

A battleship which never went to sea was sold recently as scrap for one-fiftieth of what it cost.

This warship, The Kentucky, took $55 million and 7 years to construct. Its keel was laid at Norfolk, Va., in December 1942, during World War II.

After repeated postponements, the ship was finally launched in January, 1950, to be fitted in the event of an emergency.

However, revolutionary developments in economic and missile warfare made the Kentucky obsolete. Congress approved its sale for scrap. The buyer got it for $1,176,000.

It would be foolhardy to neglect developing modern means of defense, even if later discarded. Possessing them often prevents war.

However, skyrocketing costs of everything connected with hostilities should stimulate us to be more daring and realistic in working for that precious peace on earth which God wishes mankind to enjoy.

"On earth peace to men of good will." (Luke 2:14)

Help me, Lord, to be a more effective instrument in bringing your divine peace into a troubled world.

Lucky? Actress Says 'It Isn't Luck When God Is Good To You'

In reply Nan likes to quote a line from the play she currently is starred in: "It isn't luck when God is good to you."

"Nothing wonderful ever happens to you overnight," she said soberly. "There is a long process of hard work before you take the long stride, the big step.

"I've always wondered what makes people stay in the theater. It's a cruel business. It's a brutal business. You have to work very hard to get by in it, and you have to love it very much to stay in it."

Nan first tried for a footlight career here at the age of 17, shortly after graduating from a Santa Monica, Calif., high school, where she was the only girl student president in the school's history.

Although she earlier had started studying drama with Max Reinhardt at 12, she first won attention here as a fashion model.

A ROLE IN "The Constant Wife" with Katharine Cornell launched her on her way. but then she married Robert Emmett Dolan, a young producer, and she quit to become "a full-time wife." They moved to the West Coast.

"It was a wonderful life," she said. "We had a house by the ocean. I painted, and learned to cook, and had a son. I was very domestic. I even made slippers in needlepoint for everyone I loved.

"THEN ONE DAY I found I had to go back to the theater. It was burning inside me. So back I came."

Starting all over, Nan took any kind of theatrical job she could find.

She caught the eye of director Elia Kazan. The phone call from him led her to stardom, as it has many others.

Boy Didn't Have To Change Tire

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently an article appeared in your paper regarding publicity of the good deeds of our youth. I would like to add my contribution.

On the way to San Francisco last week, I had a flat tire just as I left the Waldo Tunnel. Arriving safely in the parking area nearest there, I realized the car behind had swiftly followed. I told the driver I would be grateful if he would notify my automobile association.

But he said he would change the tire, which he did, quietly, quickly and efficiently. And would not take a thing for his trouble.

He was a youth from Santa Rosa who could have gone right on to San Francisco and not had dirty hands on arriving there. But he did stop and help two older women in distress.

I thanked him as best I knew how, which seemed very small for what he had done.

Would that we might talk more of the good youth does. It might encourage others who seem confused about it.

Amendment Will Clarify 'Fee' Bill

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The interesting editorial in the issue of Wednesday, March 11, titled "Bill Would Keep Medical Fees, Glasses Prices Secret" has come to our attention, and we thought the following information would be of interest to you.

The explanation of AB 1627 (Rumford) which was quoted in paragraph four of the editorial will shortly be amended by the author to delete the word "disseminate" and in place thereof to insert the word "advertise" to clarify the intent of the measure.

AB 1627 was never intended to prohibit the proper disclosure of fees to patients and it was NOT and will NOT be intended to prohibit advertising by professional men. It was and is intended, in the best interests of the public and the professions, to stop mis-leading advertising by those practitioners who have not exactly played fair with the reading public in many instances.

Our understanding of this measure by Mr. Rumford is that it is solely intended to protect the public, through legislation from misleading statements. The forthcoming amendment should make the meaning clearer.

I hope the above will be of value to you.

Sunny Hills Board Appreciates Help

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May I exress the appreciation of the Board of Directors of Sunny Hills for your thoughts expressed in the editorial Thursday, March 12.

It is most important that we all understand the problems which we, as citizens, are facing in today's world, and it is of great help to us to know we have the confidence of our own community.

Beaches, Parks Division Flexes Bureaucrat Muscles At Lake Benbow

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Among the reasons the State Senate and Assembly, with but few dissenting votes, made the chief of the State Division of Beaches and Parks appointive by the governor of the state, was resentment of legislators against the dictatorial attitude of the division on the usage of beaches and parks property.

An incident at hand is the case of Benbow Lake in Humboldt County.

FOR YEARS, the lake area has been in private hands — and has been used by water skiiers as one of the few places in Humbolt County where this sport could be enjoyed.

Both sides of Benbow Lake were acquired by the State Division of Beaches and Parks. Immediately, water skiing was banned in accordance with the bureaucratic regulations of the division.

This was despite the fact that no beaches and park development is planned this year at Benbow Lake. No funds have been appropriated for development, and the property apparently will remain the same this summer as it has been during past years when residents of the area used it for water skiing.

CONSTITUENTS OF Sen. Carl L. Christensen, Jr., (D-Eureka) aroused his ire by calling the situation to his attention. The Humboldt senator wrote to Newton B. Drury, chief of the division.

In replying, Drury said "I know you can understand the difficulty of enforcing the commission's aquatic regulations in other localities and allowing an exception at Benbow Lake State Park."

Senator Christensen in replying to his constituent in Eureka said:

"I cannot quite follow this conclusion, nor do I believe it is consistent with the proper utilization of state parks for recreation purposes."

The State Park Commission has a long history of operating state beaches and parks in a bureaucratic manner. It was highlighted some time ago by refusal to allow camping in D. L. Bliss State Park at Lake Tahoe except at established camp sites; it had hundreds of acres of excellent camping area and scores of people with their own camping outfits seeking a place to throw down.

Whether the removal of Drury from his position as dictator of the park system will improve the situation remains to be seen. Remaining is the park commission's fetish of "maintaining the natural beauty" of the areas by even refusing campers the privilege of removing fallen limbs and brush for firewood from the forests. And also opposing a convenient and comfortable highway along the west shore of Lake Tahoe.

Private Wilkins had been living for the day when he'd receive his discharge from the Army. No sooner had he donned his civvies than he dashed off this note to his former commanding officer:

"Dear Captain Koshland: After the indignities and repeated humiliations I've suffered for the past three years, it now gives me infinite pleasure to tell you and the whole Army to go straight to hell."

Back came this reply: "Dear Sir: Suggestions concerning the movements of troops must be entered on Army Form AGO-186M, in triplicate, copies of which are enclosed. Captain Koshland."

Public Will Get Eyeful Of U.S. Air Power At Hamilton Tomorrow

ALL HANDS AT Hamilton Air Force Base are preparing for tomorrow's open house, at which the public will be given an eyeful of U. S. air power.

Feature of the show, of course, will be a demonstration of precision, wing-tip to wing-tip flying by a team of four jets, piloted by the air force's famed "Thunderbirds."

Preparations for the Thunderbirds' display are proceeding, despite the tragic death of one of the pilots, Capt. Charles D. Salmon, in an attempt to bail out of his aircraft over Southern Nevada last week.

Capt. Charles W. Maultsby, carried on the Thunderbird roster as a "spare" pilot, will take over in Salmon's spot.

Also on display will be most of the Air Force's century series of fighter planes — the F-100, F-101, F-102 and F-104 — plus cargo and rescue aircraft of types operated from Hamilton.

The Air Force Academy's Class of 1962 will be on hand, and will stage a formal retreat parade at 4 p.m. The cadets will be honored at a dance at the Hamilton Officers' Club Friday night.

Present, too, will be about 20 retired Air Force generals and about 120 retired colonels, all of whom live within 50 miles of Hamilton and represent the men who built the Air Force to its present might.

The open house starts at 2 p.m. and lasts until 5:30. Hamilton's 573rd Air Force Band will present a concert at 2:30 in the area of hangar seven.

SPEAKING OF Hamilton Air Force Base, we are advised that the base is recommended by Duncan and Heinz.

A couple of Air Force inspectors, Lt. Malcolm Heinz and Sgt. Lancelot Duncan, travel about Air Force bases without making known their identities, checking all facilities used by transient air crews.

If everything checks out well, the base receives a "Recommended by Duncan and Heinz" award. Hamilton is among 25 bases currently on the recommended list, and is the only Air Defense Command Base on the list, according to base officials.

WE'VE HEARD of horse traders getting kicked by their stock in trade, but never, until last week, did we hear of the same thing happening to a car dealer.

The luckless recipient of the blow was Novato's well-known used car dealer Walt Brown, who was standing at the rear of one of his cars which was being moved out of the lot.

The car apparently zigged when Brown was expecting a zag, and slammed his knee between a bumper and a bumper guard.

Result: A nastily torn set of ligaments, and Brown's starboard leg in a cast for the next month.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Hawaii Is Ready For Statehood And The U.S. Is Ready For Hawaii

There will soon be 50 states in the Union — 100 Senators and one or two more members of the House of Representatives.

It is more than 100 years since President Franklin Pierce suggested that Hawaii be incorporated into the Union.

Now, after 22 formal hearings since 1935, producing 6,400 printed pages of testamony and exhibits, totalling some 3,000,000 words with 900 witnesses being heard in the territory and in Washington, the State of Hawaii is being welcomed with open arms.

For the first time in history the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee unanimously recommended a state for admission and Senate Bill 50 will make Hawaii the 50th state with the notable high of seven Southern Senators joining in approval.

IS HAWAII contiguous? Hawaii doesn't touch the continental U. S. but it is nearer to the main body of the nation than many other states, including California, were when they were first admitted

In travel and in communication Hawaii is closer to Washington, D. C., than Boston and New York were when the Republic was founded.

CAN HAWAII PAY its way? It has a population of 600,000 people — larger than the population of any state at the time of admission, except Oklahoma.

It has a strong economy and for years has paid into the U. S. Treasury more taxes than nine states of the Union.

WHO ARE THE Hawaiian people? At least 90 per cent of them are American citizens.

The population consists of approximately 37 per cent Japanese ancestry, 23 per cent Caucasian, 17 per cent Hawaiian ancestry, 12 per cent Philipino ancestry, and 6 per cent Chinese ancestry.

They have a strong, stable, modern democratic form of government.

ARE THEY LOYAL? The late Sen. Hugh Butler, then chairman of the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, made this report after an on-the-spot study:

"If there is such a thing as a supreme test of loyalty to an ideal, then a willingness to serve in battle in support of that ideal is entitled to such a description."

There were 426 Hawaiian boys killed in the Korean action.

WHAT ABOUT communism? In 1950 the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities estimated that there were 90 known Communists in Hawaii. Later J. Edgar Hoover put it at 36.

There are no Communists in the Hawaiian Legislature and when one sympathizer of Harry Bridges ran for mayor of Honolulu in 1956, he was administered the worst defeat in Hawaiian history.

WHAT OF HAWAIIAN politics? The two-party system prevails. It has been traditionally Republican.

In 1956 Hawaii elected its first Democratic delegate to Congress since 1934 and re-elected him last year. Recently Hawaii has reflected the national voting pattern and since 1954 Democrats have controlled the Hawaiian legislature for the first time.

Hearing Scheduled On May 4 For Freitas Annexation

A proposed 1,090-acre annexation to San Rafael will get a public hearing before the city council on May 4.

Petitions asking for annexation were accepted Monday from property owners of the vast undeveloped land north of San Rafael up to Freitas Parkway. Owners include the Freitas family, which has the 800-acre Freitas Ranch; John Kenny of Alameda Homes; Calvin Wheeler of Alliance Construction Co. and Terra Linda Corp.; Harry Heifetz of Commonwealth Development Co.; the Marin Professional Center across the highway from Terra Linda; several churches, and Ann Curtis Cuneo, who runs a swimming school in the area.

The petitioners have agreed to $75 per unit for every home built on the annexed land, and $375 per acre for all land developed for other than residential use. These fees would be used to pay for non-recurring expenses.

All of the United States output of iodine comes from California where it is produced from wells in Los Angeles and Orange Counties.

Bids Opened For Nick's Cove Work

Carey Brothers Construction Co. of Greenbrae was low bidder yesterday for the job of expanding and improving Miller Park boating facilities at Nick's Cove on Tomales Bay.

The firm, which offered to do the work for $43,287, submitted one of five bids opened by the Marin County Board of Supervisors. High bidder was O. C. Jones and Sons of Berkeley with a figure of $72,319.

All bids were referred to County Auditor Leon A. de Lisle and Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham for study and a recommendation next Tuesday.

The Nick's Cove work will include replacement of the present one-boat launching ramp with a 48-foot ramp capable of handling two boats at a time, installing a breakwater and creating an adequate boat landing area. Also included is development of a parking area to handle 40 cars and trailers.

The state Wildlife Conservation Board last year approved $33,092 for the park improvement project. The county will be required to pay any costs beyond that figure. If Carey Brothers' bid is accepted, the difference will be $10,195.

In approving the project, the state board specified that any future needs for additional parking area must be met by the county. The county also will be required to provide water supply and any needed sanitary facilities.

Other bidders yesterday were G. M. Carr Co., Santa Rosa, $62,200 (plus alternate of $52,755); C and H Contractors, Richmond, $59,969, and M. Amaral Construction Co., Petaluma, $49,409.

In other matters yesterday the board of supervisors:

1. Authorized County Clerk George S. Jones to pay $2.50 an hour to special voter registration deputies, an increase of 50 cents over the old rate.

2. Appointed Paul R. Carey to the board's advisory committee on rapid transit, replacing Thomas D. Hartcastle, resigned.

3. Endorsed a legislative proposal by the California Supervisors Assn. for adding one cent to the state gasoline tax in 1959-60 to raise funds for correction of county and city road deficiencies. Under the plan, cities would receive 60 per cent of the proceeds and counties 40 per cent, with local matching funds required. Supervisor William D. Fusselman voted "no" and Supervisor Vera Schultz was absent.

4. Filed a letter from the Novato Chamber of Commerce and a petition from the Lynwood Park Property Owners Assn. asking that access to Highway 101 be provided from Rowland boulevard in the Novato area. The proposed road would link South Novato boulevard with 101 via Rowland.

5. Reappointed Manuel Fostine to the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District board for a four-year term.

6. Approved a set of amended instructions for county personnel working in the courthouse and courthouse annex in the event of a civil defense emergency.

7. Awarded Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael, a $6,507.11 contract for delivery of two nine-passenger station wagons for use by the county school superintendent's office and one four-door sedan for use by the sheriff's office. Ames submitted the lowest of three bids.

8. Approved payment of $372.30 for overtime of deputies in the adult division of the county probation department during February.

9. Gave preliminary approval to a proposed assessment district for construction of a small road linking Bret Harte Heights with Greenbrae, permitting access to Sir Francis Drake boulevard. The majority of lots to be assessed are situated within San Rafael, while several are in unincorporated territory. The project is estimated to cost $6,500.

10. Appointed the following: Shirley Sime as intermediate account clerk in the auditor-controller's office at $295 per month to fill a vacancy; Delbert Eskue as maintenance man (Grade 2) in public works department at $358 month to fill a vacancy, and Milton Gamboni as heavy equipment operator in public works department at $458 per month to fill a vacancy.

11. Promoted the following: Stanley Fontez from accountant-auditor to senior accountant in auditor-controller's office at $481 per month to fill a vacancy, and Clarence J. Nunes from fire warden (Grade 1) to fire warden (Grade 2) in county fire department at $376 per month, replacing Reno Angiolini, resigned.

Bid Opening Set For Library Work

Bids for the $150,000 expansion and remodeling of San Rafael Library will be opened on May 4, the city council decided Monday night.

Plans and specifications for a new wing behind the library and a new driveway and entrance on the E street side were approved by the city fathers. Architect Gordon A. Phillips drew up the plans.

The new wing and the remodeling is expected to take six months to complete.

Wed Lance? Not Ready, Declares Jill

By BOB THOMAS

Her problem is that she is going steady with Lance Reventlow, the heir to Barbara Hutton's millions. Since he has been a headline figure since birth and she is a promising young actress, their friendship has been much publicized.

"Everyone is trying to marry us off," she wails. "I'm not ready to get married. I did it once when I was 16. and it was a terrible mistake. I married a man of 24 whom I had met on a blind date. I had known him only two months.

THREE YEARS MORE

."I've known Lance three years. I think I might like to know him another three years before I decide about marrying him."

Lance's feelings on this score? She said he has never mentioned marriage.

"Racing is a fine sport—for other people's boy friends," she commented.

SAW FRIEND SPILL

But she has given up following the speedsters after seeing a close friend take a spill in the Grand Prix at Pomona a week ago.

Another problem is not so serious, but just as vexing: How do you buy a gift for the young man who has everything?

Their dates are simple enough. Both like to eat, so they often dine out or cook their own dinners. They often go to the movies or small parties at friends' houses.

The wealth seems to make little impression on Jill. She was reared in comfortable surroundings and is already a moneymaker herself.

Tryouts Tonight, Tomorrow For Mountain Play

Two more auditions have been scheduled for leading roles in the Tamalpais Mountain Play, "The Pied Piper," which will be presented in the outdoor theater atop Mt. Tamalpais on Sunday, May 17.

The first will be held in San Francisco at the California Hall, 625 Polk street, at 7:30 tonight.

The second is scheduled for the Park School auditorium on East Blithedale avenue, Mill Valley, tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Play director Dan Totheroh will conduct the tryouts.

The cast calls for nearly 100 players, of which one quarter are lead and speaking parts. Most of the lesser parts have been filled, including all the children's. Present need is for persons to play the key roles.

Calif. Students Lag Nation, Survey Shows

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Californians had new indications today that their school system does not stand tall nationally.

A legislative advisory commission on the schools made public a troubling report prepared by the state Department of Education.

Department researchers, combing through 1957 state college records, found:

1. The average scores on English grammar and reading tests given freshmen at four colleges were "consistently lower" than the national norms at liberal arts institutions.

SHADE HIGHER

2. The average scores on standard academic aptitude tests for new freshmen at all the colleges were only a shade above the national norm.

3. Newly enrolled freshman women students at San Jose State College were down in the bottom quarter among college-bound high school graduates nationally in mathematics, science and social studies scoring.

4. New freshman men students at San Jose scored lower in math, science and social studies than college-bound high school graduates nationwide.

LOWER SCORES

5. The aptitude test scores of new students out for teaching credentials were "considerably lower" than those of new students with no stated interest in teaching.

Completed last May, the department's survey did not come to light until a session here this weekend of a citizens commission set up by the Legislature to investigate California schools.

Department researchers found that the poor showing of freshmen was compensated —at two state colleges, at least —by the better results on a national scale achieved later by advanced students.

FLATTERING DATA

Department researchers said "the data from this limited testing program . . . are highly flattering to the state colleges."

Less flattering—though unspoken—were the implications for California high schools.

However, freshmen entering three southern state colleges—Long Beach, Los Angeles (an older group generally) and San Diego—scored above the national norm convincingly in academic aptitude tests.

In Northern California, the lowest-scoring freshmen — all below the national middle point —were found enrolled at Chico, Humboldt and San Francisco.

Asst. State Attorney Hits Bias In News

Howard H. Jewel, assistant state attorney general, charges that some newspapers and magazines are "fooling the public with editorial opinions disguised as news."

Jewel voiced the charge in an address to a public gathering Monday night in Novato sponsored by the Novato Forum. He urged that schools teach their students to read critically so they may separate news from editorial opinion.

He also advocated courses in religion for public schools.

Jewel explained to his listeners how they can exert political pressure in Sacramento and Washington by communicating with senators, congressman and representatives in the state Legislature.

Nathan Schafler, temporary chairman of the Forum, announced the group's next meeting will be April 6 at the Novato home of Dr. Paul O'Rourke. A constitution and bylaws are slated for adoption.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Winter Still Reigns

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Winter held the fort against the onrushing spring season today, scattering snow flurries across the Northeast and driving cold air into Dixie.

With spring due officially in three days, overnight readings plunged into the 30s southward into North Carolina and sections of Georgia and Alabama.

Sub zero temperatures were common in the northern Great Lakes region.

Snows yesterday buried St. Patrick's Day greenery under a blanket of white in parts of the Midwest and the East. A surprise snowstorm and high winds battered 130,000 marchers in New York City's St. Patrick's Day parade. But despite the storm, the turnout set a record.

Judy To Sing At Met

NEW YORK (AP)—Judy Garland will star at the Metropolitan Opera House starting May 11 when her musical variety show opens a week's engagement to benefit the Children's Asthma Research Institute at Denver.

A Metropolitan spokesman said he could recall no previous occasion when a singer of popular music starred in a performance at the Met.

After Quints, A Girl

TOULON, France (UPI)—Mrs. Laurence Christofle, 41, who gave birth to quintuplets Oct. 2, 1957, only to see them all die within 16 days, gave birth Monday to a normal, healthy girl.

She remarked despairingly after the last of the five tiny infants died, "My dream was not to be a celebrity but simply to be a mother."

Korea Bans 'Zhivago'

SEOUL (UPI)—The Republic of Korea government said today it has banned the stage production of "Dr. Zhivago," the controversial novel of Nobel prize-winning Russian author Boris Pasternak.

It has been the government's policy to prohibit publication, or stage or movie production of any literary works by persons presently living in Communist countries. Pasternak resides in the suburbs of Moscow.

Djuanda To Visit Russ

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Prime Minister Djuanda has accepted an invitation from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to visit the Soviet Union this summer. The trip is designed to improve friendly relations with the Soviet Union.

Yugo-China Trade Cut

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia and Communist China today signed a new trade pact worth only 40 per cent as much as their 1958 agreement.

The sharp reduction in trade was interpreted here as a Peiping move to put economic pressure on President Tito for following a line independent of the Soviet-led bloc.

Rocks Peril Herbriggen

It was a grim reminder that the million-ton rock slide threatening this Alpine village has not completely stabilized. The rocks fell harmlessly on the village outskirts.

Teen Sex Ring Broken

NEW YORK (AP) — Five girls and five boys, all between 10 and 15, were taken into custody by police last night and accused of taking part in sex orgies in the apartment of an alleged procurer.

Detectives Edward Brady and Edward Hanford said their investigation indicated that as many as 30 children participated in the sex parties over a period of more than a year.

They said the apartment was that of George Diblin, 41, married and the father of two, who was arrested recently and accused of heading a ring of $100-a-night call girls.

Film Couple Recovered

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—Actor Dick Powell and his wife, June Allyson, will be discharged today from St. John's Hospital, according to doctors.

TV To Link Red Cities

VIENNA (AP)—The Soviets are planning a television network linking East Europe's Communist capitals with Moscow.

The Hungarian news agency MTI said work has already started on relay towers 90 feet high to bring Soviet programs to Budapest. This link is to be completed by 1961.

TV relays will also connect Moscow with Warsaw, Prague, and the capitals of Romania and Bulgaria.

Ship To Be Junked

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The Chilean navy's 32,000-ton Almirante Latorre, once the most powerful warship in Latin America, is headed for a Japanese scrapheap.

The British-built battleship, which took part in the World War I Battle of Jutland, was sold for $881,000 to be broken up into scrap metal.

Miscegenation Legal

CARSON CITY (AP)—Inter-racial marriages are now legal in Nevada after a 98-year ban dating back to territorial days.

A bill repealing the old statute was signed yesterday by Gov. Grant Sawyer. The old law was held unconstitutional by Judge Taylor Wines in Reno last December when he granted a marriage license to San Francisco longshore leader Harry Bridges and his Nisei fiancee, Noriko Sawada.

Salling Rites Near

GATE CITY, Va. (AP) — Throngs continue to pour into this little town in final tribute to Civil War veteran John Salling.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow. The body of the 112-year-old general—the title was honorary—has been on public view since yesterday at the National Guard Armory.

Salling died Monday in a Kingsport, Tenn., hospital, leaving another Confederate, Walter Williams, 116, Houston, Tex., as the only surviving veteran of the Civil War.

$5,000 Allowance

The award was made on request of De Mille's daughter, Mrs. Cecelia De Mille Harper, who recently was named guardian of her mother, Mrs. Constance De Mille.

Mrs. Harper is the chief beneficiary in De Mille's will. He died last Jan. 21 at age 77.

SIERRA VETERAN

Mountaineer Finds No Thrill In Rescues

By MARK KNIGHT

SEQUOIA-KINGS CANYON NATIONAL PARKS (AP) — A gentle, elderly man, described as a participant in more rescues in the wild back country of Sequoia-Kings Canyon National Parks than any other person, avows quietly that it probably is true.

Sixty-six-year-old "Skinny" Kirk (only the paymaster knows his first name is Everett) loves the Sierra.

"Why shouldn't I?" he drawled. "A doctor sent me here in 1917 to die. He said I might last six months. I never felt healthier in my life than I do today and that was 42 years ago."

District Ranger Bill Holloman, himself a newcomer of two years in the area, gave a brief history of Skinny, who says little about himself. He became a cattle rancher at Three Rivers, gateway to the southern park entrance. He has ridden all the trails and much of the unmapped thousands of square miles of the parks and the Kern River forest area.

When tragedy strikes in the High Sierra (a term definitely reserved for wilderness above approximately 8,000 feet) the first word from search headquarters is: "Ask Skinny Kirk the best way to get there."

"And you had better take his advice," said Holloman. "The history of searches in the Southern Sierra shows he has seldom if ever been wrong. A few rangers have tried to outguess him, and regretted their temerity.

"Whenever he has been able to get away Skinny has accompanied the search parties. For all practical purposes, even to this day, when he is present he is in charge."

Asked what was the most thrilling rescue he could remember, Skinny reflected quite a while. He decided he couldn't answer directly. He had to put his thoughts in his own words.

"You just don't get thrills out of packing day and night through the rocks and snow of the Sierra, knowing all the time you probably are going to find a body eaten by the animals and the carrion birds," he said.

"Mostly the victims are found dead when we get

'SKINNY' KIRK
He knows the Sierra

there — victims of a country they knew nothing about and never should have ventured into at all, or at best not without a guide. We bring out what is left of them and not much is heard about it.

"There is not much to be said about them. With the ones we find alive it's a good idea, too, not to say too much. Usually they're scared, helpless and hungry. Some are hurt; others are just lost. I'll tell you I've been through a lot of it and I haven't found many real heroes among either the rescuers or the victims. It's a nasty business and most of it isn't necessary.

"Nobody—not even the skilled mountaineer — should go into that country alone unless he has to. I have done it and so have some of my friends, when something needed to be done, but we know if anything goes wrong we may not come out alive.

"With the inexperienced man or woman looking for adventure it's different. Either nobody tells him what he is in for or he doesn't listen. I have seen hundreds of people in that wild country that weren't prepared physically or any other way for what they headed into."

When not in the wilderness Skinny lives a quiet life with his wife, Pansy, who is a mountaineer in her own right. She was born on the Southfork of the Keweah River ranch where they live. They have two daughters, also in the ranch country.

One grandson, Jimmy Grindle, 13, is a frequent companion for Skinny on the back country trails.

"He will be ready to take over when I get too old for the job," Skinny proudly remarked.

Ranching and helping raise his grandchildren on the place at Three Rivers would seem to be enough to keep a man of Skinny's age busy, but it doesn't satisfy him.

"He joins us every time we have a serious forest fire," said Ranger Hollomon. "And he can outwork just about any two youngsters we send with him. The man is tireless."

Elopement Brings 3-Year Probation

Jack Watson Jr., 20-year-old San Rafael laborer who eloped to Reno last November with a 15-year-old Ross girl, was placed on three years probation by Judge Richard M. Sims Monday in Marin Superior Court for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

His mother and step-father, Sarah and Otis Holmes of Tormey, Contra Costa County, are to plead next Monday to charges of contributing to the delinquency of the young bride by helping to get her to Reno. The Reno marriage was subsequently annulled.

Bill Extending DST Passed By Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Assembly by the narrow margin of 42-32 yesterday passed to the Senate a bill extending daylight saving time through October.

Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo), author of the measure, pointed out that if it is adopted by the Senate it would have to be submitted to the people for a vote at the next general election.

At the present time, daylight saving begins on the last Sunday in April and ends on the last Sunday in September.

Francis said if DST were extended for another month it would bring California in line with time schedules in New York, Chicago and most major eastern states.

Principal opposition came from Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Fresno) who said it would work a hardship on the farmers and rural school children.

Storm Drain Planned To Ease Flooding

San Rafael has taken another step to ease winter flooding in the lower Second street area.

The city council Monday decided to open bids on April 6 for an $80,000 storm drain designed to catch the runoff from San Rafael Hill and divert it under Fifth avenue all the way to Irwin Creek under the Highway 101 overpass.

Public Works Supt. Norris Rawles presented plans and specifications calling for an 18-inch pipe starting above C street near the firehouse and running east under Fifth avenue to the creek. The storm drain will get larger as it heads toward the creek until the pipe is 45 inches in diameter when it reaches the creek.

The job is expected to take 90 working days to complete. If a satisfactory bid is received in April, the job should be completed in August.

Waterfront Residents Organize

A crowd of Sausalito residents who make their homes on the waterfront jammed the Old Town Coffee Shop Monday night to make official the formation of the Sausalito Waterfront Protective Assn.

David Lee, 24-year-old sculptor and driver for the Mill Valley Lumber Co., was named permanent chairman. Other officers designated include Mrs. Thaddeus Thomas, secretary; Mrs. Suzanne Gump Harriss, corresponding secretary, and Lawrence Steese, treasurer.

Members were supplied with cards which are to be returned with opinions on what action should be taken to protect the interests of the waterfront dwellers, especially against proposed action by the City of Sausalito against some arks and barges accused of violating city ordinances.

Mill Valleyan Plans Strawberry Float

Dr. I. D. Steinhardt of 301 E. Strawberry drive, Mill Valley, has applied for an Army permit to construct a boat landing in Richardson Bay on the east side of Strawberry Point.

The landing float would be constructed parallel to and four and a half feet shoreward of a dredged canal along the easterly side of Strawberry Point.

Any objections to the proposed work as it would affect the public rights of navigation should be submitted in writing with three copies to Col. John S. Harnett, District Engineer, 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco, by April 15.

Reservist Trains

Navy Reserve Lt. Peggy Korff of 15 Rice lane, Larkspur, last weekend finished training duty at Treasure Island. During the two weeks she helped prepare a reserve training manual for the 12th Naval District. She is a member of the naval Reserve composite division of Kentfield.

You Can Do More For Education Than Eisenhower Or Anyone Else

President Eisenhower wants to improve our schools. Our leaders are bent on improving our schools.

Did you know that you can improve your own children's education tremendously overnight? You can do more for them than the President or the Governor, more than the school board and the school superintendent. It won't cost you a dime, either. Does that sound fantastic?

Here's the way. On the nights your children have homework, turn off your TV set. Don't turn it on until the last child has finished the last assignment. Then be sure to turn it off again in time for them to get to bed at a reasonable hour. That's all you have to do.

I've been checking the effects of TV watching on school work. Children whose watching is unlimited average 20 per cent lower grades than children of the same ability whose TV watching is restricted. They get B's when they should get A's and D's instead of C's.

Our youngsters can't do their homework effectively while watching TV. They'll argue about it. They'll claim they can do both at once. But careful tests prove they can't. Study is study and TV entertainment is TV entertainment. The two don't mix. Many children are allowed to see their favorite programs first. They do their homework afterward. By then they're tired. They don't learn well. They're up too late, and are at a low ebb the next day.

Do you think I exaggerate the effect of unlimited TV watching on children? Then try my suggestion. You'll be surprised.

Marin City Notes Sold To N.Y. Firm

An issue of $752,000 in short-term notes to finance Marin City redevelopment was awarded to Guaranty Trust Co. of New York yesterday by the Marin County Housing Administration.

Guaranty Trust offered to buy the notes at an interest rate of 1.85 per cent plus a premium or discount of $17.

Closest other bidder was Crocker-Anglo National Bank, which offered the same interest at a premium of $10. Other bidders were Bank of America and Bankers Trust Co.

Erwin Farley, deputy executive director of the project, said the notes, which fall due Oct. 9, will finance early stages of the three-and-one-half-million-dollar low-rent housing project. Bonds are to be issued later.

Bill To Protect Incumbents Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to prevent political candidate from masquerading as the incumbent to deceive the voter breezed through the Assembl yesterday by a vote of 73-0.

Assemblyman Don Mulford (R-Berkeley), the author, said, "it is a well recognized political truism that the incumbent has an edge — one which he worked hard to attain."

The bill provides for court injunctions to prevent violations. A clause which would have made the offense a misdemeanor was amended out of the bill.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

THE NICEST LITTLE HOME I HAVE SEEN FOR A LONG TIME
With A Level, Easy To Maintain Yard Enclosed By A White Picket Fence
A charming home in a beautiful setting. It has two bedrooms, lovely living room with fireplace that has a gas jet for easy starting. The bathroom is delightful and has an overhead electric heater with a fan—a wonderful idea. The kitchen has a large dining area, garbage disposer, exhaust fan, and is wired for electric stove. There is wiring and plumbing for laundry equipment in the garage. The doors are weatherstripped. The entire interior has just been professionally decorated. The owners have purchased a larger home and can move on short notice. The price is $16,450 and 10% down may be enough if you can qualify for an FHA loan.

Inflation Is Here To Stay!
THAT IS THE OPINION OF THE NATION'S MOST OUTSTANDING FINANCIAL FORECASTERS! REAL ESTATE IS THEIR PRIMARY CHOICE AS A HEDGE AGAINST INFLATION. This does not primarily apply to so-called "BIG OPERATORS"! THINK! You, too, may have from $10,000 to $20,000 tied up in equity in your property which may be entirely unproductive or not producing enough!

FOR EXAMPLE:
We have listed a property which can be handled for $25,000 IN CASH OR EQUITY Earnings over a proven period have been consistently in excess of $30,000 gross yearly.

ANOTHER of our listings is an older home, IN A CLASS-A RENTAL AND "ADDRESS" LOCATION — Built like the proverbial "Rock of Gibraltar," just waiting for that "smart" someone to come along and convert to 6-7-8-9 or 10 units. This may be handled for as little as $15,000 in cash or equity.

THESE are just 2 examples — We have many others!

TV Hostess To Be Egg Hunt Guest

"Miss Nancy" Besst, hostess of KGO-TV's weekday morning "Romper Room" show (9:30-10 a.m.), will be the special guest at the Pixie Parents' Easter Egg Hunt in Marin tomorrow.

"Miss Nancy" will join with the members of the Pixie Parents organization in presenting the fourth annual pre-school Easter Egg Hunt at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. The program is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

Arrangements are being made for a day of entertainment which will include goat rides, egg-rolling contests, a roving clown and the Easter Egg Hunt.

Proceeds of the hunt will be used for maintaining the playground for pre-school children as well as for other charitable purposes in Marin County.

Hearing Set On Plea For Church

A public hearing on a proposal for an additional church in Marin City has been set for April 6 at 2 p.m. at the Marin County Office Building.

The hearing was set by the county planning commission at the request of Rev. B. C. Pruitt of the Church of God in Christ.

Sausalito Plan

Earl Dunphy and Eric Barnett, co-chairmen of the Sausalito Citizens Advisory Committee, will meet with their subcommittee chairmen tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the city hall with the announced purpose of "stimulating public support for the proposed Sausalito general plan."

LILY PINNED ON 'MAN IN STREET'

Hugh Turner, radio station KTIM's manager and "Man in the Street," got a lily—in fact, a whole bunch of them—placed on his chest yesterday. But Turner was very much alive, out to boost the sale of Easter seals by the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Bethels of Job's Daughters in San Rafael, Kentfield and Larkspur will aid the fund drive by a lily sale on the streets Saturday. Job's Daughter Ruth Smith is pinning the lilies on Turner, with Linda Warren (foreground) and Pat Bogel (rear) watching.

Song Writer Carmichael's Mother Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Mrs. Lida Carmichael, called by her famous composer-son, Hoagy Carmichael, "the little old lady of the ivories," died yesterday. She was 82.

"She was under five feet tall and never weighed more than 90 pounds," he said. "At the turn of the century she used to take me to fraternity dances where she'd play ragtime, two steps and waltzes. I was 3 years old, and 15 years later I played dance music for the same fraternities."

PLAYED AT MOVIES

Carmichael said his mother, a tiny woman who reared four children, played original music accompaniment for the first cowboy-Indian movies shown in 1903 in their home town, Bloomington, Ind. She composed as she played.

"She taught me most of what I learned about piano starting when I was 12 and all by ear," he said. "She could barely read music."

HER FAVORITE

His mother's favorite among Carmichael compositions was not the perennial favorite, "Stardust," but instead a relatively unknown song he wrote many years ago, "One Morning in May."

"I remember that she played 'Maple Leaf Rag' on Tommy Dorsey's radio show in 1939 and stopped the show," he said fondly. "She played 'Cannonball Rag' at my wedding reception in 1936, and George Gershwin who was there liked it so much that he played some of the original score of 'Porgy and Bess.' It hadn't been heard before."

Radio Panel To Debate Move To Recover Tax

"Is the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. acting properly in attempting to recover alleged illegal taxes?" will be debated by a four-member panel at 9 a.m. tomorrow on the KTIM radio program "Marin Sounding Board."

Taking up verbal cudgels in behalf of the taxpayers association will be its president, P. J. Rowland, and one of its directors, Berger Stockfleth.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan and a fourth panelist to be announced will also debate the question, said moderator Kitty Oppenheimer. She said telephoned questions would be welcome during tomorrow's broadcast. The program is repeated by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

'I'VE GOT THE FUTURE'

Eddie Bows Off TV Show; Next Job Is At Las Vegas

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Singer Eddie Fisher, dispossessed of his television show by his sponsor and his life's savings by his former wife, today looked forward to a future of work—and maybe marriage to actress Elizabeth Taylor.

The 30-year-old crooner closed out his regular TV program last night by warbling a medley of the songs that made him one of the country's most popular singers and lifted him from the streets of Philadelphia to the center of one of filmland's most sensational triangles.

"It is the end of something," he said after the program. "I'm a little bit sad and a a little bit relieved. I feel a little bit peculiar.

"But I've got the future to think about."

Fisher lost all his savings to his former wife, actress Debbie Reynolds, 26, last month when he signed a whopping property settlement with her to clear the way for her to get an uncontested divorce, according to his business manager.

But Fisher, whose show last night was his 484th live performance in six years, has a 12-year contract with NBC which could pay him up to seven million dollars if the network can find work for him. His latest sponsor explained he wasn't picking up the option to Fisher's show because it had dropped in ratings.

And he has a five-year contract with the Tropicana Hotel in Las Vegas calling for a million dollars. He starts a four-week engagement at the hostelry April 1, with Miss Taylor expected to take up residence nearby.

Friends say Fisher probably will stay over for an extra two weeks, long enough to get a Nevada divorce, and then marry the sultry actress. (His California divorce won't become final until next February.)

HIGH SCHOOL TO REPEAT 'OKLAHOMA!'

San Rafael High School's production of "Oklahoma!" which played to overflow houses last weekend, will be repeated tomorrow night to meet the demands of many others wishing to attend.

Hugo Rinaldi, head of the music department of the San Rafael schools, and Edward Day, director, announced the added performance will be at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the high school auditorium. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Summer Tour Offered To Marin Pupils

A tour of New England and the eastern seaboard, visits to Williamsburg and Jamestown, a view of the nation's capital, at New York City, Chicago, Detroit and Quebec are part of a 29-day summer tour for Marin High school students between the ages of 14 and 17.

The tours, each one limited to 36 students, have been planned by Redwood Travel Advisors of San Rafael. Tour leaders have been chosen from the staffs of Marin high school to accompany the groups as they travel by train and chartered bus. The first of eight tours will depart June 24. The other seven tours will leave on successive Wednesdays.

The students will have a chance to visit almost 100 colleges and universities, including Harvard University, Notre Dame, Radcliffe and Bryn Mawr colleges and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

An entire day will be spent at the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Mich; another day touring the colonial towns of Williamsburg and Jamestown in Virginia; still another day in Washington, D.C., with a boat trip to Mt. Vernon.

Youths With Chain, Machete Jailed After Drive-In Row

Youths armed with a machete and a length of chain were arrested in Mill Valley last night on suspicion of creating another disturbance at C's Drive-In on Miller avenue.

A third youth, Leroy Straight, 20, of Woodacre, was being sought today for slugging a soldier in the same altercation.

Last night's slugging was the latest in a series of fights and vandalism that have erupted at and near the drive-in.

PAIR JAILED

In jail today were Robert Vernon Treacy, 21, a champion weight lifter who gave his address as 2450 Fifth avenue, San Rafael, and his companion, Robert Hernandez, 18, of 1333 Cambridge avenue, Novato.

Mill Valley police arrested the pair at Enchanted Knolls about 11:30 last night at the request of the sheriff's office. Inside the car, police found a machete, about two and one-half feet long. Officer Dan Terzich said the machete belongs to Treacy, who is a tree cutter.

CONFISCATE CHAIN

Police also confiscated a chain with a handle from Hernandez. They were booked on suspicion of drunkenness. Treacy is also booked on suspicion of having a dangerous weapon—the machete.

Ruble told deputies he and two buddies went in for a cup of coffee about 8 p.m. when several youths in a car began asking them questions. Suddenly, a youth (later identified as Straight), slugged him in the left eye and asked him if he wanted a fight. When his buddies started getting out of their car, they were faced by about six or seven youths, the victim told police.

Drive Starts To Preserve Old St. Hilary's

A campaign to acquire and preserve old St. Hilary's church on the Tiburon Peninsula hillside as an historic monument and museum is the first project of the newly organized Tiburon Landmarks Society, according to Mrs. Robert Bastian, acting chairman.

Plans also call for development of the half-acre church site as a public park.

Officials of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco are interested in having the old church preserved and have authorized Rev. James J. Forristal, pastor of St. Hilary's Parish, to negotiate sale of the property to the local historical group, Mrs. Bastian said. The proposed purchase price was not disclosed.

The society plans to solicit individual contributions and schedule a fund-raising event for sometime this spring.

Las Gallinas Unit Vows To Fight Airport

One hundred members of the Las Gallinas Village Improvement Assn. voted overwhelmingly last night to oppose efforts by Robert de Young to obtain county approval for a private airport on the Smith ranch north of Gallinas Creek in Santa Venetia.

The county board of supervisors in January rejected 3-2, a planning commission recommendation favoring the airport location.

De Young, an employee at the ranch, who would operate the airport, has said he hopes to convince the supervisors that the airport should be installed at the ranch.

3,000-FOOT RUNWAY

Proposed is a 3,000-foot runway, planned for initial use by from 10 to 20 small planes, de Young has indicated.

Opponents have insisted that the project would constitute a hazard to Gallinas Valley residents and tend to lower property values in the area.

EXPAND BOUNDARIES

Members agreed to expand the association's boundaries to open membership to persons residing within the area bounded by North San Pedro road and Meadow and Vendola drives. The new boundary, to be included as an amendment to the bylaws, will open membership to about 300 persons.

Military Fund Bill Clears House Group

The House Armed Services Committee yesterday approved a $1,247,178,000 missile-age construction bill that includes funds for new construction at Hamilton Air Force Base and a Marine Reserve training center in Santa Venetia.

The bill has $1,285,000 earmarked for Hamilton, for purposes which the Air Force has not yet announced.

It contains $490,000 for building a Marine Reserve training center at the future county civic center site, to replace the Tamalpais Center in Kentfield now used by the 14th Rifle Company.

Chairman Carl Vinson of the Armed Services Committee said he hoped to get the bill on the House floor March 25.

NEW MANAGER NAMED

McLaughlin Quits NMWD Position

Jerome B. Gilbert, 28, who has been assistant general manager and chief engineer for the district for 10 months, was named as McLaughlin's successor.

McLaughlin has been on the district staff for nine years, and has been general manager since 1956. He was previously with a San Francisco engineering firm.

In a statement issued by the district after McLaughlin's resignation was accepted, it was noted:

"During the time McLaughlin was with the district its facilities were greatly expanded.

"The storage capacity at Stafford Lake was increased by the construction of a new spillway. Other construction projects undertaken by the district include major pipelines on Olive avenue and in the south Novato area.

"During his term as general manager the district increased its number of customers by more than 50 per cent, while water consumption almost doubled."

McLaughlin is a director of the Bay Area Water Works Assn. He resides at 1120 Court road, Novato, is married and

Ike Signs Bill For Hawaiian Statehood

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today signed "with great satisfaction" a bill to admit Hawaii as the 50th state.

He then cabled Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii advising him of the action, thus clearing the way for a vote by the Hawaiian people themselves on whether to accept statehood.

Their approval—expected to be overwhelming—will clear the way for the island's territory's formal admission sometime this fall. It thus will join Alaska, admitted last year, as the first new states to join the union since 1912.

Hawaii's 40-year battle for statehood was climaxed last week when Congress put its final stamp of approval on the enabling bill.

Eisenhower signed the legislation at 10:21 a.m. in a regular office routine that was devoid of any pomp and ceremony. He acknowledged the importance of the event, however, by using nine different pens to affix the date and his signature,

"It has given me great satisfaction to sign the act providing for admission of Hawaii into the union," Eisenhower said.

Sad St. Pat's Day For Two Greens

Two men named Green were fined in Marin Municipal Court by Judge A. E. Scheidecker yesterday for drunken driving.

Charles Cornelius Green, 47, of 480 Irving court, Mill Valley, was fined $263. He was arrested March 6 on Highway 101.

Convict Put In Isolation For Assault

John Manning, 26-year-old San Quentin prisoner who clubbed a felow inmate last Friday, has been placed in isolation for 29 days by order of the prison's disciplinary committee.

The case was referred to Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich for possible prosecution of Manning on an assault charge. The prisoner's scheduled appearance before the Adult Authority next month for parole consideration was put off until September.

Victi of the assult was Johnnie Norwood, 23, of Los Angeles, who suffered head wounds and multiple bruises when hit with a 2-by-4 board in a battle that broke out shortly after the lunch hour. Norwood is expected to be released from the prison hospital tomorrow. He is serving five years to life for robbery.

Manning, also from Los Angeles, is serving three to life on a rape conviction.

Fairfax School Board Rules Out Tax Hike

Superintendent Told To Seek Means Of Paring Expenses

Trustees of the Fairfax School District last night rejected any idea of asking for a tax rate increase for 1959-60.

A 25-cent increase in the $1.25 tax rate per $100 assessed valuation was suggested by Supt. Harold R. DePue as one way to bridge the gap between next year's estimated income and expenditure.

If Fairfax School District gets the same state apportionments in 1959-60 as this year, its income will be approximately $281,000.

SALARY INCREASE

Its expenditures will total about $335,000 if all its present services are maintained and if its teachers are granted a 10 per cent salary increase (an increase of $24,000 over this year).

The four trustees at last night's meeting (Trustee Jack Uhte was absent) told Superintendent DePue to consider three other money-saving possibilities when next year's budget is drawn up:

1. Eliminate school bus transportation and save about $2,000.

2. Increase average class size from 29 to 33 pupils and eliminate three teachers, thus saving $18,000.

NO PAY HIKES

3. Grant no pay increases to teachers.

The big question mark is the size of state apportionments for 1959-60, said DePue. This will not be known until the state Legislature recesses in mid-June, although the trustees will be presented with a preliminary budget next month.

The formula for state apportionments is based partly on the number of pupils and partly on the "wealth" of a school district. This year Fairfax received $182 per child; San Anselmo School District received $173 per child, and Kentfield, $152 per child.

In other business last night, the Fairfax trustees:

1. Voted to pay $500 for one teacher's salary for the June 24 to July 24 summer session to be held at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo, as Fairfax's share of last summer's $2,400 deficit.

SCHOOL YEAR

2. Approved a 180-day school year for 1959-60 from Sept. 10 to June 16.

3. Went on record in favor of Assembly Bill 1000 to increase state apportionments to all school districts and Senate Bill 750 which provides survivorship benefits to state teachers retirement system at no additional cost to district or teacher.

The trustees opposed passage of AB 807, which would provide tenure after three years for teachers in districts with 250 to 850 pupils.

Incorporation Foes Ask County Probe

Charges of "apparent fraud, secrecy and misrepresentations" in proceedings toward incorporation of Novato were leveled yesterday by seven Novato property owners in a petition to the board of supervisors and county boundary commission.

The petition asks the supervisors to request an investigation of the incorporation campaign by the district attorney and the county grand jury.

BRINDEL ASSISTS

Taking part in filing the petition with the county clerk yesterday and in serving copies on members of the boundary commission was Paul Brindel, a leading opponent of the incorporation proposal. Brindel, however, did not sign the petition, presumably because his property is not included within the currently proposed city boundaries.

The petition includes these charges:

1. That the "so-called Home Rule Committee" which has drafted the incorporation proposal "consists of less than 20 individuals, some not property owners within the proposed boundaries and therefore not qualified by law to participate in any incorporation proceedings."

PUBLIC EXCLUDED

2. That the committee "arbitrarily and capriciously prepared the aforesaid map (showing proposed city limits) at private meetings from which the general public was excluded."

3. That North Marin Supervisor William A. Gnoss took part in "secret deliberations" and that his participation was "improper inasmuch as he is a party at interest, being the owner of a large amount of real property" within the proposed boundaries.

4. "That the general public and property owners of Novato have been given no opportunity to meet with and question one William Zion, operating under a fictitious name, who is the alleged author of a report and survey which confuses and misrepresents the facts and issues pertaining to the proposed City of Novato."

CHAMBER VOTE

5. "That only 68 out of a total membership of 170 in the Novato Chamber of Commerce voted in favor of the proposed incorporation scheme . . . thus showing that the preponderance of public opinion is adverse to this proposal."

In addition to asking for an investigation by the district attorney and grand jury, the petition asks the supervisors to hold a public hearing in Novato on proposed city boundaries, and that Gnoss disqualify himself from participation in any proceedings of the board of supervisors in connection with the incorporation proposal.

Board Chairman Walter R. Castro said today he will give the petitioners time on the supervisors' agenda next Tuesday afternoon to present the petition.

HAMILTON OPENS GATE TO PUBLIC TOMORROW

Hamilton Air Force Base will be open to the public during an open house from 2 to 5:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Included in displays will be jet fighter planes, cargo and rescue aircraft of types in use at the base.

The Hamilton band will give a concert at 2:30 p.m., the Air Force precision flying team, the Thunderbirds, will stage a 27-minute demonstration of close-order high speed flying over the field, starting at 4:45.

A number of retired high ranking Air Force officers will be on hand for the occasion, as will about 400 of its future officers—the class of 1962 from the Air Force Academy, which will parade at 4 p.m.

Terra Linda Given Recreation Plan

A plan for establishment of a recreation district in the Terra Linda area, including much of the 1,090 uninhabited acres sought for annexation to San Rafael, was laid before the Terra Linda Community Services District board last night.

The proposal was made by Donald G. Black, the district's parks and recreation commissioner, at a meeting that ran until 1:40 a.m.

Specifically, Black asked the board to endorse the circulation of petitions for creation of a recreation district.

Deciding the matter needed careful study, directors tabled the request until their next meeting April 7.

Black's proposal calls for a recreation district encompassing the entire area of the service district, plus Terra Linda Oaks Unit 9 and much of the open land lying between Terra Linda and the northern city limits of San Rafael.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday instructed the county boundary commission to prepare a legal description of recreation district boundaries proposed by Black.

The commissioner last night stressed the disadvantages of providing recreational facilities only within service district boundaries. Inevitably, he said, such facilities would be used by valley residents living outside the service district. He contended this would generate friction because the "outsiders" would not be paying any taxes to the Terra Linda district.

Black said the area he proposes for a recreation district is a "geographic entity" and will remain so even if the now uninhabited territory is annexed to San Rafael.

A recreation district, said Black, appears to be the only type of legal entity which could cross political boundaries, since neither San Rafael nor the service district alone could serve the entire area recreation-wise.

Black said he believes it would be to the advantage of owners of the uninhabited land to bring much of their property into a recreation district. He noted that a large portion of this territory is to be developed residentially and claimed its inclusion in such a district would tend to raise property values.

Marin Driver Injured In Fatal Crash

Berkeley police said Young, of 10 Girard avenue, Sausalito, has been living at a boarding house at 1334 Spruce street, Berkeley.

The car smashed into a tree at Euclid avenue near Oak street. Young was admitted to Cowell Hospital with a possible concussion, police said.

Kendall, who resided at a campus dormitory, was identified by Berkeley police as the youth arrested last month for illegally warning motorists against a radar speed trap.

Marin Couple Has Ticket In Sweeps

Another Marin County Irish Sweepstakes ticket turned up today. Mr. and Mrs. Colin Menzies of 417 Magee avenue, Mill Valley, disclosed that they hold a ticket on Pintail, a 50-1 shot.

Menzies has been a maintenance man with the Mill Valley School District for 16 years. Mrs. Menzie is with Mayer's Men's Store in Mill Valley.

CHP Takes Kids To 3 Schools

The California Highway Patrol was called on this morning to transport Tamalpais Valley children to Tamalpais Valley, Edna Maguire and Marin Terrace Schools after two bus drivers refused to try to negotiate a torn-up grade left slick by a drizzle of rain.

Tamalpais Valley Fire Chief Herbert Owen said road work yesterday on Marin drive had left dirt on the pavement which turned to mud. He complimented bus drivers Alfred Bedecarrax and Henry Brum for their decision not to risk children's lives by attempting the slippery grade with the school buses.

HE'S SARDINE IN FRANCE, ENIDRAS IN U.S.

Enidras, a chef at a prep school here, was born Roger Sardine in Diette, France. He became a U.S. citizen in 1938. Since sardine is a word often taken lightly here, Roger turned it around and named himself Enidras.

Now he's planning a trip back to France. He asked the judge to allow him to reverse his name to Sardine, so the home folks will remember him.

Hundreds Marvel At Exhibits Of Young Marin Scientists

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Troubled with colds and sore throat? Jean Gustafson, another Tam high senior, has found experimentally which mouth wash and throat lozenget most effectively inhibit bacteria growth.

Confused by conflicting claims of soap and detergent makers? Kenneth Schultz, Tam high junior, and Sara Eleanor Hughes, eighth grader at Pacheco School in Raphael Village, have some findings that should interest you.

Spring, Jean, Kenneth and Sara Eleanor are but four of nearly 200 students in Marin high schools and seventh and eighth grades who produced 127 exhibits on display at the Marin Science Fair in Wood Hall of Tamalpais High School.

Hundreds crowded through the hall last night to marvel at the amazing variety of exhibits by the young scientists. The show will be open to the public for the last time from 7 to 9 o'clock tonight.

The experiments range from a simple demonstration of transmission of electricity by Michael Slattery, Marin Catholic High School freshman, to an exceedingly complicated electronic setup—with a mass of purchased units—built by Jan Katz of Redwood High School to show the comparative power requirements of transistors and vacuum tubes.

Christine Marshall, 12-year-old seventh grader at Reed School in Tiburon, reached into the past for her exhibit. She built a fascinating replica of the French cinematographe of the 19th Century, long-ago forerunner of today's wide-screen talking picture.

Nora Nininger of Larkspur, Redwood High School freshman and sister of Neil Nininger, a Westinghouse Science Award winner last year, reached into a field explored by Albert Einstein to prepare a display on the question, "Is time the fourth dimension?"

Satellites captured the interest of two exhibitors. John Younger, eighth grader at Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School, produced models of Sputnik and Jupiter. Lynn Watson and Carol Kokjer, 12-year-old Reed School seventh graders, made a model and diagram of a weather satellite.

The control of smog engaged the attention of William Gowen, a 12-year-old seventh grader at Edna Maguire School. His solution, shown by a model, is a smokestack which has a postively charged electrode running up the center and negatively charged sides. His theory: Particles in smoke will become electrically charged and adhere to the sides of the smokestack, resulting in "clean" smoke.

Three young scientists made complete models of factory machinery from such materials as tin cans and cardboard tubes out of toilet tissue rolls. George Stoll, Edna Maguire School eighth grader, chose a cement factory for his model. Stewart Hindley, 16, and James Wall, 15, sophomores at Tam High, modeled refineries of cane and beet sugar.

Just the titles of some of the other exhibits suggest the wide range of inquiring young scientific minds: "Are you really clean?" "How starfish eat." "What is color?" "What is Maxwell's demon?" "Building blocks of the future."

You have to see for yourself.

Two Events Set For Teen-Agers

Larkspur and Corte Madera teen-agers will dance and romp in the snow this weekend in events sponsored by the Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation Commission.

The "Spring Hop" dance will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday at Neil Cummins School.

Wingless Aircraft Predicted By 1970s

PALO ALTO (AP)—Stanley Hiller Jr., president of the Hiller Aircraft Corp., predicts wings on airplanes are on the way out. By the 1970s, airplanes will take off vertically without using fixed wings, he said.

Hiller's comments were made in connection with the company's annual report, issued yesterday, which showed net income for 1958 totaled $327,125, equal to 80 cents a share, compared with $374,151 or 61 cents a share in 1957.

4 Children Die In Fire

Their mother, hands and face badly charred, saved three other children and drove them in a pickup truck to a neighbor's house for help. The survivors were taken to a hospital in nearby Olean.

The dead were identified as Barbara Hecker, 14; her brother William, 10, and two sisters, Holly, 13, and Joan, 3.

Mrs. William Hecker and a daughter, Christine, 9, were reported in critical condition. The other two, Jacqueline, 12, and Loretta, six months, were in fair condition.

Hospital Seccession Hearing Set Tonight

Supporters of the move to withdraw Novato from the Marin County Hospital District are expected to be on hand in large numbers tonight at an 8 o'clock public hearing at Hill School in Novato.

The hearing was set by the Marin hospital district directors to hear citizens' comments on the proposed secession.

The directors have the option of granting the withdrawal tonight or of setting the date for an election to decide the issue.

A petition with more than 500 signatures was presented to the board in October, but legal technicalities have held up action.

S. Ames (Bud) Pence, Marin General Hospital administrator, said that if the board determines the move is in the best interests of the district and the area to be withdrawn, it may grant the separation tonight.

He said if the board cannot find this, it must set the date for an election in the Novato area. A majority vote then would be enough to authorize the secession.

A group of local physicians hope to construct a hospital in Novato if the area is taken from the hospital district.

Highway Reopens At Lake Tahoe

LAKE TAHOE (AP) — State Highway 89 on the west shore of this mountain lake was reopened to traffic yesterday.

The state Division of Highways reported the reopening is a month or more earlier than usual because of relatively light snows. Snow and slides close it each year.

The route skirts the steep shores of Emerald Bay. A controversy has developed over whether the bay's mouth should be bridged, or the shore tunneled to provide an all-weather highway.

I-J Again Offers Reading Bargains

The Independent-Journal's fifth annual magazine-newspaper subscription combination campaign was announced today by Julian C. Leone, circulation manager.

Subscription to 40 magazines will be offered at special combination rates with Independent-Journal subscriptions. Subscribers can choose two, three or four magazines to be delivered by mail, making payments along with their regular monthly I-J subscription payments.

H. E. Abshagen, known to newspaper boys as "Uncle Hank," who originated the combination sales program, is explaining its workings to I-J carrier-dealers in a series of meetings this week.

The boys, while selling the combination offer, will be competing for prizes including cameras, radios, electric clocks, hi-fi sets, baseball equipment and Disneyland trips via Western Airlines, said Leone. The contest will end May 2.

Reed School Board Eyes Budget; It's $36,000 Over Likely Income

Reed Union School District trustees last night took a first look at a proposed 1959-60 budget of $509,666, which is $36,000 over the potential income at the current tax rate of $2.10 and $92,468 over the 1958-59 budget.

Lloyd R. O'Connor, administrative assistant to the superintendent, prepared the figures and gave the estimate of excess over tax receipts.

The trustees settled down to a systematic review of the proposed expenditures submitted by Supt. Paul R. Stouffer and came up with several decisions to help in "preparation of a balanced budget" after a declaration by trustee Richard J. MacLaury that "I hate to see us ask for the maximum $2.25 tax rate."

They decided:

1. Against hiring a vice principal for Bel Aire School, but left up in the air a proposal by Stouffer that accredited housewives be employed in supervisorial duties to relieve teachers of schoolground supervision at a yearly cost of about $1,800.

2. Tabled the request for teacher salary increases of $200 per year each.

3. Tentatively approved employment of a librarian for the district and an outlay of $3,000 for books and library supplies.

4. Tentatively approved a vice principal at Reed School to also direct Belvedere and Tiburon Schools.

5. Tentatively approved selling $20,000 of bonds to pay for the Reed School sewer assessment.

6. Approved a teacher recruitment budget of $500 minimum, and an in-service teacher training program.

7. Approved retention of an extra half-day teacher for seventh and eighth grades at Reed School, who spends the other half day on speech therapy in the district.

The trustees also voted to request the state to increase its allocation for the Bel Aire School addition from $358,795 to $384,000 under a new state allocation formula. Plumbing and heating items totaling $1,700 were eliminated from the contract to meet state requirements.

Planners To Decide On Marinwood Center

The Marin County Planning Commission will attempt to decide on April 20 whether to permit Gerald P. Hoytt to go ahead with a major shopping center in Marinwood — or whether to heed the plea of a group of residents for a "moratorium" on all development until final adoption of a master recreation plan.

Hoytt, original Marinwood developer, Monday night presented to the planners his proposed design for a shopping center in the now-storeless community. Donald Fry, vice president of Marinwood Assn., countered with a report prepared by Miller, Severin and Kite, San Rafael architect firm, outlining needs for recreation. The two conflicted.

"The people will learn that we have set aside land over and above our requirements," he said. "I think they will find there are areas very much usable for recreation."

But the report by the architectural firm held: "It is a fact that there are very few acres which remain open for possible change in designation . . . Hoytt Enterprises has pretty thoroughly saturated the various neighborhoods with residences."

The report prepared for the home owner group proposed that a site set up earlier by Hoytt for a neighborhood shopping center at Lucas Valley and Miller Creek roads be used, instead, for a community center — church, fire station, community building, picnic area, playground. Another recreational site is proposed at Miller Creek road and Las Gallinas avenue.

Fry also claimed an area proposed by Hoytt for apartments, adjacent to Hoytt's proposed 19-acre shopping center at Miller Creek road and an extension of Marinwood avenue, might better be used for recreation.

Hoytt proposes a shopping center patterned closely after that he has planned for Novato. A supermarket and two service stations would be the first units.

Fry suggested that no further Marinwood development be allowed until a master plan setting aside recreational areas has been adopted.

I-J OUTSELLS 3 S. F. PAPERS COMBINED HERE

New audit circulation figures just published give the Independent-Journal more paid readers in Marin County than three San Francisco newspapers combined.

For the 12 months ended last Sept. 30—the latest period for which audited figures are available—the Independent-Journal was credited with an average of 24,441 paid readers daily. Weekday averages for San Francisco newspaper circulation in Marin were 11,623 for the Chronicle, 9,582 for the Examiner, 4,829 for the Call-Bulletin and 2,090 for the News.

The combined Marin circulation of the Chronicle, Examiner and News totaled 23,295, topped by the I-J's 24,441.

Sunday Chronicle sales in Marin averaged 15,360. Sunday Examiner sales were 17,727.

The new figures are contained in reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, just published. ABC audited figures credit the I-J with a gain of 1,741 paid subscribers in the one-year period ended last Sept. 30.

Ex-Film Star Calls Husband's Suit A 'Smear'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Frances Farmer, former film star, said through a spokesman yesterday that her agent-husband's suit for $250,000 in fees is a smear.

Miss Farmer, who does a film commentary on an Indianapolis television show, said she and her husband; Leland Mikesell, 51, have separated and she plans to file suit for divorce.

Mikesell said in his suit that the actress signed a contract in 1957, before they were married, to pay him half her salary. He estimated her present earnings at $10,000 a year but said she may earn $500,000 in the next two years.

Thieves Take $100,000 In Gems, Jade

The 33-year-old Aref, brought here by the late Cecil B. DeMille, said the valuables taken include four watches worth between $800 and $15,000.

Also included in the loot was a $10,000 decoration from the late Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia and a gem-encrusted ring bearing the face of an Arab shiek valued at $10,000.

Aref, who said his father was once commander of the royal bodyguard of King Fouad, father of the expelled King Farouk, told police he discovered the theft yesterday after spending the previous night away from home.

The Rio Grande below Falcon Dam in Texas is used so extensively for irrigation in its last 150 miles that little if any of its water reaches the Gulf of Mexico.

Marin Housing Firm Sued For Legal Fees

Alliance Military Housing Corp. of Marin is being sued for $48,513 in legal fees which a Washington, D. C., attorney claims is owing to him for work in the sale of La Mesa Village in Monterey County.

Attorney Minor Hudson of Washington, D. C., filed the suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday through San Francisco attorney Dan L. Garrett Jr. According to Hudson, the Marin corporation, whose principals are Calvin C. B. Wheeler of San Rafael and John Boswell of Sacramento, owned La Mesa Village, a Wherry Act housing project. During the past two years, Hudson says he handled the sale of the village to the Navy for $700,000, whereas the Navy had offered to buy it for $360,000.

Hudson seeks to collect $48,513, which he feels is the fair value of his legal services.

Greyhound To Augment School Buses

Reed Union School District trustees last night found a solution to the bus transportation problem, which has been troubling them since school started last September.

On April 8, a Greyhound bus will augment the three school buses now in service, transporting a maximum of 51 children for $19.50 per day. The contract calls for "reasonable use" of the bus from 8:20 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

"We can't run a bus on $19.50 per day," Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said.

Trustees will consider using Greyhound entirely for bus service in the 1959-60 school year to eliminate the proposed expenditure of $14,000 for a fourth district bus. Stouffer estimated total cost of bus rental would be about $10,000 a year.

Hub Police Probe Report Studied

The transcript of a secret hearing into the workings of the San Anselmo Police Department held by a three-member committee of the San Anselmo City Council was being read today by Police Chief Donald A. Wood and City Manager Arthur W. Brewer.

The thick typewritten document arrived Monday evening, said Brewer. The full five-member council ordered the transcript turned over to the police chief and city manager on March 3 after a great hue and cry over the way the investigation had been conducted.

Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., who was chairman of the committee, resigned. The other two members were William Franchini and Carleton G. E. Little.

Woman Hurt By Car In San Rafael

Mrs. Sophie Phillips, 55, of 1114 Court street, San Rafael, was in San Rafael General Hospital today recovering from injuries suffered yesterday when she was hit by a car.

She suffered contusions of the left leg. Hospital officials reported her condition is good, and she would be released soon.

San Rafael police cited the driver for violating the pedestrian right of way at Fourth and H streets about 1:20 p.m. yesterday. Mrs. Fern Gaspard, 75, of 10 Center street, was making a left turn from H street to Fourth. Mrs. Phillips was walking north across Fourth street at the time.

Bolinas Trustees Approve Agreement With Stinson

Trustees of the Bolinas School District last night formally approved creation of an inter-district agreement with the Stinson Beach district covering such items as bus operation and classroom schedules.

The agreement was previously approved by the Stinson Beach board. Details of the operation are to be worked out.

Trustees also formally approved inclusion of Bolinas in a proposed study of a possible unified West Marin school district. The same proposal was previously approved by Stinson Beach trustees.

Board Clerk Gene W. McDaniel announced he would not be a candidate to succeed himself on the board. He is completing six years as a member. He is also on the Bolinas Harbor District board and a member of the county harbor committee.

Candidates who have already filed for the post include Mrs. Mildred E. Haraldsen, a former trustee, and Ben Roark, affiliated with the Tevis ranch.

Arthur E. Carpenter will run for the post to which he was appointed last year, filling out the unexpired term of James Dougan, who resigned.

The Remarkable Story of Wide-Track Wheel Design

How It Started • How It Works
What This Highly Successful
Pontiac Achievement Means to You

It all started, as most innovations do, with a problem to be solved.

The problem was that when you turned a corner or rounded a curve your car swayed and everybody aboard leaned with the force of the turn.

Over the past few years car body widths have been increased to give you more passenger room and comfort. But widths between the wheels have not increased proportionately. This between-wheel width is called the "track".

THE SOLUTION

The answer was simply to widen the track to match the body. We moved the wheels five inches farther apart. This widened the stance, but not the car. This was the birth of Wide-Track Wheel design.

You use the same principle and feel a similar effect when you stand erect with your feet spread wide apart. You're braced and steady.

LEAN AND SWAY REDUCED

Our first road tests showed how significantly we had reduced lean and sway. The car held to the turns and hugged the curves as had no other car we had ever driven, except for sport cars, which of course are not designed primarily for passenger comfort.

This greater stability gave the driver a noticeably improved feeling of security, control and confidence. All passengers, back and front, rode with less fatigue, more comfort.

IMMEDIATE PUBLIC ACCEPTANCE

It usually takes car owners a little time and many miles to be convinced of the merits of many automobile engineering improvements. That's because some improvements are far removed from the car owner's everyday driving experience.

Not so with Wide-Track Wheels. There was an immediate understanding of what we had done and a fast and favorable response to its advantages.

From the first week our dealers began demonstrating the 1959 Pontiac, we knew Wide-Track Wheel design was every bit the accomplishment we had hoped for. People who drove the car told us it was the finest, easiest handling automobile they'd ever been in.

WHO'S BUYING ALL THE NEW PONTIACS?

Pontiac sales, we are happy to report, have confirmed public opinion. This car has apparently captured the imagination of tasteful people who were looking for clean, uncluttered styling. People attracted by the quality of workmanship and attention to detail we give every single Pontiac we build. And, of course, people quick to grasp the remarkable story of Wide-Track Wheel design.

YOUR NEW PONTIAC

Investing in a brand-spanking new automobile, fresh, sweet-smelling and totally different is a wonderful thing to happen to a family in the spring. Wouldn't it do your morale good to become the owner of a gorgeous new Wide-Track Pontiac within the next few weeks?

We are confident it is an automobile in which you will take great pride and from which you will reap much personal satisfaction and enjoyment.

Party Fight Shapes Up Over Death Penalty

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A battle between Republicans and Democrats over California's death penalty flared up today in the Legislature.

The Republican caucus voted overwhelmingly yesterday to make a partisan issue of it and attempt to keep the death penalty.

The Democratic caucus "talked about it but decided not to take a vote," a spokesman said, adding "there were too many opinions on both sides."

The bill, AB221 by Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan (D-Los Angeles), would outlaw the death penalty for any crime and result in commuting the sentences of 25 prisoners now on San Quentin Prison's Death Row.

Approved by the Assembly Crime Committee Monday night, the measure will be on the calendar for Assembly passage tomorrow, but McMillan said he would not take it up until next week.

Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl (R-Oakland), chairman of the GOP caucus, said he counted 30 of the 33 lower house Republicans at the caucus and all but "one or two" of them voted to keep the death penalty.

"We thought it was time for us to take a position on this matter," Dahl said. "We felt we should stand up and be counted for the protection of our families as well as the public."

Although Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown has said he will sign a bill abolishing the death penalty if it is sent to him, the fight against abolition has been led to this point by a strong Brown supporter, Assemblyman Thomas J. MacBride (D-Sacramento).

MacBride battled against a similar measure in the 1957 session but the lower house passed it to the Senate, where it was stopped. MacBride also tried to amend it to keep the death penalty for certain kidnapers, two-time murderers and prisoners who attack guards.

He said he would not try to amend the death penalty abolition bill this session because he thought he had the votes to kill it cold on the Assembly floor.

In the committee action on the bill, five Democrats and one Republican voted to ban the death penalty and two Republicans voted to keep it.

Solon Gypped Of $6.60 Hits Back

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D-Richmond) has struck back at a merchant who gyped him out of $6.60 worth of trading stamps.

The Assembly Governmental Efficiency Committee yesterday approved a bill authored by Masterson which would require stores which give trading stamps on any items to give them on all items.

Masterson told the committee that he purchased a television set from a local merchant who advertised that he gave trading stamps.

But, the lawmaker said, the store told him—after taking his money—that it did not give trading stamps on TV sets and radios.

"Those stamps would have been worth $6.60," Masterson compained.

Masterson said a store which refused to give trading stamps was "taking money away from a person just as if it short-changed him."

"I am sure that individual members of this committee would take up a collection to refund the $6.60 if you would drop this bill."

Stiff Crackdown Set On Reckless Drivers

SACRAMENTO (AP)—"No leniency, no second chance" for reckless drivers, Motor Vehicles Director Robert I. McCarthy warned today in announcing a new campaign to suspend their licenses.

Four moving violations in a year will mean almost automatic suspension of a driver's license for 10 days, he said.

About 1,000 drivers already are being called to appear at department hearings for repeated moving violations, McCarthy said.

Previously, there has been no hard and fast rule for the department to suspend licenses for such offenders.

However, the director said that from now on, the limit is four or more convictions within 12 months for the average driver and five or more for professional drivers, such as truckers and bus drivers.

The penalty for the professionals will generally be only five days, McCarthy said, because it costs them their livelihood rather than being merely inconvenience.

The offenders are called in to appear before state driver improvement analysts who review their records.

"In most instances a minimum suspension of 5 to 10 days will be recommended," McCarthy said in a directive to the department staff.

Caribbean Study

NEW YORK (UPI) — Senate Democratic whip Mike Mansfield (Mont.) proposed last night that the Organization of American States be called into session to examine the Caribbean situation.

He said he felt the hemisphere may be faced with prospect of little wars in that region growing out of an intermingling of dictatorships and revolution.

U.S. Draws Up Tentative Peace Pact With Reich

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has prepared a tentative draft of a German peace treaty for possible use in a foreign ministers meeting with the Soviet Union.

By contrast with the Soviet peace treaty proposal of several weeks ago, the U.S. provisions would leave the way open for a sovereign all-German government to forge whatever links it wished with neighboring nations and other countries of the world.

The U.S. document — some officials say it is more a statement of principles than a tentative treaty draft—has been proposed to Britain, France and West Germany for discussion.

The Western European allies were reported today to be cool to the idea of carrying forward plans for a German peace treaty at this time. They apparently feel the more urgent problems are those involved in reunifying Germany.

But U.S. officials emphasize that the Soviet government obviously intends to raise the question of a peace treaty at a foreign ministers meeting, and they want the Western powers to be ready to meet it in some way. It is felt here that when the occasion arises the Allies should be ready to tell the Soviets and the world the kind of peace which they would make with an all-German government.

Present Western planning is based on the idea that the essential first step in solving the problems of Germany is some move toward reuniting the divided country and creating an all-German government.

To this end Western policy planners now meeting in Paris are talking about proposing to the Soviets the creation of a federation to bring East and West Germany under a single political roof.

The highly tentative U.S. draft is understood to be based on the principle that when a peace treaty finally is signed, Germany should be given full control over its own affairs and should be free to choose its own course in international relations.

U.S. and other Western leaders believe that an all-German government which accurately reflected the wishes of the majority of the German people would choose to maintain very close ties with the Western nations and to exercise the right of German membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Soviets have long protested NATO membership for West Germany.

Sausalito Fire Chief's Ultimatum: 3rd Man Or Ambulance Won't Roll

Sausalito Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry delivered an ultimatum to his city council last night: "Either I get an additional man in the department, or I don't let the ambulance go out when there are only two men on duty."

The City of Sausalito has its own ambulance, operated by the fire department.

Perry agreed to maintain the present arrangement, which has only two men on duty at some times, until July 1. "But after that, the responsibility is in your laps," he warned the councilmen.

The fire chief's suprise statement came at the conclusion of a report to the council from City Manager Donald A. Duerr, making suggestions for correction of deficiencies in the city's water distribution system for fire protection.

Perry said many of the mains were too small and corroded to supply the fire pumps adequately.

Duerr reported the Marin Municipal Water District is working out a capital inprovements program with cities in the district to cover the problem. He said a matching fund formula is involved. He was authorized to discuss with the water district steps required to correct storage and distribution deficiencies.

The council also authorized immediate expenditure of $1,500 in budgeted funds to provide three hydrants on a 12-inch main on Bridgeway.

Terra Linda Directors Cut Selves Off Payroll

Meeting in Bernard Hoffman School, the board members rescinded an October resolution which authorized directors' salaries of $10 per meeting.

The rescinding resolution said financial needs of the district "are of such importance as to take precedence over any compensation to directors."

It also noted that appointment of commissioners to handle many administrative functions has reduced the directors' work load. The board adopted the commissioner system some months ago after deciding directors should restrict themselves to legislative duties as much as possible.

In other matters last night the district board:

2. Set the district's first 1959-60 preliminary budget hearing for April 21.

3. Authorized Fire Commissioner Elmer Johnson to confer with Dixie School District officials about installing another fire hydrant in the vicinity of the Hoffman School addition, now under construction.

McElroy Warns On 'Probes' By Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy warned today that the free world must be prepared to resist "one probing action after another" by Russia or Communist China.

In testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, McElroy strongly supported the Eisenhower administration's request for authority to spend $3,930,000,000 on foreign aid in the 12 months beginning July 1.

He said: "If the free world can not stand up firmly to these probes when they are initiated, we may well be faced with a major conflict as the Communists, pressing ahead with their win-by-threat policy, make it imperative that at some point we meet the issue squarely."

McElroy said it would be "short-sighted indeed" if this country spent more than 40 billion dollars for its own armed forces but declined to spend "the much smaller sums needed to maintain and modernize the forces of our allies which are essential to our whole defense concept."

The defense chief conceded that there have been some inefficiencies in the mutual security program.

"However, I think it would be a critical mistake to curtail the program because of isolated instances of waste and inefficiency, representing a small percentage of the total," he said.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of staff, declared that he did not regard military aid as "a vast boondoggle."

"This label is a direct slap at our allies and to our own country and a source of comfort to our adversaries," he said.

Defector Tells Of High Living By Russ Chiefs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities says a top Soviet secret service agent who defected five years ago gave the West an intimate view of Kremlin leaders and their private lives.

The defector was identified as Petr Sergeyeviv Deriabin, one-time No. 3 man in the Okhrana, the ultra hush-hush secret police responsible for guarding Soviet leaders.

Deriabin is reported living somewhere in the United States. But the committee won't say where because of the danger of possible retaliation by Soviet agents.

MADE PUBLIC

The committee also wouldn't divulge when Deriabin testified. Committee Chairman Francis F. Walter (D-Pa.) said only he and staff director Richard Arens were present during the testimony, which was made public Monday.

Walter described Deriabin as the highest-ranking Soviet oficial ever to defect to the West.

State Department sources said the defector asked for and was granted political asylum in the United States after crossing the Iron Curtain into Austria in February, 1954.

LIVED WELL

Deriabin testified that the late Josef Stalin and current Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as well as other top Soviet leaders lived better than American millionaires.

Deriabin said one Soviet official, Popov, who was secretary of the Comunist Party's Moscow committee, threw ribald parties two or three times a week.

The former Soviet agent also:

1. Named Red agents who accompanied Russian exchange groups to the U.S. such as the Moiseyev Dancers.

MONEY IN U.S.

2. Said that East German Premier Walter Ulbricht has socked away money in an American bank "for his future if something happens in East Germany."

3. Declared that some refugees from communism who come to the United States actually are Red agents.

4. Estimated that one out of every 15 persons in the Soviet Union is either an informer or agent for the secret police.

U.S. Planning Three-In-One Satellite Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is planning something new in satellites—a three-in-one job. It will be part of the Vanguard series and will include a balloon to study friction in space.

Dr. John P. Hagen announced plans for it yesterday and said it will be launched soon from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

In effect, Hagen said, the new Vanguard will provide three separate satellites:

1. The empty case of the launching vehicle's third-stage rocket, a metal tube weighing about 52 pounds.

2. A 13-inch plastic sphere with an arm extending about two feet. There will be a magnetometer at the end of the arm to measure the earth's magnetic fields. This satellite will weigh about 22 pounds.

3. A 30-inch expandable balloon weighing one-and-one-half to two pounds.

Before launching, the balloon will be folded into a small tray at the base of the plastic sphere. When the nose of the launching vehicle separates from the final stage rocket, a gass cartridge will inflate the balloon—if all goes as planned.

Youth Breaks Wrist In Fall At Pool

He was kept overnight at Marin General Hospital. Neil is a son of John J. Cunningham, a general contractor of 26 Grove lane, San Anselmo.

ADMIRAL'S WORD

Russ Ships 'Snooping' Mid-Pacific

HONOLULU (UPI)—Rear Adm. Benjamin E. Moore revealed today that Russian submarines and surface ships have been "snooping" along the Navy's Pacific barrier between Midway and the Aleutians.

Moore commands the 1,500-mile electronics fence whose ships and radar planes extend the DEW (Distanct Early Warning) system to the mid-Pacific.

The admiral said Navy radar Constellations and destroyer pickets have made numerous contacts with Soviet naval units all along the Pacific barrier area.

SUBS SPOTTED

"Their surface ships," the admiral said, "have patrolled the length of our Pacific barrier, and we've spotted Red submarines snooping the area."

The admiral said because of security reasons it was impossible to specify the times, locations or further identify the Soviet ships.

A spokesman for the 4,000-man naval command said continuous round-the-clock sea and air patrols are now being run the entire length of the North Pacific where Japan sent its undetected task force to attack Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. High altiude winds of more than 150 miles an hour bring northwestern American and Canadian cities within four hours jet flying time of Russian airfields that dot the Kamchatka Peninsula. Heavy overcasts along the route have made this a built-in avenue to the Americas for any sneak attack launched by Russia.

FULLY AWARE

Admiral Moore told UPI he was certain the Russians were aware that the barrier planes and ships had now reached a fully operational stage.

"They know what we're doing," he said, "and what's more important, they know that we know they are snooping and patrolling the entire length of the Pacific barrier."

Communists Lose Control Of French City, Begin Riots

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Communist rioters fought with police last night after losing control of the city administration in this big Atlantic port where they have governed for six years.

Non-Communist councilmen banded to elect Socialist Robert Monguillon mayor by a one-vote margin—giving him 19 votes to 18 for Communist incumbent Rene Cance.

The Communists, sensing defeat, first sought to block the election by sending 250 fanatics storming into the City Hall chamber where the voting was taking place.

Police threw the hecklers out and the fighting spread to the street with 1,000 demonstrators milling about. Four policemen were hurt. Windows were broken in several stores.

World Bank Funds Would Bust Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, approving more U. S. funds for the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, has specified they are to come out of next year's budget.

The action, by unanimous vote yesterday, would wreck President Eisenhower's hopes of a balanced budget for the year beginning July 1. The President had asked for the funds for the current fiscal year, and had included the spending in the deficit of nearly 13 billion dollars he forecast for the fiscal year ending June 30.

WINNIE THE POOH COMES TO MARIN

Larry Lehner is shown in costume as Piglet in San Francisco State College Children's Theater production of "Winnie the Pooh." The fantasy will be presented in the San Rafael High School auditorium at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday by the Junior Theater of Marin. Those not holding season tickets may pay admission at the door.

L.A. Respiratory Fatalities Rise

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Health officials don't know whether smog is to blame, but they say deaths from four kinds of respiratory ailments increased from 22.2 per 100,000 population in 1949 to 38.6 in 1957.

The ailments are asthma, emphysema, bronchitis and pulmonary congestions.

The information is in a report by Dr. Ralph R. Sachs of the city health department, who said:

CD Test Finds Flaws In U.S. Plan For Marin

Marin County could not accommodate 82,000 civilian evacuees in the event of a war alert, Donald A. Jensen, county administrator and civil defense coordinator, told the board of supervisors yesterday.

Jensen said a civil defense exercise now under way in Marin has indicated that only 30,000 non-essential civilians could be billeted in North and West Marin outside the so-called atomic danger zone.

The 82,000 estimate was furnished last year by a federal research team which has recommended a new wartime survival plan to the state Disaster Office.

Jensen said conferences this week with officials of the local Red Cross chapter, county health and welfare departments and Marin Medical Society indicate the federal estimate is totally unrealistic.

"There are a lot of things wrong with it (the federal plan), but I guess that's what we're trying to find out with this test," Jensen said.

Annexation Fails In San Jose Vote

SAN JOSE (UPI)—San Jose's bid to annex three outlying districts was rejected by a 2-to-1 vote yesterday in a special election.

Unofficial returns from the six precincts involved in the 75-square-block area showed 501 voters in favor of having the area become part of San Jose—and 1,068 against. A simple majority was needed.

If the measure had carried, it would have increased San Jose's population by 7,600. Included in the annexation plan were the Burbank, Bradley Manor and Beverly-Burbank districts west of the city.

Baty's Judge Appointment Will Be For Full Term

David R. Baty's appointment as judge of Marin's Northwest Judicial District is for the full six-year term, not until the next general election.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan told the county board of supervisors by letter yesterday that a recent attorney general's opinion held any such appointments must be for the term prescribed by law.

Jordan's letter termed "untenable" an assertion by John H. Mundo of Inverness that the supervisors' appointment of Baty should be effective only until the next general election. Mundo, who had sought the appointment himself, said in a recent letter to the board he was merely trying to clear up a legal point, not deprive Baty of his post.

Baty's appointment is to become effective when he qualifies as a voter in the Northwest Judicial District. He told the supervisors yesterday he expects to fulfill the residency requirement about April 1. He will succeed 87-year-old Judge Silas L. Stice, who resigned in January.

Sausalito To Purchase Waterfront Property

Sausalito city councilmen last night approved 4-0 what Councilman John E. Koenig Jr. described as "a $20,000 gamble," as they agreed to purchase a strip of property fronting Ondine restaurant.

The strip fronts 125 feet on Bridgeway and extends 40 feet into the bay.

Koenig explained his comment by noting that by spending $20,000 for the property now, the city would avoid spending "perhaps 10 times as much" later to condemn the property if the city decides to widen Bridgeway.

Owners of the Ondine, he explained, plan to move the building 66 feet out from the shore on new pilings by leasing added bayward space from the city. Ondine attorney Robert L. Dreyfus confirmed the plans.

The city is to receive $31 per month on a new 50-year lease for the overwater area. It is also to receive $50 monthly, after the initial five years, for Ondine's use of the front portion being sold to the city, which will be used for parking.

Dreyfus said the transaction will become effective only if his client obtains satisfactory financing for an expansion project.

Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. was absent.

In other action, the Sausalito council:

1. Approved 3-1, Councilman George E. Keeney dissenting, a contract with the county for property assessment and tax collection in Sausalito for a two-year period. The county supervisors had previously approved the agreement for a five-year period, necessitating a resubmittal of the plan.
2. Called for bids for widening of Bridgeway between Bay and Dolphin, to be opened April 7. The job, estimated to cost $6,500, would be a gasoline tax fund project.
3. Upheld planning commission denial of a rezoning to permit construction of a motel addition by Thomas M. Bladley on Olive street near Bridgeway. Builder J. Frank Silva said it would be a 15-unit enlargement of a 30-unit plant he will build. Several nearby residents protested.
4. Postponed action on plans for private operation of city-owned parking on Bridgeway opposite the Village Fair.
5. Authorized repair of a small public park at the foot of North street on the beach, which was damaged in a January storm.
6. Agreed to have a representative of the city at tomorrow's meeting of the state Regional Water Pollution Control Board in Oakland when it will consider taking action on pollution of Richardson Bay.
7. Approved a request by the Lions Club for its annual public fireworks display on Shell Beach July 4, including the closing of several streets in the area.

TRUMAN SHUNS OFFER TO BE EDITOR FOR DAY

BOSTON (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman has turned down an offer to be a newspaper editor for a day.

The job was offered him by the Boston Globe after Truman told the University of Missouri School of Journalism that he wished he could be a newspaper editor for a while.

The Globe said it received a letter from Truman yesterday in which he refused the offer, and said: "You see, the difference between your profession and mine is that the editors know all about how another man's business ought to be run, while I do not pretend to know the mechanics of yours."

Plans Asked For Harbor Development

Mill Valley wants a coordinated county program for developing small craft harbors by mid-May.

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission Monday night agreed to ask the city council to set a mid-May deadline for the county planning office to submit plans for the harbor development proposed in the Mill Valley marshlands.

If the county planning staff cannotp roduce by then, steps should be taken to "start the ball rolling" through outside channels, the park board added.

The commission also recommended that the council petition the county to acquire approximately 20 acres of privately owned tideland property adjoining city-owned land for harbor and recreational use.

It also recommended that the summer recreation program again be undertaken with William Castelli in charge.

Lemnitzer Named Army Staff Chief

At the same time, Eisenhower nominated Gen. Nathan F. Twining, an air officer, for reappointment as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, a post he has occupied since Aug. 15, 1957.

GEN. LYMAN LEMNITZER

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke was nominated for reappointment to a two year term as chief of naval operations and Gen. Thomas D. White for reappointment for two years as Air Force chief of staff.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Taylor had informed Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy that he did not want to be reappointed when his present term as Army chief expires June 30.

Hagerty said Taylor definitely was not being dropped from the chiefs of staff because he opposed cuts in the size of the Army.

Lemnitzer, 59, is now serving as vice chief of staff of the Army. He has been in that post since July, 1957. During World War II, he accompanied Gen. Mark Clark on his secret submarine mission to negotiate with the French in North Africa.

Taylor on June 30 will complete four years as Army chief of staff. When Eisenhower named him to the post in 1955, he did not limit him to a two-year term, but Lemnitzer's appointment today was for a specific two years.

Reed Trustees Cool To Merger Proposal

The door was opened for discussion of Southern Marin school district unification last night by trustees of the Reed Union District, but the trustees showed little enthusiasm for the idea.

The board wound up a one and one-half hour discussion of Ralph A. Groves' proposal to unify Reed, Sausalito and Mill Valley elementary districts with the southern portion of Tamalpais Union High School District by adopting a resolution of willingness to have board representatives meet with Sausalito and Mill Valley trustees to discuss the matter.

"We don't want to close the door on this proposal," trustee Ahleen Tresnon said, "but our administration is working with the Tamalpais High School District to solve our problems, which are not in common with the other two districts."

"I am reluctant to give up what Reed has and what we might achieve," trustee Alfred J. Azevedo said. "Are the other districts interested in spending money, as we have, to improve their educational and curriculum programs?"

Henry Schubart, only spectator at the meeting, spoke against the proposal. "The community will lose its jealously guarded prerogative of close personal contact between parents, children and trustees," he said.

In a debate with Groves on the advantage of the unified district, trustee Richard J. MacLaury proposed instead of unification, a more formal liason between elementary and high school administrations. He suggested a future meeting with the other two boards on the needs of elementary districts.

Bargaining Talks Seek To Avert N.Y. Paper Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Representatives of the New York Typographical Union and the Publishers Assn. of New York met again today to try to avert the threat of a printers' strike against 10 daily New York and Long Island newspapers.

Federal Mediation Commissioner Bernard J. Forman said yesterday after a three and one-half hour negotiating session that "no concrete progress was registered" toward writing a new contract to replace one which expired last Dec. 7.

The union has 4,000 members employed by the newspapers. The membership voted Sunday to request authorization from the International Typographical Union for a strike ballot. The chief issues in the dispute are resetting of advertising plates, wages, hours, union discipline over foremen and use of teletypesetting equipment.

Two Kentfield Trustees To Run

They are Henry G. Hayes of 300 Goodhill road, Kent Woodlands, and Mrs. Rachel P. Conner of 131 Almenar drive, Greenbrae.

Light Opera Leads Chosen

Leads for the Mill Valley Light Opera Company production of Frederich Von Flotow's opera "Martha" were announced today by company president Cary Smith.

Two singers have been chosen for each major role, he said, as a number of excellent singers tried out for parts.

Title role of "Martha," also called "Lady Harriet" will be sung by Jean Kahler and Carroll Solo; that of "Nancy," her companion, by Johanna Billings and June Purviance.

Lee Gerner and William Peavey will alternate as "Sir Tristam"; baritones Dr. Judson Mackby and Cary Smith will do "Plunkett". The role of the sheriff will be sung at all performances by Ray Castel-Blanch a longtime light opera company member.

"Martha" is scheduled for presentation late in May at San Rafael High School Auditorium.

Chorus director David Reed said there are still openings in all voice ranges. Chorus rehearsals are set for 8 p.m. every Monday in Park School Auditorium in Mill Valley.

Sewer District Annexation Set

Directors of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District Monday night agreed on the conditions and terms of annexing some 100 acres of land above Hawthorne Terrace and Del Mar Estates to the district.

With a representative of the area present, the directors debated the problem for more than two hours. They agreed that improvements would include a main trunk line on Tiburon boulevard and two lift pumping stations.

The land owners indicated they would commence annexation proceedings and would launch a special assessment district to finance the improvement.

Directors set for April 6 at 8 p.m. an adjourned meeting to study district ordinances and investigate the advisability of purchasing sewer cleaning equipment.

Macmillan In Canada On Way To See Ike

OTTAWA (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, on his way to talks with President Ensenhower, today urged the Western powers to frame a united policy on Germany based on "firm principles combinwith a readiness to negotiate."

Macmillan arrived by plane from London. Before leaving for Washington tomorrow, he will fill in Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and other Canadian officials on his Berlin crisis talks in Moscow with Soviet Premier Nikita Khruschev.

Diefenbaker and other officials were on hand to greet Macmillan, who led off his remarks with a tribute to Canadian Foreign Secretary Sidney Smith, who died Tuesday.

Macmillan said it was generally accepted that East-West negotiations on Germany must take place this summer.

Speaking first in English and switching later to French, Macmillan said he went to Moscow to feel out the ground, and he believed he had attained success.

The British leader, accompanied by Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd, hopes to convince Eisenhower that a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev can solve the explosive Berlin situation without shooting.

2 Women In Novato Brawl Sentenced

Mary L. Beltramini, 25, and Mrs. Ollie Birdwell, 31, both of 1120 Vallejo street, Novato, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace on March 4.

The couple, blaming pressures of their careers for keeping them "separated for most of the past year," gave no indication if or when a divorce action would be filed.

The 33-year-old Parisian-born star married Stone in 1955, a year after she divorced her first husband, actor John Bromfield, whom she had wed in 1949.

Real Estate Values Views &

"How can you tell what a used house is worth?" is a question which we have been asked many times.

Actually there is no easy answer.

While land rises in values from inflation, houses (especially older ones) don't advance as rapidly because they are subject to considerable depreciation.

As a leading Coast Realtor explains: "Most home owners don't subtract anything for the years they have lived in the house. No man selling a ten year old car expects to get anything like his original price out of it. Yet, though a house piles up mileage too, and gets behind the times in styles, the owner expects to sell for at least what he paid for his house and many expect a profit."

Mildred Vail

When we are asked to appraise a home for the "sales value" we try to carefully weigh all factors—the replacement cost less depreciation is one of the best guides, plus the condition of the property, comparison with similar houses, etc.

Frankly, we have found local residents are "reasonable" when the full facts are explained.

Let us help you sell your home — we'll start with an agreement as to fair market price of your home. This figure may be MORE or LESS than what you paid for the property. But in any event, it will be "realistic" which makes your chances of selling better. Call now! Wm. E. Doud & Co., multiple listing service, DU 8-8494.

Puzzled by Polishes?

Silly, isn't it...to have three or four "special" cleaners and polishes cluttering your cupboards when you need only one polish to brilliantshine all your metals!

Copper – Brilliantshine shines for that...cleans chafing dishes, for example, and makes them bright as new in a jiffy. It shines the same for brass pieces like lamps and candlesticks. And you need no other "special" polish for stainless steel or chrome or aluminum. Just see, for example, how your appliances and auto trim will brilliantshine!

Easy? The back label on the bright new Brilliantshine can shows you how easy. Look for it when you're shopping.

☆ Contains a special wax that leaves a long-lasting protective lustre.

with this one can you can brilliantshine
them all!

DULLES PLANS TO REST IN WARM, SUNNY PLACE

WASHINTON (UPI) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made plans today to go soon to some "warm, sunny place" to rest from his cancer treatments.

The 71-year-old official was to have his 19th massive radiation exposure. It was one of the last treatments he will receive at Walter Reed Army Hospital, which he entered early last month for a hernia operation that disclosed a recurrence of abdominal cancer.

Dulles was expected to leave his hospital suite within a week and decide by April 6 whether to continue in office. State Department sources said the secretary would relax and regain his strength for about two weeks in some temperate spot before making the decision.

Murder Suspect To Take Stand

Trial continued today before a jury of 10 women and two men in Marin Superior Court, with Judge Jordan L. Martinelli presiding. Public Defender Leonard Thomas, defense attorney, said Davis shot his wife in self defense to protect himself and his nine-month-old son, whom he held in one hand at the time he fired the fatal shot. Davis' common-law wife, Viola Baker, 32, died instantly in the kitchen of their home at Building B-1, Apartment 535, last Christmas Eve.

According to the public defender, Viola taken a knife to Davis and other men in the past, and Davis was afraid she would attack him and their son.

Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich, prosecutor, has not indicated whether he would ask for a first degree murder, second degree murder or a manslaughter conviction. Weissich said today he would merely present the facts and let the jury decide the seriousness of the crime.

If the jury brings a first degree murder conviction, it would be the first time in Marin County that a second trial would be necessary under a new state law to determine whether the death penalty or life imprisonment be invoked. Penalty for murder in the second degree is fixed by state law at five years to life.

The case is expected to wind up Friday. Sheriff's Inspector William Bradley, who investigated the shooting, testified this morning on the events leading to the shooting.

Another witness was a neighbor, Matthew Walker, who was an eyewitness.

Publisher Named Park Commissioner

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov Edmund G. Brown has named publisher Joseph C. Houghteling of Atherton to a four-year term on the state Park Commission, replacing Dr. Robert E. Burns, president of the College of the Pacific.

Houghteling, 34, is publisher of the Sunnyvale Standard and Mountain View Register Leader, president of the Los Gatos Times-Saratoga Observer and Gilroy Evening Dispatch publishing companies and vice president of the firm which publishes the Pleasanton Times.

A Democrat, he has been a member of the State Central Committee and was a delegate to the 1956 Democratic National Convention.

He is married and has three children.

The appointment will require confirmation by the Senate.

Dr. Burns' term expired.

State Finance Picture Perks Up Slightly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Controller Alan Cranston reported today that February was the brightest spot in a still-gloomy financial year.

Revenues for the month totaled $154,775,005 while expenditures amounted to $102,643,117—a difference on the credit side of $52,131,938.

It's only the third time since July 1, 1958, that income has exceeded outgo. The others were August and November. February revenues allowed the general fund to repay 55 million dollars of the 96 million it borrowed from the architecture revolving fund and the investment fund.

The general fund is still in debt to the two special funds for 41 million dollars. The state has collected $128,051,005 less than it has spent since the start of the fiscal year.

Cranston credited the February improvement to the year-end business upswing, especially Christmas shopping.

Total general fund expenditures for the first eight months of this fiscal year were $856,310,135, an increase of $61,050,665, or 7.68 per cent over the corresponding period of 1957-58.

Total revenues for the same eight months were $728,259,130, an increase of $9,725,897 or 1.35 per cent over the previous year.

Sales tax revenues have increased over last year by $2,610,534. The total collected through February was $460,496,050.

2 Bills Aimed At Park Commission

SACRAMENTO (AP)—It's not certain how much, but the state Park Commission stands to lose some of its power under legislation pending in both houses.

The Assembly today received a bill stripping the commission of its control over state beaches and parks policies. The measure by Assemblyman Pauline L. Davis (D-Portola) was approved yesterday by the Committee on Natural Resources, Planning and Public Works.

The Senate Natural Resources Committee is scheduled to hear a bill Friday by Sen. Nelson S. Dilworth (R-Hemet) that would take administrative functions from the commission but leave it with policy control.

Opposition to Mrs. Davis' measure leaving the commission with only the right to advise and consult with the natural resources department and its beaches and parks division came from those who favor the Dilworth bill.

One supporter of the Senate bill was DeWitt Nelson, director of natural resources, who would be given full responsibility for policy and administration of beaches and parks under the Davis bill.

Board To Restudy County Hiring Rule

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will take a long, hard look at rules adopted by the county personnel commission for establishing eligible lists of county job seekers.

This was decided yesterday after the board learned it may not, under present rules, allow a department head to make a permanent appointment of a person he wishes to hire if the commission has declared others eligible for the same position at higher priority.

GIVES OPINION

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan expressed the opinion in a memorandum to County Administrator Donald A. Jensen. The latter had asked whether the supervisors could overrule the commission in such cases.

Jensen requested the opinion after Mansfield Lewis, county communications director, said he wanted to hire a girl who was ninth on the commission's list of eligibles for a switchboard post. Lewis said the girl, whom he had employed on a temporary basis, had proved exceptionally able.

But the personnel commission has not certified the ninth name on the list because its rules give Lewis a choice from only the first five. Of these applicants, Lewis believes only one might possibly qualify.

NO PROVISION

Jordan's memorandum said the ordinance creating a personnel commission contains no specific provision for commission certification of eligible lists for vacant positions. He noted this procedure was established under the commission's own rules.

The county counsel said the commission may adopt such rules under an ordinance section allowing the supervisors to delegate to it "the power to provide for the conduct of competitive examinations to determine the fitness of applicants."

"The board of supervisors has by acquiescence, if not by formal act, approved these rules," Jordan declared, "and so long as the rules remain unchanged they are binding upon the commission and the board."

JORDAN'S BELIEF

He held that until the commission or board should alter the rules, "the board may not permit the department head to make a regular appointment of the person he desires."

If it wishes the power to permit such appointments regardless of the commission's eligibility lists, Jordan said, the board should direct the commission to change its rules accordingly.

At the suggestion of Supervisor William D. Fusselman, the board decided to tell Lewis he needn't accept any of the first five names on the switchboard operator list pending a review of the commission's rules. The girl Lewis hired on a temporary basis thus may remain on the job, at least for the time being.

Fusselman cautioned against putting the personnel commission "in the position of dictating to elected or appointed department heads."

LARGE CROWDS AT CHURCHILL ART EXHIBIT

Academy secretary Humphrey Brooke said the attendance is at least twice as good as that attracted by the 1952 Leonardo de Vinci showings, which had the previous best attendance. Lines up to 200 yards long are commonplace for the Churchill "amateur daubs" which continue on exhibition for another two weeks.

Electrified Air Proves Good For Allergies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A medical researcher reported today the breathing of electrified air apparently is good for some people with allergic respiratory trouble.

UNKNOWN FACTOR

Dr. Klotz said investigators had found that some unknown factor causes allergic people to react even when they are kept in rooms where temperature, humidity and pollen are controlled and atmospheric pressure is watched closely.

These patients reacted to an oncoming storm before the weather change could be detected by instruments. This suggested electrical changes in the atmosphere as a possible factor.

VARIATIONS RECORDED

Variations in the electrical charge of the air at Orlando are recorded daily and efforts are being made to determine if they are related to the behavior of people with allergic respiratory trouble, Dr. Klotz reported.

There are constant but slight variations in the electrical charge of the atmosphere. Natural forces knock electrons off some molecules or add extra electrons to other air molecules. The process is called ionization.

Normally, said Dr. Klotz, the air contains about one ionized molecule for every 27 trillion molecules. Usually there are slightly more positive than negative ions.

Relatively simple and inexpensive instruments are available for producing either negatively or positively ionized air.

So many tourists get their cars stuck in the sand of Cocoa Beach, Fla., while they're watching missiles being launched from nearby Cape Canaveral that civilians equipped with jeeps do a thriving business towing out the autos at $15 apiece.

SKATES HIS ROUTE

Neighborhood Loves The Musical Mailman

SIERRA MADRE (AP)—A blare of jazz out front, a string of kids behind. And in between, a big friendly grin.

He is known on his route for his ways with music and children—a sort of Pied Piper on roller skates.

See that transistor radio on his belt? Hear it? He bought it with Christmas money the folks on his route gave him. He says people like music.

See how they come out before he gets there? It's the music that draws 'em. And the fact he's so friendly, of course.

The skates? He's been using them since Christmas. He had two deliveries a day then. Christmas rush, you know. Said he wanted to get ahead of the game. That's the way he makes his work seem, too—like a game.

Some days he doesn't skate, and he doesn't walk. On those days he runs. He's peppy, he is. Vitamins are why. That's what he says, anyway.

He needs that umph, even if he is just 30. He has several irons in the fire. Carrying mail all day in Sierra Madre, a community adjacent to Pasadena, is just one of them.

Another one is his duty in the Marine Reserve Fighter Squadron at a naval air station. He was a machine gunner with the Marines in the Korean War.

The main reason he's in a hurry to get his daytime work done, though, is his night job. By night he's a dance band leader. He has his own 12-piece orchestra. He plays bass, saxaphone, clarinet and drums. Besides that, he sings.

Bond is uncommon in lots of ways, but there's one way he is just an ordinary, everyday kind of postman—the kind you hear jokes about. On his day day off he likes nothing better than a nice, long hike.

"I've gotta keep in trim, man," he says.

Reed School Study To Be Discussed

Reed Union School District's use of the recent district evaluation study results will be the subject of a panel discussion at tomorrow night's meeting of the Reed district Parents-Teachers club at 7:30 o'clock in the Reed school auditorium.

Interpreting the results will be Mrs. Ahleen Tresnon, chairman of the steering committee and district trustee; Jack Bridgman and Charles Bigelow, questionnaire designers; Erwin Farley, trustee chairman; Paul R. Stouffer, district superintendent, aud a representative from San Francisco State College.

'Blue Baby' In Good Condition

CHICAGO (AP)—David Stewart, a former "blue baby" whose condition has been corrected by surgery, appeared today to be well on the way toward a chance for a normal life.

The 29-month-old boy from Sharp Park (San Mateo County) was removed from his oxygen tent for several hours, ate a meal of soft foods and was taken off the critical list at Children's Memorial Hospital.

Judge's Fatal Illness Blamed On Death Penalty Remorse

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—Friends said today the death of Dist. Judge Ryland Taylor, 69, was partly due to the remorse he felt in having single-handedly to sentence a knife-slayer to death 11 days ago.

"Judge Taylor took every case to heart," said Dist. Judge David Zenoff. "That was the reason he became ill. Passing the death sentence preyed on his mind.

"He died because of devotion to duty."

Taylor, a judge since 1953, died yesterday after suffering a heart attack. Eleven days ago he sentenced confessed killer Jack Rainsberger, 24, a Los Angeles handyman, to death for the slaying of Las Vegas divorcee Erline Folker, 24.

"I am definitely satisfied in the Rainsberger case," Taylor said after passing the death penalty. "But is is just too much of a burden to have one man sentence another man to die.

Park Plan Report

A report on the study of the proposed Tiburon peninsula regional park district will be given at tonight's meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Land Conservation Committee in the Reed Schol auditorium at 8 o'clock, according to Philip Leslie, chairman.

TAX FACTS

Meals Given By Employer Are Tax-Free

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Do you receive meals and lodging from your employer?

Chances are good they are income tax free to you, as the code says:

Peter J. Wikel

"There shall be excluded from gross income of an employee the value of any meals, or lodging furnished to him by his employer for the convenience of the employer, but only if:

1. In the case of meals, the meals are furnished on the business premises of the employer, or

2. In the case of lodging, the employee is required to accept such lodging on the business premises of his employer as a condition of his employment.

"In determining whether meals or lodging are furnished for the convenience of the employer, the provisions of an employment contract or of a state statute fixing terms of employment shall not be determinative of whether the meals or lodging are intended as compensation."

This seems to clearly indicate that if you receive meals on the business premises of your employer that they are not taxable income to you, regardless of any employment contract or union agreement to the contrary.

This also seems to clearly indicate that the fair rental value of lodgings furnished to you are not taxable income to you, regardless of any contract to the contrary, if you are required by your employer to actually live at the site of your job. For instance, an apartment house manager's apartment, a chauffeur's or caretaker's cottage, etc.

The social security tax does not follow this rule. You may find that you are receiving meals and lodging that are not income taxable to you, and that you are paying social security taxes on the fair market value of such meals and lodgings. It may be that you and your employer are going to have difficulty in keeping records straight on these.

This applies only to meals and lodging furnished in kind. Any cash allowances will have to be included in income to the extent that they are taxable income to you.

Kite-Flying Girls Give Boys A Run

Two girls gave the boys a run for their money in last week's kite flying contest at Deer Park School in Fairfax.

Desma Lazzerino placed with the largest kite in the upper grades and Pamela Stout came up with the prettiest kite in the same division.

The boys, however, still flew the most kites, flew them higher and won the most prizes.

John Abbott got the awards for the best flying kite in the contest. All other awards were made in duplicate: One for the primary and one for the upper grades.

The other winners included Randy, Helene and Ronnie Tripp, highest flying kites; Jarred Rossman and Butch Cook, littlest kites; Jack Carter and John Back, most unusual kites, and in the primary division, John Barton O'Brien had the largest kite and Jim Sherbert, the prettiest kite.

Benito's Boots

MILAN, Italy (UPI)—Authorities have returned Benito Mussolini's boots and riding trousers to the dictator's widow, Donna Rachele.

The boots and trousers were the only garments on Mussolini's body when it was strung up by the heels at a Milan gasoline station in 1945 after Italian partisans had executed the fleeing dictator and his mistress, Clara Petacci. The garments, kept since then as evidence, were returned yesterday under a court order issued earlier this year.

VIENNA IN NORTH MARIN? SHE SAYS SO

Residents of Novato may have never imagined their area bears resemblance to that around Vienna, Austria. But Hedi Pavelka (center), American Field Service exchange student from Vienna, said during a week at Novato High School that she found much in North Marin to remind her of her home country. Here, Hedi is being interviewed by Howell Brozton and Sally McDermott of the Novato High newspaper, the Hornet's Buzz. Hedi is a student at El Cerrito High School during her year in the United States, but exchanged places for a week with Gudrun Zschenderlein of Germany, Novato High exchange student. While in Novato she stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Dann A. Smith and daughter, Marge, at 2 Pastel court.

College's Application For Funds Under Study

An application of College of Marin for more than $9,000 in federal aid for science and language programs was being processed today in Sacramento.

College president Ward H. Austin said the college has applied also for more than $19,000 in classroom equipment under Sec. three of the National Defense Act of 1958.

If granted the aid would:

1. Establish a foreign language teaching laboratory in the basement of the library, equipped with 24 listening stations, two tape recorders and four playback circuits.

2. Provide an analog computer and other materials for a mathematics laboratory.

3. Purchase $5,044 in chemistry teaching equipment.

4. Add $2,266 in equipment for teaching of physics.

5. Add equipment totaling $4,109 to the geology department, including four new stereoscopic microscopes.

Austin said the school would receive notice of acceptance or rejection of the requests on April 10.

School Aides Study IBM Processing

Business managers and clerks of the various school districts in Marin County were to meet this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon to get acquainted with payroll processing by IBM machines.

The meeting was being held at the office of County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis at 317 Fourth street, San Rafael.

County Auditor Leon A. de Lisle and his staff members, including Arleigh Sewell, head of the IBM Data Processing, would be on hand to explain the various procedures in the use of IBM and future possibilities for the school districts.

Bid Opening For Kentfield School Set

Bids will be opened at 5 p.m. on April 20 for the $107,000 Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield.

The six-classroom school will be located at the foot of Wolfe Grade on Sir Francis Drake boulevard near Marin Catholic High School.

Supt. Harold DePue said work is expected to start in mid-May, and the school should be completed about November.

The Kentfield school board also discussed estimated expenditures for the 1959-60 year, which is $532,000, about $35,000 more than for the past year.

In other action Monday night, the school trustees:

1. Approved hiring one teacher for the summer school staff. The employment of a second teacher will be held up pending a review of enrollment.
2. Authorized payment of $1,500 for the summer recreation program.
3. Voted to support two bills in the state Legislature: One to increase state apportionment to all districts, the other to provide survivorship benefits in the teachers retirement system at no additional cost to district or teacher.
4. Accepted with regret the resignations of Mrs. Joan Choulos and Miss Patricia Moore, both of Kent School. Both will leave as of June 30.
5. Hired Mrs. Corrine Giampaoli for third grade and Mrs. Elaine Brighton for first grade, both at Greenbrae School. Mrs. Giampaoli taught three years at Willits High School and a year at San Rafael High School. Mrs. Brighton taught in Salt Lake City schools.
6. Adopted a 180-day school calendar. School will open Sept. 10 and close June 16.

Ship's Engineer Lost Overboard

Capt. Franklin Pierce said other ships in the area were radioed to be on the lookout for Beach, who fell overboard in a moderate sea with five-foot swells. He said the freighter would continue the search.

PRETTY GOOD GAME—AND SO EASY, TOO

Rather than wait for the others to go around, Shirkey rented a set of clubs and learned as he went along. It was his first game.

At the 17th hole, his 199-yard tee shot plunked into the cup for a hole-in-one.

Bill Qualifying Candidates Killed

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An Assembly committee has rejected a proposal which would have required all candidates for state attorney general to be lawyers of at least 10 years' standing.

Assemblyman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco), author of the measure, did not even appear before the Constitutional Amendments Committee to take up his plan.

He sent word to the committee that he didn't care what the group did with the bill. The committee decided to kill it.

AF 'Bombs' Protested

AOMORI, Japan (UPI)—Farmers near this north Japanese city complained today that their property is being bombed by the U.S. Air Force.

A delegation told provincial authorities that planes overshooting a range near Misawa Airbase have dropped five partially disarmed practice bombs in Japanese fields, making craters as much as five feet across and two feet deep.

What medium do teen-agers rate "most practical"?

ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: THE DAILY NEWSPAPER. In a recent study of teens made by Eugene Gilbert & Co., the daily newspaper was shown to be a big influence on their living and spending habits. When asked which medium they considered the most practical, 54% said it was the daily newspaper, while only 17% named TV. To advertisers who want to get their share of the $9 billion teen market, we say, "Tell it to the teens in the daily newspaper!"

Moore Shoots For Bassey's Title Tonight; It's A Tossup

The fight ends a year and a half campaign by Moore to get into the same ring with Bassey and the challenger is confident he will emerge from the bout in Olympic Auditorium the new champion.

Interest in the championship clash mounted in the past week with the demand for tickets reaching a peak the final three days, indicating a near-capacity throng of around 11,000 and a gate somewhere in the vicinity of $100,000.

NATIONAL TV

The fight will be blacked out in Southern California for a radium of 250 miles from Los Angeles. But the rest of the nation will be able to see it on television (ABC) starting at 7 p.m., PST.

Although wagering was brisk on the bout, it remained at 6-5 and take your choice in man-to-man action.

The fight took on a grudge aspect last Sunday when Moore failed to appear at a public workout in Olympic Auditorium. Bassey, who showed up, took Moore's failure as a personal affront and vowed he would give his opinion of the challenger's lack of courtesy in the ring tonight.

EXPERTS DIVIDED

The experts were as divided as the public in picking the winner. Some felt Moore was far better than any of Bassey's previous opponents both as a puncher and as a boxer.

But the Bassey adherents said the champion would wear down the challenger and if he did not knock him out he would outpoint him.

Moore's camp claimed that Bassey could be hit easily and if Moore did the landing it would be with more telling effect than any of the champion's previous opponents.

COMMON FOE

The only common foe they have met is Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno. Bassey knocked him out in three rounds last April and Moore scored a knockout last December in one round.

Financially the bout will be rewarding for both. Bassey is guaranteed $45,000 against 40 per cent of the gate plus a television fee. Moore is fighting for a straight 20 per cent of the take. The challenger has agreed to a re-match within 90 days either here or in London if he wins.

Drake Blasts Lowell '9' On Two-Hitter

Dave Christian, a junior righthander who weighs only 135 pounds, looks like a giant on the mound yesterday as he pitched the Drake Pirates to a 15-2 victory over the Lowell Indians in San Francisco.

Christian gave up only two singles, struck out seven batsmen and walked four as he became the first Drake pitcher to go the distance this season.

Three Pirates each collected three hits—Dick Spackman, Dick Llewellyn and Paul White, the latter with a bases-loaded double included. Christian contributed a pair of safeties to the 15-hit attack.

Drake entertains Marin Catholic tomorrow afternoon.

Ski Film, Fashion Show Tonight At SRHS Auditorium

"Site for the Olympics," Dr. Frank Howard's newest skiing film, will be shown tonight 8:30 o'clock in the San Rafael High School Auditorium.

The film will show Far Western skiing from its start in the 20s, through its period of rapid growth in recent years and will end with pictures of the Olympic site at Squaw Valley and the new Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl. Following the film there will be a fashion show of ski clothing from San Rafael Sporting Goods. Admission is $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

The affair is being sponsored by the Marin Ski Club as a source of revenue to be used for construction of its proposed ski lodge at Soda Springs. The club has recently purchased a lot and construction of the cabin is to start as soon as the snow melts.

The building was designed by a group of club members and construction will be done by volunteer members. A scale model of the cabin will be at the Auditorium tonight.

Wark, Derl Top Marin Keg League

George Wark of the Mill Valley Auto Parts team walked off with high individual honors and Jim Dehl of the Northwestern Savings and Loan turned in a rare "triplicate" to highlight the Marin Bowl's handicap league last night.

Dodgers Seek Righthander, Talk Over Deal With Cards

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A trade may be brewing between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the St. Louis Cardinals.

Los Angeles and St. Louis meet here today and general managers Buzzie Bavasi and Bing Devine plan to discuss the situation. Bavasi apparently feels the Dodgers pitching staff needs another righthander and indicates the Cards want an outfielder. The Dodgers have already given the Cards Gino Cimoli for Wally Moon and feel they got much the better of the trade.

Yesterday's game between the Dodgers and Detroit was rained out but Los Angeles held an inter-squad contest and Ron Fairly, prize rookie outfielder, was injured sliding into second base. He had to be carried from the field but is expected back in the lineup within four days. He strained muscles in his right hip.

The practice game between the Dressens and the Reeses ended in a 5-5 tie. Duke Snider contributed a double and Jim Koranda a triple.

NCAA COACHES SPEAK

Louisville Favored, But Newell Picks Cincinnati

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The four coaches whose basketball teams will compete in the NCAA finals here this weekend undoubtedly are in better spirits today.

For 28 minutes yesterday they took turns consoling one another in a session best described as an electronic seance.

Reporters at Louisville's elaborate Freedom Hall where the tournament will be played interview the coaches over a four-way telephone hookup.

Voices of the coaches—Freddie Schaus of West Virginia, George Smith of Cincinnati, Pete Newell of California and Peck Hickman of Louisville—were piped in.

Then they in turn discussed their own teams and thoroughly shattered the illusion.

The only thing that can be deduced logically from their discussions is that each is firm on two points:

1. My team will not win.
2. I don't think my team will lose, either.

Then the reporters asked: Just whom do each of you think will win?

And with the men who know their teams the best, it was Louisville two to one.

Newell and Hickman picked Cincinnati and West Virginia, respectively, because those happen to be the teams they play in Friday's opening round.

The Friday schedule has Louisville and West Virginia in the 7:30 p.m. (CST) opener and Cincinnati and California in the nightcap about 9:30.

Providence Wins Stunning Upset Over St. Louis

NEW YORK (AP)—"It's unbelievable."

That's what Coach Joe Mullaney of Providence College kept shouting last night after his "Cinderella" team beat second-seeded St. Louis 75-72 in double overtime to reach the semi-finals of the National Invitational Tournament.

New York University also advanced to Thursday's semi-finals with an easy 63-48 victory over Oklahoma City. This second game of the basketball doubleheader at Madison Square Garden was strictly an anticlimax to the crowd of 14,269.

Providence, which upset Manhattan 68-66 last Saturday in the last six second of play, now is pitted against St. John's of New York while NYU goes against top-seeded Bradley.

St. John's beat Providence 73-55 early in the regular season, but this time, the happy Mullaney declared, "we're going to give them a better game."

Orth Takes 4th In ABC Singles

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Robert Orth of Kenosha, Wis., made the only change in the top 10 standings of the American Bowling Congress Tournament yesterday when he took fourth place in the singles.

Orth rolled a 717 series, including a center game of 289, highest single game score of the tournament.

Ed Lubanski of Detroit leads the singles with the 764 he rolled Feb. 26. Lubanski captained the Pfeiffers of Detroit team which leads the open team division with 3243. He also is the leader of the all-events division.

'Hex' Strikes Giants Again

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants, plagued by injuries and illness to the extent that catcher Bob Schmidt is the only first-line player to escape the "hex" to date, take on the Chicago Cubs today after dropping their third straight to Boston.

Manager Bill Rigney nominated Mike McCormick and Curt Barclay for hill work in an effort to improve on the club's poor 3-6 Cactus League mark.

As for the injury and illness department, Trainer Frank Bowman had this to say:

"I've been in the business 38 years and this is the worst spring I've encountered."

The latest victims were: shortstop Andre Rodgers, pulled back muscle; second-baseman Daryl Spencer, ingrown toenail; outfielder Willie Kirkland, swollen leg by virtue of a spider bite; and third-baseman Ben Valenzuela, bronchitis.

"There's one good thing about this spring and not much else," observed Rigney. "We'll be the most unscouted team in baseball when we go into St. Louis for the opener. We haven't been able to field anything close to our starting nine since closing day last September."

That fact was all too evident at Scottsdale yesterday when the Giants came up with only four hits while dropping a 6-1 decision to the Red Sox. It was their fourth defeat of the year at the hands of Boston, which now has an 8-1 mark in Cactus League play.

NO SUPPORT

Stu Miller hurled five innings for the losers, giving up three runs and getting no support as usual. Billy Muffett and Joe Shipley followed in that order, the former getting racked for three runs on the same number of hits during his one-inning stint.

Catcher Hobbie Landrith provided half of the San Francisco hit production, getting a triple and single in two official trips to the plate.

Cal Tactics Don't Include Trying To Stop Robertson

BERKELEY (AP) — California won't be out to stop Oscar Robertson Friday night when the Bears play Cincinnati in the semi-finals of the NCAA Basketball Tournament at Louisville, Ky.

The Cal players read. They know the Big O is the nation's leading collegiate scorer, that he ranks with the best in ball handling and rebound departments.

"We know we're not going to stop Robertson," said Al Buch, the Bear captain on Coach Pete Newell's Pacific Coast Conference champions.

"We know we're not going to hold him to 10 points," he added. "But we can sure make him work harder for the ones he gets.

"Rather than stop Oscar, we will have to control the rest of his team. Press the guards, make it tough for them to pass.

"And we'll have to help each other. Although we'll play our usual one-to-one defense, we'll be falling off when necessary to help a man who's out of position."

Buch, a 6 feet 2 Brooklynite turned Californian, was thinking defense. That's what Newel stresses and the 180-pound senior has learned his lesson well.

At Abraham Lincoln High School in Flatbush he averaged 21 points a game. As a freshman at Cal, he set a record, 18.4 points a game.

But now he's the playmaker and, perhaps more important, a stalwart on defense. He has averaged but 9.1 points a game this year.

Against Utah in the NCAA regionals, he stole the ball for easy layins three times. That's one reason he is called a one man "panic" squad.

The Bears, in compiling a 23-4 record, held opponents to an even 50 points a game, best defensive record in the country. They averaged offensively 63.7, mediocre when compared with schools who play "race horse," fast break basketball.

For the opposition, it is just the opposite. "Make the other guy make a mistake" he said. "Make him shoot farther back. Don't let him have the shot he wants."

Working this strategy, along with Buch, are Darrell Imhoff, 6-10 rebounding specialist; Denny Fitzpatrick, 6 footer and the team's leading scorer with a 13.4 point a game average; sophomore Bill McClintock, 6-5 and No. 2 in rebounding; and Bob Dalton, 6-3.

The bench is deep and strong with Dick Doughty, 6-8, able to give Imhoff a rest: Jack Grout, 6-5, Bernie Simpson, 6 feet, and Jim Langley, 6-3½, all able performers.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Spencer Has No Excuses; He Just Wants To Play Regularly

CONNOLLY

There are two sides to every question. One is right and the other can be wrong.

I refer to the case of Daryl Spencer, sturdy San Francisco Giant infielder, who can, or cannot, be of terrific importance to the clubs' flag chances in 1959.

Spencer was geared to be a shortstop and almost made it in 1958. But somewhere, somehow, along the line he slipped. He didn't fall right on his tail bone, but as far as the results are concerned he might just as well have.

Spencer was not a fugitive from justice exactly but he was so tired of it all that at the height of his career he had to answer the call to military service. And that cost him two seasons from 1954 to 1956.

In 1957 he played in better than 145 games for a year's batting average of .249.

NO PLAYER ever got a better build-up last year than Spencer. He was heralded as another Honous Wagner because of his hands; he had great balance; he could throw; he wasn't the slowest guy in the world and he was taught to hit by a great batter of years gone by . . . Lefty O'Doul.

And for awhile, particularly in the beginning of the 1958 season, Spencer looked like the McCoy.

But along about the middle of the season he seemed to tire. He wasn't getting that jump on the ball in the infield. A lot of it was blamed on his co-partner Danny O'Connell.

Then Big D, as the San Francisco scribes had nicknamed him, began to hit like a butterfly. His early season potent wallops were gone. He didn't clip the ball smoothly and he finally wound up the season with an average of .256 in 148 games, not in the least impressive.

They said a lot of nasty things about Big D. They said he wasn't a hustler. So a few weeks ago I had occasion to be in Arizona and I cornered the guy.

SPENCER NEVER fibs. He can't. He doesn't know how.

"I just got tired," Spencer said.

"I saw the big apple coming to the plate but I couldn't clobber it as I did in the early days of the season.

"My fielding suffered, not because I didn't get the right kind of support to my left and to my right, but because I wasn't able to move fast enough. I had slowed up, so I thought.

"Then I got a rest when it was late in the season. And when the year ended I wasn't too well satisfied with myself. But I know I could make it in 1959.

"Then I was told to get acquainted with playing second base. I knew then, for the first time, that the San Francisco brass had given up on me. I wasn't sore. I was mad at myself. I was to blame.

"But in my early days in baseball I had played second and third base. I found it hard to adapt myself to these positions because I really thought I was moulded to be a shortstop.

"YET WHEN I took inventory on myself, I discovered that I'd either have to adapt myself to playing second base or get going. So when I reported to the Giant camp in Phoenix, I was dead set on playing second base.

"I love it. I don't care where I play as long as I play regularly. I can't bear to sit on the bench, excepting for a blow or a breather during the season.

"So I have resolved to be a second sacker or a third sacker or a shortstop during 1959. And where I play doesn't matter.

SAFE BOATING

By HARRY HEIFETZ, Commander
U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 14

Confidence

It seems to me that one of the best aids to safe boating is the confidence of the skipper in his ability to handle any situation.

Your passengers want to trust you, skipper. They want to have full confidence in your ability to see to their safety.

So you must cultivate an attitude that will instill confidence in your passengers.

If one of your passengers suddenly says "I smell smoke!" and you jump as if a bee had stung you and look pale and frightened, immediately your fear will communicate itself to your passengers and you have the makings of a disaster.

But on the other hand, if you have good control of yourself and can without undue haste tell the passenger not to worry, that you will have a look around and go about the business in a calm manner, your passengers will be calm, (at least outwardly, and that's half the battle).

AND ACTUALLY, you have good cause to be calm, because the chances are 1,000 to 1 that what your passenger thought was smoke was only a wisp of exhaust blown into the boat by a light breeze.

If you're going through a bit of chop and you strain and tug at the wheel to keep her on course and you give the appearance of fearing that you might lose control at any minute, you can just bet your passengers will take the cue and become frightened and even show signs of seasickness.

But if you plant your feet firmly and sway with the motion of the boat as if this was old stuff to you, your passengers will take that cue too and they will hang on and chatter about how rough it is and will be glad to be a part of it all, knowing as they do that the skipper won't let anything happen to hurt them.

This all boils down to one thing, skipper: You must not show fear. The sea demands your respect, but not fear.

TO HELP YOU develop this feeling of confidence skipper, the U.C. Coast Guard Auxiliary wants you to remember this:

Confidence is a habit. In this instance you can acquire it best by knowledge, knowing your boat better, knowing the waters you travel better and by practicing a confident attitude. Practice standing at the wheel confidently. Practice swaying with the boat. Practicing answering imaginary questions from passengers.

If you are sincere in wanting to acquire the confidence habit, you'll be amazed how quickly you can do it! And a boat with a confident skipper makes a happy cruise. One other thing: You will have a much happier cruise if you put your passengers to work. Knowing the boat makes more confident passengers.

BY ALL MEANS let them get acquainted with the boat. Give them an idea of the works below decks. Answer all questions pleasantly. But firmly insist that rules set up by you be strictly followed. People like an orderly ship. So if your rules call for all small children donning life jackets when coming aboard, you stick to it. If you want all passengers seated out of the way while you maneuver into a berth, you say so. Proper rules do not cause irritation. On the contrary, sensible rules indicate that the ship has a thoughtful skipper and makes for a happier ship.

And remember skipper, no ship under way is big enough for two captains. (Wives please note.)

Jordan-Akins Bout Postponed 3 Weeks

ST. LOUIS (AP)— A three-week postponement of the welterweight championship rematch between Champion Don Jordan and Virgil Akins was granted Tuesday because Jordan's training was interrupted by his wife's illness.

The fight was rescheduled for April 24 at Kiel Auditorium here. It had been set for March 6 but a tornado damaged the St. Louis Arena and it was postponed to April 3 at Kiel.

Jordan's wife became ill after the premature birth of a baby nine days ago. The baby weighed only two pounds. Jordan's manager, Don Nesseth, said both wife and baby are all right now, although the baby is in an incubator.

Cal Presents Challenge In Gymnastics Meet

BERKELEY (AP)—Domination by Illinois and Penn State in the NCAA Gymnastics Championships faces a challenge this weekend from host school California and its star sophomore Art Shurlock.

The Bears have won nine dual meets in a row with Shurlock taking four or five first places in every meet he has been in this year.

Still he is no cinch in the NCAA, for the winners of the all around championships of the past three years are coming here for the competitions and two of them represent Illinois.

Don Tonry and Abie Grossfield of the Illini won the all around in 1956 and 1958 respectively, while Armando Vega of Penn State took it in 1957.

Coach Hal Frey of California, a Penn State graduate, believes one of the four will be the big gun this time. He figures Illinois or his alma mater will win the team title in the Friday and Saturday night competitions, but doesn't count out the Bears.

Michigan State tied Illinois for the team title last year, but the Spartans don't possess the same strength this time. In 1953 and 1954 Penn State's Nittany Lions won the national collegiate title with Illinois second.

They reversed this finish in 1955 and 1956 with the midwesterners winning and Penn State second. In 1957, the easterners again won with Illinois second.

Last year the monotony was broken somewhat as Michigan State edged in for the title tie and Penn State was only third. California didn't figure in Frey's first year as coach.

But with Shurlock, a 21-year-old 156-pounder from Chicago who stands 5 feet 9, the Bears have a chance this time. Frey figures Tonry, Grossfield, Vega and Shurlock all are good bets for the U.S. Olympic team next year.

All told, 25 schools have entered a total of 110 gymnasts but the California coach believes that the outcome hinges on the performance of the top four men.

Last year Grossfield won the all-around title and then went on to win both the horizontal bar and free exercise events. Other competitions include the trampoline, flying rings, parallel bars, horizontal bars, rope climb, side horse and tumbling.

In the qualifying, they throw in the long horse as an all around event since it is one on the Olympic program.

SPRING LAMB WILL BE IN THIS WEEKEND!

FRIER-ROASTER TURKEYS — The smaller turkey (4 to 5 pounds) solves the problem of roasting time and going to church on Easter Sunday. In a slow oven (325 degrees) allow 20 minutes per pound or about 2½ hours. Wrapped in foil and roasted at 450 degrees, the same bird is done in 1¾ hours. Open foil the last 15 or 20 minutes to get an even golden brown.

WHAT'S SAUCE FOR A TURKEY

Marin families have a habit of celebrating any special occasion on the patio, with Dad presiding at the barbecue. Still, Easter calls for something more festive than usually sputters on the spit.

A perfect choice is turkey, which can be broiled whole, in quarters or pieces. The young broiler-fryer turkeys divide perfectly for either spit or grill barbecuing. The pieces are easier to watch for even cooking than the whole bird.

Allow one quarter of a 4 to 5 pound bird per portion.

Turkey calls for a more subtle barbecue sauce than that for red meats and game birds. Try white wine in which crushed leaves of thyme and marjoram

TURKEY BARBECUE SAUCE

Into 2 cups white wine crush 1 teaspoon each thyme and basil, 2 tablespoons grated onion and whole black peppers. Mix thoroughly with ⅔ cup olive oil.

A Festive Dinner For Heart Patients

Easter is another occasion for festive dinner planning. This Easter menu and the recipes have been planned by the Marin County Heart Assn. for those whose physicians have prescribed a restricted sodium diet.

It includes Hot Spiced Tomato Juice, Roast Spring Leg of Lamb with Mint Jelly (3 ounces-, Parslied New Potatoes, Fresh Peas with Chives, Cornmeal Muffins, Unsalted Butter, Candlestick Salad, Easter Bunny Cookies, Coffee and Milk (optional).

This menu will provide approximately 134 milligrams of sodium (without milk) based on the serving size of each food item. The dietitians who planned this menu were thinking of those who are restricted to 500 milligrams of sodium each day. Sodium value of water used in meal preparation is not included in calculations.

HOT SPICED TOMATO JUICE

12-ounce can unsalted tomato juice
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 small bay leaf
pepper to taste

Heat unsalted tomato juice (use only approved brands). Add spices. Do not bring to a boil, but simmer gently. Serve at once with a thin slice of lemon in each cup.

EASTER BUNNY COOKIES

Put into a mixing bowl 1 cup sugar, sifted. Cream with ½ cup softened sweet butter.

Add one egg.

Beat and add:

1 teaspoon lemon rind
¼ teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon low sodium milk
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons low sodium baking powder

For best results, add flour a little at a time, being careful not to get dough too stiff or cookies will be tough. Mix thoroughly; add more, until desired consistency for rolling is achieved.

Chill dough in refrigerator for 2 hours. Put dough between wax paper and roll ⅛ inch thick. Cut with floured bunny cutter.

ALL SIZES, ALL AGES

Whichever Way You Cook It Turkey Is Simply Wonderful

Since colonial times, turkey has been festive fare. It has since moved around the calendar to present its golden brown succulence at all sorts of special occasions, especially Easter. The fact that it is one of the best bargains in meat, penny per pound, has not changed its status. Nor has the fact that it has a low-fat, high protein content removed it from its regal place.

There is still something about turkey that belongs with celebration.

There may have been a time when you would have had to know a turkey or its breeder personally to serve it at Easter, but now the dilemma is different. Which of the many sizes, ages and types of turkey to buy? Fresh or frozen? And even more tantalizing, how to cook it and how to serve it.

For turkey, one of the most versatile meats for taking on nuances of flavor, also adapts to a half dozen cooking methods—depending, of course, on the kind of bird you buy.

If you're in a quandry, study this guide and then make your plans. The kind of bird you choose depends on everything from sunrise Easter services to the number of guests at table. Not to mention your family's preference for lots of leftovers or none at all.

SELECTION OF TURKEY

Turkey is available in retail markets whole, cut-up and by-the-piece, either fresh or quick-frozen. Size, age and sex of the turkey determine the class. Age influences the tenderness, which in turn helps determine the cooking method. Common classes are Fryer or Roaster, Young Hen Turkey, Young Tom Turkey, Hen Turkey and Tom Turkey.

It is unnecessary for the consumer to judge turkeys, because there are easy guides for selection. Guides for quality selection are based on brand names, government grades or both. These will be found on a wing band, a stamp on the bird, a tag, the wrap or package.

PREPARATION

Fresh turkey — If whole, refrigerate promptly at 36-38 degress F, loosely wrapped in aluminum foil, parchment or waxed paper. Use turkey within 2-3 days; if cut up, within 1 or 2 days. Just before cooking, wash the turkey in cold water, drain and pat dry.

Quick-frozen turkey — Keep turkey frozen until it is to be cooked, allowing sufficient time before cooking for defrosting. Properly packaged and quick-frozen ready-to-cook turkey stored at 0 degrees F or lower may be kept for several months.

To defrost quick-frozen turkey, follow package directions or use one or a combination of these two methods:

1. Leave bird in its original body wrap. Place on shelf in refrigerator. Allow 2 to 4 days for defrosting.

2. Place bird, still in its original body wrap, in cold water to cover. Allow 2 to 6 hours.

As soon as the turkey is sufficiently pliable, remove the giblets and neck, usually wrapped together in parchment. They will be found in the body cavity and the wishbone pocket just underneath the skin. Their removal speeds defrosting, too.

BASIC METHODS

There are five basic methods of cooking turkey: broiling, frying, roasting, braising, stewing or cooking in water. Broiling, frying, and roasting are dry heat methods of cookery. They are the usual choice for young, tender turkey — the fry-roaster or the young hen or tom turkey.

Braising and stewing are also popular methods for cooking turkey. They may be used to cook less-tender meats. Two other popular moist heat cooking methods are cooking turkey in aluminum foil and poaching.

BROILING TURKEY

All sizes of the tender fryer or roaster may be broiled —cooked by dry heat from an electric element, gas flame or hot coals, or on a revolving spit. Turkey may be cut into quarters before or after broiling for convenient serving .

FRYING TURKEY

The young turkey, 4-5 pound ready-to-cook weight, is the best choice for frying—cooking in shallow fat in a heavy skillet or kettle. The turkey should be disjointed and cut up to give 11 or 12 pieces — 2 drumsticks, 2 thighs or second joints, 2 or 3 pieces of breast, 2 wings, 2 or 3 pieces of back, the neck and giblets. By-the-piece young turkey is available in some markets, permitting selection of favorite pieces.

Coating the turkey before frying is important. A coating prevents drying out, aids in browning and helps to give the desirable crispness. Common coatings are flour, or egg and flour—both with added seasoning. Packaged coatings are also available.

Pan frying also is a popular method of cooking turkey. As it is usually done, it is not true frying. Covering the pan, with or without the addition of a small quantity of water, completes the cooking with steam after the initial browning.

ROASTING

All sizes of tender turkey may be roasted—that is, cooked by dry heat in an oven, on a rack in an open shallow pan. A low roasting temperature assures excellent drippings, rich in color and flavor for the gravy, not burned or dried in the pan. A plump, well-finished bird is desirable for desirable results in roasting.

A turkey may or may not be stuffed for roasting. Stuffing may be cooked separately in a casserole or suitable baking pan—loaf or muffin size.

Trussing or binding legs and wings to the body assures uniform cooking, even browning, and an attractive bird on the platter. The turkey also is easier to carve.

Brush skin of bird thoroughly with cooking fat before roasting. Place bird breast up on a rack at least ½ inch high in a shallow open pan. Place aluminum over bird or drape with fat-moistened cheesecloth. The foil or cloth helps in uniform browning. Basting is unnecessary. Roast in slow oven, 325 degrees F. Do not sear. Do not add water. Do not cover.

When turkey is about ⅔ done, cut cord or band of skin holding drumstick ends to the tail. This permits heat to reach the inside thigh to assure thorough cooking.

BRAISING

Braising is a moist heat method of cooking—slow browning to develop flavor and color followed by slow cooking in moist heat until the thickest pieces are fork-tender.

While braising is the correct choice for cooking less-tender mature turkey, it is a favorite method for cooking tender turkey. Turkey is disjointed and cut into pieces. A heavy kettle with a tight lid is the choice for braising. A pressure saucepan may be used and shortens cooking time.

STEWING OR SIMMERING

Simmering or stewing is slow cooking in a medium-to-large quantity of water (moist heat) to soften or dissolve the connective tissue. Although this method is the choice for less-tender meats, it may be used when meat is to be used for sliced meat platters, turkey sandwiches and salads, in creamed and a la king turkey or in a great variety of "casserole" dishes.

To stew turkey, place it in a heavy kettle with a tight lid. Add ½ cup water and ½ teaspoon salt for each pound of turkey, ready-to-cook weight.

For additional flavor, add a small carrot, small onion, 2-3 ribs of celery, a clove and 2-3 peppercorns tied in a cheesecloth bag for easy removal after cooking.

Bring water to rapid boil. Skim any froth from surface and reduce heat to simmering. Cook 2-3 hours, until thickest pieces are fork-tender.

COOKING TURKEY IN ALUMINUM FOIL

Cooking aluminum foil-wrapped turkey in a very hot oven (450 degrees F) shortens cooking time and avoids spattering the oven.

Turkeys cooked in foil have several marked characteristics. The skin may be less brown, with color spotty, and very soft. They should be cooked the final 15 to 20 minutes with the foil folded back to obtain the desired golden-brown appearance.

There is a tendency for the skin to tear and for muscles to pull away from bones.

FRY A YOUNG TURKEY TO GOLDEN CRISPNESS

Take a tender young turkey. Dredge in seasoned flour, fry crisp in your finest oil and simmer until done. A delightful fate for one of the small, young turkeys. This method takes only slightly longer than frying chicken.

This recipe below, by the way, gives directions for "recrisping" the skin after the pieces have simmered done.

FRIED TURKEY

Young turkey, about 4 to 5 pounds ready-to-cook weight, disjointed and cut into serving pieces.

For each 3 pounds of turkey use:

¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning (optional)
Fat for frying, about 1 cup
½ cup flour
2 teaspoons paprika
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Combine flour and seasoning in a paper bag. Shake turkey, 2 or 3 pieces at a time, in a bag to coat evenly. Save any left-over flour for gravy.

Cook to a uniform golden brown in ½ inch layer of moderately hot fat in a heavy skillet — large enough to avoid crowding. Use tongs or two spoons for turning pieces to prevent pricking skin. Start pieces skin side down. Browning requires 15 to 20 minutes.

Reduce heat, cover tightly and cook slowly until tender, about 50 minutes. If skillet cannot be covered tightly, add 1 to 2 tablespoons water. The turkey is done when the thickest pieces are fork-tender.

Uncover last 10 minutes to recrisp skin. If desired, prepare gravy with pan drippings. The liver and precooked heart, gizzard and neck may be floured and browned with turkey the last 15 minutes.

Comes Evening—Salad Supper To Go With 'A Little More . . .'

Comes evening. Seems like everyone wants a little more of that lovely turkey and "something light, please." A tangy salad, crisp cinnamon sticks and a large pot of coffee are a perfect finale for a festive Easter Sunday.

Or this might be a delightful supper for Monday, with a prelude of soup made from the carcass and seasoned lightly with a tweak of poultry seasoning.

TOASTED CINNAMON STICKS

Ingredients: Loaf of unsliced white bread, ⅔ cup evaporated milk, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cinnamon.

Method: Cut six 1-inch slices from loaf of bread. Remove crusts; cut each slice into 3 strips. Dip strips into undiluted evaporated milk, then brush with melted butter. Stir sugar and cinnamon together thoroughly; roll bread sticks in mixture.

Place on rack in shallow baking pan. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven for 20 minutes. Makes 18 strips.

AVOCADO FRUIT SALAD

Ingredients: 3 avocados, 3 oranges (sectioned membrane-free), small bunch seedless grapes, orange French dressing.

Method: Cut avocados in half lengthwise; remove pits. Arrange 6 or 7 orange sections in avocado halves with white grapes. Serve with Orange French Dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Note: If desired, avocados may be peeled and sliced; arrange slices on salad greens with orange sections and grapes.

ORANGE FRENCH DRESSING

Ingredients: 1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated orange juice, ¾ cup salad oil, ¼ cup cider vinegar, 3 to 4 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon Tabasco sauce.

Method: Put undiluted orange juice concentrate, salad oil, vinegar, sugar, mustard, salt and Tabasco in jar, bowl or bottle. Shake or beat until blended; or mix in electric blender. Dressing may be stored covered in refrigerator. Shake well before using. Makes 1¾ cups dressing.

Rosy Talisman Grapefruit

Ingredients: For every 2 servings—1 large grapefruit, 1 orange, 2 tablespoons grenadine syrup.

Method: Halve grapefruit; remove any seeds. Separate sections by cutting down both sides of dividing membranes, working from the center to the rind. Cut around rim to loosen both sections and membranes. Loosen center core and pull out with side membranes so fruit sections remain in place. Pare orange so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Immediately before serving pour 1 tablespoon grenadine over grapefruit half; arrange orange sections petal fashion over grapefruit. Serve at once.

Hors D'Oeuvre

For a pre-meal snack, use chipped beef . . . it's so easy. Shape about 1 tablespoon of cream cheese in hands to form roll about 1¼ inches long. Then wrap with 1 strip of chipped beef.

Hint On Purchasing

When buying spareribs, remember this handy suggestion . . . 1 side of ribs is equal to approximately 2 pounds.

AN EASTER TRADITION

Roast Lamb Provencal Sets Theme For Distinctive Menu

Easter is a day of rejoicing throughout the Christian world. In many European countries the breaking of the Lenten fast on Easter morning calls for a family feast with special dishes and holiday breads, and always the Easter eggs — colored in lilac and lavender, robin's blue, palest yellow, fresh greens, pink and scarlet.

For Easter services the churches are festive with flowers from a reborn earth and millions of voices join in anthems of praise and joy and triumph in the Resurrection.

As a harmonious climax to such a day, the dinner is elegant and gay. This dinner is French and offers a roast leg of lamb, provencal. The flavor of spring lamb is incomparable. Here in Marin the young, sweet meat we call spring lamb is available all the year round and it is especially abundant during the Easter season.

The lamb is roasted with fresh mint and white wine. We like it cooked slightly on the pink side, using — with true French practicality — meat tenderizer to insure tenderness, to shorten the cooking time and to keep the meat full-sized and juicy. All recipes serve six.

ROAST LEG OF LAMB PROVENCAL

5-6 lb. leg of lamb
Seasoned meat tenderizer
1 clove garlic, slivered
½ teaspoon rosemary or thyme, powdered.
3-4 fresh mint sprigs, finely chopped

or

1 teaspoon dried mint leaves, crushed
⅓ cup mint or currant jelly
⅓ cup California, dry white wine (sauterne or sherry)

In advance:

1. Make gashes in roast with sharp knife and force slivers of garlic deep into the meat. Sprinkle all surfaces of roast with seasoned meat tenderizer, as you would salt; do not add salt. Pierce deeply at 1 inch intervals with long pronged fork; this insures penetration of the tenderizer and prevents juice loss.

2. Mix rosemary or thyme with crushed mint; rub well into surfaces of roast. Let stand at room temperature 1 hour, or cover loosely and refrigerate overnight.

To cook:

1. Preheat oven to 325° F. Place roast on rack in open pan; do not cover or add water. Allow about 25 minutes to the pound for medium lamb. The tenderizer reduces cooking time and shrinkage, so do not overcook.

2. About 30 minutes before roast is done, cover it with the mint or currant jelly, mixed well with the wine. This gives the roast a beautiful glaze and flavors the drippings for the gravy.

To make the gravy:

After removing roast from pan, drain off the fat, returning about 3 tablespoons to pan. Set roasting pan on stove burner; add 1 to 2 tablespoons flour and brown; slowly add 1½ cups water and a 2 ounce can mushroom stems and pieces with liquid; bring to boil; reduce heat and continue cooking until slightly thickened, being sure that all the crisp drippings are blended in. Stir in ⅓ cup of the white wine.

FRUIT CUP GENIEVRE

Gin, the distillation of the genievre or juniper berry, gives a piquant, yet unrecognized, flavor to this cup.

Combine a can of pineapple chunks, with their juice, a can each mandarin oranges and grapefruit segments, both drained, in a bowl. Sprinkle lightly with confectioner's sugar; add the juice of one lemon. Refrigerate at least 12 hours. Serve in chilled compotes, adding a tablespoon of gin and a maraschino cherry to each.

CHATEAU POTATOES

Using baking or new potatoes, make tiny balls with a French melon scoop. Saute very lightly in a very little butter; add to roasting pan during last 45 minutes of cooking and brown along with the lamb, turning once.

GREEN BEANS SMITANE

Cook 2 packages frozen French-cut green beans according to package direction; drain. In a saucepan, saute 1 cup finely chopped onion in 2 tablespoons butter until limp; blend in 2 tablespoons flour; add ⅔ cup mayonnaise, ½ cup sour cream, 1 jigger (3 tablespoons) dry white wine and 1 teaspoon seasoned meat tenderizer. Cook mixture just a few minutes, until creamy — stirring constantly. Add to green beans at serving time.

CELERY VICTOR

Combine ⅓ cup olive oil, 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar, 1 tablespoon well drained India relish, ½ teaspoon seasoned meat tenderizer and ¼ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper. Steam 3 stalks of celery hearts in boiling salted water — tightly covered — until just tender (about 10 minutes) or, use a No. 2 can celery hearts drained. Arrange celery in a shallow dish; pour dressing over and refrigerate at least 2 hours. To serve, place celery hearts on lettuce lined plates, add remaining dressing and a garnish of sieved hard-cooked eggs and anchovy fillets.

LIME PIE

Bake and cool a flaky pie shell (9 inches). Combine 1 can of thick, sweetened condensed milk, the yolks of 3 eggs, well beaten and ⅓ cup fresh lime juice; fold in the egg whites (also well beaten). Preheat oven to 250°F.; pour mixture into pie shell and bake 10 minutes. When cool, refrigerate until needed. The pie is served with a covering of whipped cream, sweetened with a tablespoon of rum and a finishing touch of ground cinnamon.

Pineapple Adds Tropical Note To Smothered Fillets Of Sole

A fruit garnish and a dash of seasoning can provide some exciting variations in foods that are basic favorites and in short order, too.

In this recipe, pineapple slices or tidbits are placed in an attractive border around the sole for a pleasing contrast to the baked fish. The preparation time for this dish is less than 5 minutes and you'll find it an exceptionally good combination.

BAKED FILLET OF SOLE, TROPICALE

1½ pounds fillet of sole
1 medium-sized onion, sliced into thin rings
Salt and pepper
1 can cream of chicken or mushroom soup
2 tablespoons milk or sherry
6 slices of pineapple or 2 cups pineapple tidbits

Place fillets in a shallow baking pan. Scatter onion rings over and season to taste with salt and pepper. Stir cream of chicken soup to soften and add milk or sherry.

Pour over fish. Arrange pineapple slices or tidbits in an attractive border around edge of pan. Bake in a hot oven. (425° F.) for 40 minutes. Serves 4.

Basting poultry and meat as it roasts is a good way to keep the surfaces from becoming dry.

Special—Roast Cornish Hens

Ingredients: 4 Rock Cornish game hens (each 14 ounces), 4 leafy celery tops, 4 large sprigs parsley, 1 seedless orange, ½ cup (¼ pound) butter, salt, pepper.

Method: Thaw hens; wash in cold water; drain and dry; bend wings back so they are akimbo. Put a celery top, parsley sprig and one-quarter of the unpeeled orange in the body cavity of each hen; tie legs together. Spread 1 tablespoon of soft butter over outside of each hen; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place breast-side down in shallow roasting pan in hot (450 degrees) oven; after about 20 minutes spread hens with remaining 4 tablespoons soft butter and turn breast-side up. Continue to roast 30 to 40 minutes longer, basting once or twice, or until hens are extremely tender and well browned. Makes 4 servings.

Party Patties

In preparing ham patties or lamb patties the next time, add a touch of color by topping them with a maraschino cherry surrounded by 2 pieces of pineapple. For pineapple pieces, simply cut a pineapple slice into quarters.

Remember Bermuda onions for salads and go-alongs for hamburgers; they are large and sweet.

San Rafael School Plans Open House

The parents of the San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School have had an active spring semester. New officers who were installed are Mesdames John P. Ryan, president; Richard Curtis, vice president; Lynndale Engstrom, secretary; Laurence Wright, treasurer; Warren Logan, schedule chairman; Eugene Campbell, equipment chairman; Frederick Owen, finance chairman; Walter Hotzner, ways and means; Philip Hicks, education chairman; Elwin Case, nutrition chairman; and Bruce McKenzie, William Lane and W. Raymond Baur, delegate to the Marin County Council of Nursery Schools.

The school recently entertained its members, alumni and guests at a Mardi Gras Costume Ball. The dance was held at Carpenters Hall. Costumes were varied and prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Owen for best couple; Mrs. John Ryan for the cleverest female costume, and Elwin Case for the best male costume.

A White Elephant sale was held at the recent meeting of the parents' group and sufficien money was raised to buy a piece of equipment for the children's play yard which is being rebuilt this year from a plan designed by Katy and Paul Steinmetz. It is the hope of the school to have much of the yard ready for the children's use when they return from Easter vacation and for the annual Open House which will be held this year on April 9. Anyone who is interested in seeing the school is invited to attend.

The school is in session Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and is directed by Mrs. E. W. Egenberger and Mrs. M. A. McConnell. It has a capacity of 40 children from two years and nine months through kindergarten age. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Curtis.

Dr. Samuel Le Count To Address P-TA

The regular monthly meeting of the E Street School P-TA will have as its guest speaker Dr. Samuel Le Count whose topic will be "What To Do When Johnny Says No."

The business meeting will include election of officers for the coming school year and refreshments will be served following the meeting which will be held in the school auditorium tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m.

Kent School P-TA Elects Officers

Mrs. H. James Compton was elected president of the executive board of the Kent school P-TA at the recent meeting.

Mrs. Russell Dwyer was named as vice president and the school principal, Anthony Bacich, succeeded himself as a vice president. Other officers elected were Mrs. William Warnock, treasurer, Mrs. P. G. Cochrane, recording secretary, Mrs. Justin Handlos, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Andrew Gladney, financial secretary, Mrs. Milton Bromberg, historian, and Donald W. Chapman Jr., auditor.

MUSIC, DANCING

'Fiesta Flamenca' Program Given At Outdoor Art Club

Chosen as members of the nominating committee headed by Mrs. Gordon Harrison were Mesdames Frank Schroeder, Delmar Clinton, Joseph Brewster and Paul Hurd. Alternates will be Mesdames Wayne Bingham, Harold Jolley and Lowell Jett.

Miss Lee Crouch of the United States Forestry Service explained the Penny Pines Plantation program, stressing the fact that the large percentage of $22,000 contributed to this reforestation program has been made by women's clubs.

The Outdoor Art Club was the first club in Marin County to participate in the project and hopes to be able to provide for a planting of 6,800 seedlings for coverage of approximately eight acres.

Miss Crouch also called attention to the fire prevention campaign with which women's clubs are helping. The slogan "Where do you keep your matches?" is the result of concern over the fact that in the past year 10,000 acres of forest have been destroyed by fires started by children playing with matches.

Women's organizations are urged to help in the campaign to keep matches away from where children can reach them.

For the program Luisa and Daniel Maravilla of San Francisco presented a program of Flamenca music and dancing.

Daniel, American guitarist, met and married Luisa in Madrid, Spain in 1954, and they are now teachers of their respective arts as well as entertainers.

Before she performed Luisa explained how flamenca dancing originated in Andalusia, and her first numbers were of the type danced in Cadiz. Adding much interest to the program were her comments on her dances and Gypsy characteristics and customs—since she is part Gypsy herself.

But the high pont of the program was Luisa's final intricate dance done in a man's costume since it is usually danced only by a man because of the great strength needed in the legs.

Members were greeted at the door by Mesdames Joseph Wittenmeier, Robert Laughead and John Nahapiet. Mesdames Charles Bassett and M. A. Leonis were in charge of tea preparation, and were assisted by Mesdames Samuel Seifert, Gordon Von Der Werth, R. A. Young and Donald Schlemmer.

Wolo The Puppeteer To Attend Luncheon

Easter dreams for the young and the young-in-heart of all ages will be realized on Tuesday, March 24, at Rickey's Rancho Rafael. Wolo, the fascinating puppeteer who charms bright-eyed children on TV, will bring Aloysious and Petita, dressed in their Easter finery, to greet boys and girls and their mothers at the special Fashion Focus Vacation Luncheon, "Easter Dreams."

This is a particularly appropriate time to honor the Service League of the Junior Museum of Marin, whose members will be modeling at the luncheon, since the Junior Museum not only contains "Easter Bunnies," but many other live animals as well. Through the museum, children have the opportunity to learn first-hand the habits of Marin wildlife; and the nature tours given by the Museum's director are both instructive and fun. The Museum has opened wide the gateways to nature for many thousands of children. The yearly budget of the Museum is supplemented by the activities of the Service League and by its fund drive, now in progress.

Luncheon guests can dream to their heart's content, as mothers model the very latest in delightful Easter fashions, with their children, who will be smaller versions of charm and chic for the younger set. The Ross Valley Shop is providing the "Easter Dreamy" clothes for the Service League mothers. Bell's Children's Shop is dressing the moppets. The House of Kwan Yin will create interesting hairstyles to last not only through Easter morning, but to bloom prettily—under a hat or not—into spring. The gay Easter decorations will delight not only the adult fashiongoers, but also their little guests, who will be enchanted with Easter Bunnies and colorful eggs in gay Easter Baskets, as well as other "Easter Surprises." As a special treat, the children may order their luncheon from a small specially designed menu.

The Service League considers itself honored to have Wolo make his first public appearance since a serious heart attack. As his first time out to meet the boys and girls since his illness, Wolo is looking forward to seeing many old friends, and to making new ones. In honor of the occasion, March 24 at Rickey's will be "Wolo's Get Better Day" when Wolo will preside at a special table for Easter.

The Easter Dreams Fashion Focus Vacation Luncheon is open to the public, and reservations for the 12:30 luncheon may be made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael. The fashion show will begin at 1 o'clock.

Loretta Gregory Becomes Bride Of Paul Kramer

The chapel at Hamilton Air Force Base was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Loretta Lee Gregory and Paul J. Kramer. Both the bride and bridegroom are with the Air Force stationed at Hamilton.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Jeff Jennings of Pomona, the bride wore a ballerina satin gown fashioned with scoop neckline and three-quarter sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a pearl coronet and she carried a blue and white nosegay.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. J. M. Kramer of Berkeley and the late Mr. Kramer attended schools in Wisconsin.

Musical Shows What High School Teen-Agers Can Do

Marin's high schools have programs in which they excel. Tamalpais High, for example, wins science award after science award. Marin Catholic takes the oratory honors. Although Redwood and Novato Highs are too young to have any over-all record as yet, Drake is proud of the standing its students make in college. Tomales aims its program at agriculture and San Rafael has long been noted for its music department.

San Rafael enhanced its reputation over the weekend. They undertook a difficult production, the musical "Oklahoma!" Two SRO houses can testify they came through with flying colors.

The production had an interesting and exciting background. We don't know exactly how many were in the cast, but when they all came on stage at the finale there was hardly room for them to stand shoulder to shoulder. We'd guess there were at least one hundred students actually participating on stage. In addition, there must have been another 35 or 40 in the orchestra pit, to say nothing of stage crew, make-up, and all the other activities.

With this number of participants, it was to be expected that some complications would arise. It would hardly be anticipated, however, that both the male and female leads would have to drop out.

The male lead went first. He learned he was not able to continue about a couple of weeks before production date. A new lead had to be found and trained.

The female lead stayed in her part right through dress rehearsal. Then she contracted blood poisoning. On production morning at 9 a.m., the girl who had been her understudy was notified she was going on. We're told she had never sung with an orchestra until she was on the stage Friday night before a full house.

But these two and the other 98 or so came through like old troupers. They sang and shouted, they acted and danced. It was a remarkable exhibition of what young people can do when given the proper direction and opportunity.

We congratulate the faculty members responsible for the play. But more especially we congratulate the cast and orchestra, the teen-agers of San Rafael High, who came through with an outstanding production.

Cocky, Little Chatterbox

Imported from England in 1850, this aggressive little fellow established himself quickly and was soon spread from coast to coast and into Canada and Mexico.

We in Marin are not immune to this "pest." English sparrows, as everyone knows, are well established here. Their nests, which they will build out of any available material, are monuments to poor housekeeping. Their appetite for grain makes them an economic problem in farming areas. Adding insult to injury, they often crowd out less aggressive birds.

The English sparrow's lack of fear is one of its few redeeming features. Quick-tempered and something of a scold, it will attack with streams of shrill bird invective birds several times its size. It is cocky and tough.

We must admire, albeit reluctantly, this hardy little fellow's tremendous adaptability which makes him at home the year round from Canada to Mexico. He's mighty hard to discourage.

THE HIGH COST OF WAR

A battleship which never went to sea was sold recently as scrap for one-fiftieth of what it cost.

This warship, The Kentucky, took $55 million and 7 years to construct. Its keel was laid at Norfolk, Va., in December 1942, during World War II.

After repeated postponements, the ship was finally launched in January, 1950, to be fitted in the event of an emergency.

However, revolutionary developments in economic and missile warfare made the Kentucky obsolete. Congress approved its sale for scrap. The buyer got it for $1,176,000.

It would be foolhardy to neglect developing modern means of defense, even if later discarded. Possessing them aften prevents war.

However, skyrocketing costs of everything connected with hostilities should stimulate us to be more daring and realistic in working for that precious peace on earth which God wishes mankind to enjoy.

(Luke 2:14)

Help me, Lord, to be a more effective instrument in bringing your divine peace into a troubled world.

Lucky? Actress Says 'It Isn't Luck When God Is Good To You'

In reply Nan likes to quote a line from the play she currently is starred in: "It isn't luck when God is good to you."

"Nothing wonderful ever happens to you overnight," she said soberly. "There is a long process of hard work before you take the long stride, the big step.

"I've always wondered what makes people stay in the theater. It's a cruel business. It's a brutal business. You have to work very hard to get by in it, and you have to love it very much to stay in it."

Nan first tried for a footlight career here at the age of 17, shortly after graduating from a Santa Monica, Calif., high school, where she was the only girl student president in the school's history.

A ROLE IN "The Constant Wife" with Katharine Cornell launched her on her way, but then she married Robert Emmett Dolan, a young producer, and she quit to become "a full-time wife." They moved to the West Coast.

"It was a wonderful life," she said. "We had a house by the ocean. I painted, and learned to cook, and had a son. I was very domestic. I even made slippers in needlepoint for everyone I loved.

"THEN ONE DAY I found I had to go back to the theater. It was burning inside me. So back I came."

Starting all over, Nan took any kind of theatrical job she could find.

She caught the eye of director Elia Kazan. The phone call from him led her to stardom, as it has many others.

Boy Didn't Have To Change Tire

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently an article appeared in your paper regarding publicity of the good deeds of our youth. I would like to add my contribution.

On the way to San Francisco last week, I had a flat tire just as I left the Waldo Tunnel. Arriving safely in the parking area nearest there, I realized the car behind had swiftly followed. I told the driver I would be grateful if he would notify my automobile association.

But he said he would change the tire, which he did, quietly, quickly and efficiently. And would not take a thing for his trouble.

He was a youth from Santa Rosa who could have gone right on to San Francisco and not had dirty hands on arriving there. But he did stop and help two older women in distress.

I thanked him as best I knew how, which seemed very small for what he had done.

Would that we might talk more of the good youth does. It might encourage others who seem confused about it.

Amendment Will Clarify 'Fee' Bill

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The interesting editorial in the issue of Wednesday, March 11, titled "Bill Would Keep Medical Fees, Glasses Prices Secret" has come to our attention, and we thought the following information would be of interest to you.

The explanation of AB 1627 (Rumford) which was quoted in paragraph four of the editorial will shortly be amended by the author to delete the word "disseminate" and in place thereof to insert the word "advertise" to clarify the intent of the measure.

AB 1627 was never intended to prohibit the proper disclosure of fees to patients and it was NOT and will NOT be intended to prohibit advertising by professional men. It was and is intended, in the best interests of the public and the professions, to stop mis-leading advertising by those practitioners who have not exactly played fair with the reading public in many instances.

Our understanding of this measure by Mr. Rumford is that it is solely intended to protect the public, through legislation from misleading statements. The forthcoming amendment should make the meaning clearer.

I hope the above will be of value to you.

Sunny Hills Board Appreciates Help

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May I exress the appreciation of the Board of Directors of Sunny Hills for your thoughts expressed in the editorial Thursday, March 12.

It is most important that we all understand the problems which we, as citizens, are facing in today's world, and it is of great help to us to know we have the confidence of our own community.

Beaches, Parks Division Flexes Bureaucrat Muscles At Lake Benbow

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Among the reasons the State Senate and Assembly, with but few dissenting votes, made the chief of the State Division of Beaches and Parks appointive by the governor of the state, was resentment of legislators against the dictatorial attitude of the division on the usage of beaches and parks property.

An incident at hand is the case of Benbow Lake in Humboldt County.

FOR YEARS, the lake area has been in private hands — and has been used by water skiiers as one of the few places in Humbolt County where this sport could be enjoyed.

Both sides of Benbow Lake were acquired by the State Division of Beaches and Parks. Immediately, water skiing was banned in accordance with the bureaucratic regulations of the division.

This was despite the fact that no beaches and park development is planned this year at Benbow Lake. No funds have been appropriated for development, and the property apparently will remain the same this summer as it has been during past years when residents of the area used it for water skiing.

CONSTITUENTS OF Sen. Carl L. Christensen, Jr., (D-Eureka) aroused his ire by calling the situation to his attention. The Humboldt senator wrote to Newton B. Drury, chief of the division.

In replying, Drury said "I know you can understand the difficulty of enforcing the commission's aquatic regulations in other localities and allowing an exception at Benbow Lake State Park."

Senator Christensen in replying to his constituent in Eureka said:

"I cannot quite follow this conclusion, nor do I believe it is consistent with the proper utilization of state parks for recreation purposes."

The State Park Commission has a long history of operating state beaches and parks in a bureaucratic manner. It was highlighted some time ago by refusal to allow camping in D. L. Bliss State Park at Lake Tahoe except at established camp sites; it had hundreds of acres of excellent camping area and scores of people with their own camping outfits seeking a place to throw down.

Whether the removal of Drury from his position as dictator of the park system will improve the situation remains to be seen. Remaining is the park commission's fetish of "maintaining the natural beauty" of the areas by even refusing campers the privilege of removing fallen limbs and brush for firewood from the forests. And also opposing a convenient and comfortable highway along the west shore of Lake Tahoe.

Private Wilkins had been living for the day when he'd receive his discharge from the Army. No sooner had he donned his civvies than he dashed off this note to his former commanding officer:

"Dear Captain Koshland: After the indignities and repeated humiliations I've suffered for the past three years, it now gives me infinite pleasure to tell you and the whole Army to go straight to hell."

Back came this reply: "Dear Sir: Suggestions concerning the movements of troops must be entered on Army Form AGO-186M, in triplicate, copies of which are enclosed. Captain Koshland."

Public Will Get Eyeful Of U.S. Air Power At Hamilton Tomorrow

ALL HANDS AT Hamilton Air Force Base are preparing for tomorrow's open house, at which the public will be given an eyeful of U. S. air power.

Feature of the show, of course, will be a demonstration of precision, wing-tip to wing-tip flying by a team of four jets, piloted by the air force's famed "Thunderbirds."

Preparations for the Thunderbirds' display are proceeding, despite the tragic death of one of the pilots, Capt. Charles D. Salmon, in an attempt to bail out of his aircraft over Southern Nevada last week.

Capt. Charles W. Maultsby, carried on the Thunderbird roster as a "spare" pilot, will take over in Salmon's spot.

Also on display will be most of the Air Force's century series of fighter planes — the F-100, F-101, F-102 and F-104 — plus cargo and rescue aircraft of types operated from Hamilton.

The Air Force Academy's Class of 1962 will be on hand, and will stage a formal retreat parade at 4 p.m. The cadets will be honored at a dance at the Hamilton Officers' Club Friday night.

Present, too, will be about 20 retired Air Force generals and about 120 retired colonels, all of whom live within 50 miles of Hamilton and represent the men who built the Air Force to its present might.

The open house starts at 2 p.m. and lasts until 5:30. Hamilton's 573rd Air Force Band will present a concert at 2:30 in the area of hangar seven.

SPEAKING OF Hamilton Air Force Base, we are advised that the base is recommended by Duncan and Heinz.

A couple of Air Force inspectors, Lt. Malcolm Heinz and Sgt. Lancelot Duncan, travel about Air Force bases without making known their identities, checking all facilities used by transient air crews.

If everything checks out well, the base receives a "Recommended by Duncan and Heinz" award. Hamilton is among 25 bases currently on the recommended list, and is the only Air Defense Command Base on the list, according to base officials.

WE'VE HEARD of horse traders getting kicked by their stock in trade, but never, until last week, did we hear of the same thing happening to a car dealer.

The luckless recipient of the blow was Novato's well-known used car dealer Walt Brown, who was standing at the rear of one of his cars which was being moved out of the lot.

The car apparently zigged when Brown was expecting a zag, and slammed his knee between a bumper and a bumper guard.

Result: A nastily torn set of ligaments, and Brown's starboard leg in a cast for the next month.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Hawaii Is Ready For Statehood And The U.S. Is Ready For Hawaii

There will soon be 50 states in the Union — 100 Senators and one or two more members of the House of Representatives.

It is more than 100 years since President Franklin Pierce suggested that Hawaii be incorporated into the Union.

Now, after 22 formal hearings since 1935, producing 6,400 printed pages of testamony and exhibits, totalling some 3,000,000 words with 900 witnesses being heard in the territory and in Washington, the State of Hawaii is being welcomed with open arms.

For the first time in history the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee unanimously recommended a state for admission and Senate Bill 50 will make Hawaii the 50th state with the notable high of seven Southern Senators joining in approval.

IS HAWAII contiguous? Hawaii doesn't touch the continental U. S. but it is nearer to the main body of the nation than many other states, including California, were when they were first admitted

In travel and in communication Hawaii is closer to Washington, D. C., than Boston and New York were when the Republic was founded.

CAN HAWAII PAY its way? It has a population of 600,000 people — larger than the population of any state at the time of admission, except Oklahoma.

It has a strong economy and for years has paid into the U. S. Treasury more taxes than nine states of the Union.

WHO ARE THE Hawaiian people? At least 90 per cent of them are American citizens.

The population consists of approximately 37 per cent Japanese ancestry, 23 per cent Caucasian, 17 per cent Hawaiian ancestry, 12 per cent Philipino ancestry, and 6 per cent Chinese ancestry.

They have a strong, stable, modern democratic form of government.

ARE THEY LOYAL? The late Sen. Hugh Butler, then chairman of the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, made this report after an on-the-spot study:

"If there is such a thing as a supreme test of loyalty to an ideal, then a willingness to serve in battle in support of that ideal is entitled to such a description."

There were 426 Hawaiian boys killed in the Korean action.

WHAT ABOUT communism? In 1950 the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities estimated that there were 90 known Communists in Hawaii. Later J. Edgar Hoover put it at 36.

There are no Communists in the Hawaiian Legislature and when one sympathizer of Harry Bridges ran for mayor of Honolulu in 1956, he was administered the worst defeat in Hawaiian history.

WHAT OF HAWAIIAN politics? The two-party system prevails. It has been traditionally Republican.

In 1956 Hawaii elected its first Democratic delegate to Congress since 1934 and re-elected him last year. Recently Hawaii has reflected the national voting pattern and since 1954 Democrats have controlled the Hawaiian legislature for the first time.

San Geronimo Fluoridation Discussion Set

The San Geronimo Valley Assn. will combine an election meeting with a discussion of fluoridation of water at 8 p.m. on April 20 in the Lagunitas School.

Members Monday night voted to hear speakers for and against fluoridation. The speakers are yet to be named.

Proposed by a nominating committee Monday night were the following candidates: For president, Joseph Furdan; vice president, Ralph Roy; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Louise Wood; directors, Fred Clark and R. E. Davidson of Woodacre; Mrs. Vern Ringer and Kenneth Burt of San Geronimo; Mrs. Orville Yerion and Jesse (Buck) Joyce of Forest Knolls; Leslie Stone and William Rautio of Lagunitas. Further nominations will be made from the floor at the April 20 meeting.

The members voted to require that teen-agers attending a dance to be given by the association April 4 at the Lagunitas School be required to be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Hearing Scheduled On May 4 For Freitas Annexation

A proposed 1,090-acre annexation to San Rafael will get a public hearing before the city council on May 4.

Petitions asking for annexation were accepted Monday from property owners of the vast undeveloped land north of San Rafael up to Freitas Parkway. Owners include the Freitas family, which has the 800-acre Freitas Ranch; John Kenny of Alameda Homes; Calvin Wheeler of Alliance Construction Co. and Terra Linda Corp.; Harry Heifetz of Commonwealth Development Co.; the Marin Professional Center across the highway from Terra Linda; several churches, and Ann Curtis Cuneo, who runs a swimming school in the area.

The petitioners have agreed to $75 per unit for every home built on the annexed land, and $375 per acre for all land developed for other than residential use. These fees would be used to pay for non-recurring expenses.

All of the United States output of iodine comes from California where it is produced from wells in Los Angeles and Orange Counties.

Calif. Students Lag Nation, Survey Shows

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Californians had new indications today that their school system does not stand tall nationally.

A legislative advisory commission on the schools made public a troubling report prepared by the state Department of Education.

Department researchers, combing through 1957 state college records, found:

1. The average scores on English grammar and reading tests given freshmen at four colleges were "consistently lower" than the national norms at liberal arts institutions.

SHADE HIGHER

2. The average scores on standard academic aptitude tests for new freshmen at all the colleges were only a shade above the national norm.

3. Newly enrolled freshman women students at San Jose State College were down in the bottom quarter among college-bound high school graduates nationally in mathematics, science and social studies scoring.

4. New freshman men students at San Jose scored lower in math, science and social studies than college-bound high school graduates nationwide.

LOWER SCORES

5. The aptitude test scores of new students out for teaching credentials were "considerably lower" than those of new students with no stated interest in teaching.

Completed last May, the department's survey did not come to light until a session here this weekend of a citizens commission set up by the Legislature to investigate California schools.

Department researchers found that the poor showing of freshmen was compensated —at two state colleges, at least —by the better results on a national scale achieved later by advanced students.

FLATTERING DATA

Department researchers said "the data from this limited testing program . . . are highly flattering to the state colleges."

Less flattering—though unspoken—were the implications for California high schools.

However, freshmen entering three southern state colleges—Long Beach, Los Angeles (an older group generally) and San Diego—scored above the national norm convincingly in academic aptitude tests.

In Northern California, the lowest-scoring freshmen — all below the national middle point —were found enrolled at Chico, Humboldt and San Francisco.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Winter Still Reigns

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Winter held the fort against the onrushing spring season today, scattering snow flurries across the Northeast and driving cold air into Dixie.

With spring due officially in three days, overnight readings plunged into the 30s southward into North Carolina and sections of Georgia and Alabama.

Sub zero temperatures were common in the northern Great Lakes region.

Snows yesterday buried St. Patrick's Day greenery under a blanket of white in parts of the Midwest and the East. A surprise snowstorm and high winds battered 130,000 marchers in New York City's St. Patrick's Day parade. But despite the storm, the turnout set a record.

Judy To Sing At Met

NEW YORK (AP)—Judy Garland will star at the Metropolitan Opera House starting May 11 when her musical variety show opens a week's engagement to benefit the Children's Asthma Research Institute at Denver.

A Metropolitan spokesman said he could recall no previous occasion when a singer of popular music starred in a performance at the Met.

After Quints, A Girl

TOULON, France (UPI)—Mrs. Laurence Christofle, 41, who gave birth to quintuplets Oct. 2, 1957, only to see them all die within 16 days, gave birth Monday to a normal, healthy girl.

She remarked despairingly after the last of the five tiny infants died, "My dream was not to be a celebrity but simply to be a mother."

Korea Bans 'Zhivago'

SEOUL (UPI)—The Republic of Korea government said today it has banned the stage production of "Dr. Zhivago," the controversial novel of Nobel prize-winning Russian author Boris Pasternak.

It has been the government's policy to prohibit publication, or stage or movie production of any literary works by persons presently living in Communist countries. Pasternak resides in the suburbs of Moscow.

Djuanda To Visit Russ

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Prime Minister Djuanda has accepted an invitation from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to visit the Soviet Union this summer. The trip is designed to improve friendly relations with the Soviet Union.

Yugo-China Trade Cut

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia and Communist China today signed a new trade pact worth only 40 per cent as much as their 1958 agreement.

The sharp reduction in trade was interpreted here as a Peiping move to put economic pressure on President Tito for following a line independent of the Soviet-led bloc.

Rocks Peril Herbriggen

It was a grim reminder that the million-ton rock slide threatening this Alpine village has not completely stabilized. The rocks fell harmlessly on the village outskirts.

Teen Sex Ring Broken

NEW YORK (AP) — Five girls and five boys, all between 10 and 15, were taken into custody by police last night and accused of taking part in sex orgies in the apartment of an alleged procurer.

Detectives Edward Brady and Edward Hanford said their investigation indicated that as many as 30 children participated in the sex parties over a period of more than a year.

They said the apartment was that of George Diblin, 41, married and the father of two, who was arrested recently and accused of heading a ring of $100-a-night call girls.

Film Couple Recovered

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—Actor Dick Powell and his wife, June Allyson, will be discharged today from St. John's Hospital, according to doctors.

Powell, hospitalized a week ago suffering from bronchitis, was joined by his wife three days ago when doctors heard her cough while visiting Powell and ordered her hospitalized for treatment of the same ailment.

TV To Link Red Cities

VIENNA (AP)—The Soviets are planning a television network linking East Europe's Communist capitals with Moscow.

The Hungarian news agency MTI said work has already started on relay towers 90 feet high to bring Soviet programs to Budapest. This link is to be completed by 1961.

TV relays will also connect Moscow with Warsaw, Prague, and the capitals of Romania and Bulgaria.

Ship To Be Junked

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The Chilean navy's 32,000-ton Almirante Latorre, once the most powerful warship in Latin America, is headed for a Japanese scrapheap.

The British-built battleship, which took part in the World War I Battle of Jutland, was sold for $881,000 to be broken up into scrap metal.

Miscegenation Legal

CARSON CITY (AP)—Inter-racial marriages are now legal in Nevada after a 98-year ban dating back to territorial days.

A bill repealing the old statute was signed yesterday by Gov. Grant Sawyer. The old law was held unconstitutional by Judge Taylor Wines in Reno last December when he granted a marriage license to San Francisco longshore leader Harry Bridges and his Nisei fiancee, Noriko Sawada.

Salling Rites Near

GATE CITY, Va. (AP) — Throngs continue to pour into this little town in final tribute to Civil War veteran John Salling.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow. The body of the 112-year-old general—the title was honorary—has been on public view since yesterday at the National Guard Armory.

Salling died Monday in a Kingsport, Tenn., hospital, leaving another Confederate, Walter Williams, 116, Houston, Tex., as the only surviving veteran of the Civil War.

$5,000 Allowance

The award was made on request of De Mille's daughter, Mrs. Cecelia De Mille Harper, who recently was named guardian of her mother, Mrs. Constance De Mille.

Mrs. Harper is the chief beneficiary in De Mille's will. He died last Jan. 21 at age 77.

Bill Extending DST Passed By Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Assembly by the narrow margin of 42-32 yesterday passed to the Senate a bill extending daylight saving time through October.

Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo), author of the measure, pointed out that if it is adopted by the Senate it would have to be submitted to the people for a vote at the next general election.

At the present time, daylight saving begins on the last Sunday in April and ends on the last Sunday in September.

Francis said if DST were extended for another month it would bring California in line with time schedules in New York, Chicago and most major eastern states.

Principal opposition came from Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Fresno) who said it would work a hardship on the farmers and rural school children.

Storm Drain Planned To Ease Flooding

San Rafael has taken another step to ease winter flooding in the lower Second street area.

The city council Monday decided to open bids on April 6 for an $80,000 storm drain designed to catch the runoff from San Rafael Hill and divert it under Fifth avenue all the way to Irwin Creek under the Highway 101 overpass.

Public Works Supt. Norris Rawles presented plans and specifications calling for an 18-inch pipe starting above C street near the firehouse and running east under Fifth avenue to the creek. The storm drain will get larger as it heads toward the creek until the pipe is 45 inches in diameter when it reaches the creek.

The job is expected to take 90 working days to complete. If a satisfactory bid is received in April, the job should be completed in August.

Waterfront Residents Organize

A crowd of Sausalito residents who make their homes on the waterfront jammed the Old Town Coffee Shop Monday night to make official the formation of the Sausalito Waterfront Protective Assn.

David Lee, 24-year-old sculptor and driver for the Mill Valley Lumber Co., was named permanent chairman. Other officers designated include Mrs. Thaddeus Thomas, secretary; Mrs. Suzanne Gump Harriss, corresponding secretary, and Lawrence Steese, treasurer.

Members were supplied with cards which are to be returned with opinions on what action should be taken to protect the interests of the waterfront dwellers, especially against proposed action by the City of Sausalito against some arks and barges accused of violating city ordinances.

Mill Valleyan Plans Strawberry Float

Dr. I. D. Steinhardt of 301 E. Strawberry drive, Mill Valley, has applied for an Army permit to construct a boat landing in Richardson Bay on the east side of Strawberry Point.

The landing float would be constructed parallel to and four and a half feet shoreward of a dredged canal along the easterly side of Strawberry Point.

Any objections to the proposed work as it would affect the public rights of navigation should be submitted in writing with three copies to Col. John S. Harnett, District Engineer, 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco, by April 15.

Reservist Trains

Bids Opened For Nick's Cove Work

Carey Brothers Construction Co. of Greenbrae was low bidder yesterday for the job of expanding and improving Miller Park boating facilities at Nick's Cove on Tomales Bay.

The firm, which offered to do the work for $43,287, submitted one of five bids opened by the Marin County Board of Supervisors. High bidder was O. C. Jones and Sons of Berkeley with a figure of $72,319.

All bids were referred to County Auditor Leon A. de Lisle and Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham for study and a recommendation next Tuesday.

The Nick's Cove work will include replacement of the present one-boat launching ramp with a 48-foot ramp capable of handling two boats at a time, installing a breakwater and creating an adequate boat landing area. Also included is development of a parking area to handle 40 cars and trailers.

The state Wildlife Conservation Board last year approved $33,092 for the park improvement project. The county will be required to pay any costs beyond that figure. If Carey Brothers' bid is accepted, the difference will be $10,195.

In approving the project, the state board specified that any future needs for additional parking area must be met by the county. The county also will be required to provide water supply and any needed sanitary facilities.

Other bidders yesterday were G. M. Carr Co., Santa Rosa, $62,200 (plus alternate of $52,755); C and H Contractors, Richmond, $59,969, and M. Amaral Construction Co., Petaluma, $49,409.

In other matters yesterday the board of supervisors:

1. Authorized County Clerk George S. Jones to pay $2.50 an hour to special voter registration deputies, an increase of 50 cents over the old rate.

2. Appointed Paul R. Carey to the board's advisory committee on rapid transit, replacing Thomas D. Hartcastle, resigned.

3. Endorsed a legislative proposal by the California Supervisors Assn. for adding one cent to the state gasoline tax in 1959-60 to raise funds for correction of county and city road deficiencies. Under the plan, cities would receive 60 per cent of the proceeds and counties 40 per cent, with local matching funds required. Supervisor William D. Fusselman voted "no" and Supervisor Vera Schultz was absent.

4. Filed a letter from the Novato Chamber of Commerce and a petition from the Lynwood Park Property Owners Assn. asking that access to Highway 101 be provided from Rowland boulevard in the Novato area. The proposed road would link South Novato boulevard with 101 via Rowland.

5. Reappointed Manuel Fostine to the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District board for a four-year term.

6. Approved a set of amended instructions for county personnel working in the courthouse and courthouse annex in the event of a civil defense emergency.

7. Awarded Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael, a $6,507.11 contract for delivery of two nine-passenger station wagons for use by the county school superintendent's office and one four-door sedan for use by the sheriff's office. Ames submitted the lowest of three bids.

8. Approved payment of $372.30 for overtime of deputies in the adult division of the county probation department during February.

9. Gave preliminary approval to a proposed assessment district for construction of a small road linking Bret Harte Heights with Greenbrae, permitting access to Sir Francis Drake boulevard. The majority of lots to be assessed are situated within San Rafael, while several are in unincorporated territory. The project is estimated to cost $6,500.

10. Appointed the following: Shirley Sime as intermediate account clerk in the auditor-controller's office at $295 per month to fill a vacancy; Delbert Eskue as maintenance man (Grade 2) in public works department at $358 month to fill a vacancy, and Milton Gamboni as heavy equipment operator in public works department at $458 per month to fill a vacancy.

11. Promoted the following: Stanley Fontez from accountant-auditor to senior accountant in auditor-controller's office at $481 per month to fill a vacancy, and Clarence J. Nunes from fire warden (Grade 1) to fire warden (Grade 2) in county fire department at $376 per month, replacing Reno Angiolini, resigned.

Bid Opening Set For Library Work

Bids for the $150,000 expansion and remodeling of San Rafael Library will be opened on May 4, the city council decided Monday night.

Plans and specifications for a new wing behind the library and a new driveway and entrance on the E street side were approved by the city fathers. Architect Gordon A. Phillips drew up the plans.

The new wing and the remodeling is expected to take six months to complete.

Wed Lance? Not Ready, Declares Jill

By BOB THOMAS

Her problem is that she is going steady with Lance Reventlow, the heir to Barbara Hutton's millions. Since he has been a headline figure since birth and she is a promising young actress, their friendship has been much publicized.

"Everyone is trying to marry us off," she wails. "I'm not ready to get married. I did it once when I was 16, and it was a terrible mistake. I married a man of 24 whom I had met on a blind date. I had known him only two months.

THREE YEARS MORE

."I've known Lance three years. I think I might like to know him another three years before I decide about marrying him."

Lance's feelings on this score? She said he has never mentioned marriage.

"Racing is a fine sport—for other people's boy friends," she commented.

SAW FRIEND SPILL

But she has given up following the speedsters after seeing a close friend take a spill in the Grand Prix at Pomona a week ago.

Another problem is not so serious, but just as vexing: How do you buy a gift for the young man who has everything?

Their dates are simple enough. Both like to eat, so they often dine out or cook their own dinners. They often go to the movies or small parties at friends' houses.

The wealth seems to make little impression on Jill. She was reared in comfortable surroundings and is already a moneymaker herself.

Tryouts Tonight, Tomorrow For Mountain Play

Two more auditions have been scheduled for leading roles in the Tamalpais Mountain Play, "The Pied Piper," which will be presented in the outdoor theater atop Mt. Tamalpais on Sunday, May 17.

The first will be held in San Francisco at the California Hall, 625 Polk street, at 7:30 tonight.

The second is scheduled for the Park School auditorium on East Blithedale avenue, Mill Valley, tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Play director Dan Totheroh will conduct the tryouts.

The cast calls for nearly 100 players, of which one quarter are lead and speaking parts. Most of the lesser parts have been filled, including all the children's. Present need is for persons to play the key roles.

Asst. State Attorney Hits Bias In News

Howard H. Jewel, assistant state attorney general, charges that some newspapers and magazines are "fooling the public with editorial opinions disguised as news."

Jewel voiced the charge in an address to a public gathering Monday night in Novato sponsored by the Novato Forum. He urged that schools teach their students to read critically so they may separate news from editorial opinion.

He also advocated courses in religion for public schools.

Jewel explained to his listeners how they can exert political pressure in Sacramento and Washington by communicating with senators, congressman and representatives in the state Legislature.

Nathan Schafler, temporary chairman of the Forum, announced the group's next meeting will be April 6 at the Novato home of Dr. Paul O'Rourke. A constitution and bylaws are slated for adoption.

SIERRA VETERAN

Mountaineer Finds No Thrill In Rescues

By MARK KNIGHT

SEQUOIA-KINGS CANYON NATIONAL PARKS (AP) — A gentle, elderly man, described as a participant in more rescues in the wild back country of Sequoia-Kings Canyon National Parks than any other person, avows quietly that it probably is true.

Sixty-six-year-old "Skinny" Kirk (only the paymaster knows his first name is Everett) loves the Sierra.

"Why shouldn't I?" he drawled. "A doctor sent me here in 1917 to die. He said I might last six months. I never felt healthier in my life than I do today and that was 42 years ago."

District Ranger Bill Holloman, himself a newcomer of two years in the area, gave a brief history of Skinny, who says little about himself. He became a cattle rancher at Three Rivers, gateway to the southern park entrance. He has ridden all the trails and much of the unmapped thousands of square miles of the parks and the Kern River forest area.

When tragedy strikes in the High Sierra (a term definitely reserved for wilderness above approximately 8,000 feet) the first word from search headquarters is: "Ask Skinny Kirk the best way to get there."

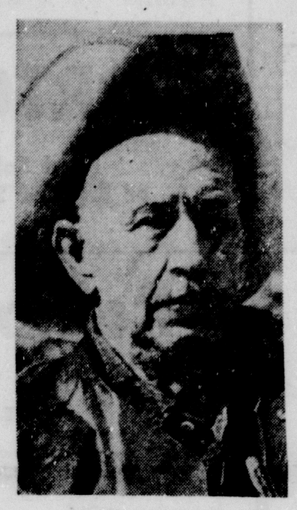
"And you had better take his advice," said Holloman. "The history of searches in the Southern Sierra shows he has seldom if ever been wrong. A few rangers have tried to outguess him, and regretted their temerity.

"Whenever he has been able to get away Skinny has accompanied the search parties. For all practical purposes, even to this day, when he is present he is in charge."

Asked what was the most thrilling rescue he could remember, Skinny reflected quite a while. He decided he couldn't answer directly. He had to put his thoughts in his own words.

"You just don't get thrills out of packing day and night through the rocks and snow of the Sierra, knowing all the time you probably are going to find a body eaten by the animals and the carrion birds," he said.

"Mostly the victims are found dead when we get



'SKINNY' KIRK
He knows the Sierra

there — victims of a country they knew nothing about and never should have ventured into at all, or at best not without a guide. We bring out what is left of them and not much is heard about it.

"There is not much to be said about them. With the ones we find alive it's a good idea, too, not to say too much. Usually they're scared, helpless and hungry. Some are hurt; others are just lost. I'll tell you I've been through a lot of it and I haven't found many real heroes among either the rescuers or the victims. It's a nasty business and most of it isn't necessary.

"Nobody—not even the skilled mountaineer — should go into that country alone unless he has to. I have done it and so have some of my friends, when something needed to be done, but we know if anything goes wrong we may not come out alive.

"With the inexperienced man or woman looking for adventure it's different. Either nobody tells him what he is in for or he doesn't listen. I have seen hundreds of people in that wild country that weren't prepared physically or any other way for what they headed into."

When not in the wilderness Skinny lives a quiet life with his wife, Pansy, who is a mountaineer in her own right. She was born on the Southfork of the Keweah River ranch where they live. They have two daughters, also in the ranch country.

One grandson, Jimmy Grindle, 13, is a frequent companion for Skinny on the back country trails.

"He will be ready to take over when I get too old for the job," Skinny proudly remarked.

Ranching and helping raise his grandchildren on the place at Three Rivers would seem to be enough to keep a man of Skinny's age busy, but it doesn't satisfy him.

"He joins us every time we have a serious forest fire," said Ranger Hollomon. "And he can outwork just about any two youngsters we send with him. The man is tireless."

Elopement Brings 3-Year Probation

Jack Watson Jr., 20-year-old San Rafael laborer who eloped to Reno last November with a 15-year-old Ross girl, was placed on three years probation by Judge Richard M. Sims Monday in Marin Superior Court for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

His mother and step-father, Sarah and Otis Holmes of Tormey, Contra Costa County, are to plead next Monday to charges of contributing to the delinquency of the young bride by helping to get her to Reno. The Reno marriage was subsequently annulled.

You Can Do More For Education Than Eisenhower Or Anyone Else

President Eisenhower wants to improve our schools. Our leaders are bent on improving our schools.

Did you know that you can improve your own children's education tremendously overnight? You can do more for them than the President or the Governor, more than the school board and the school superintendent. It won't cost you a dime, either. Does that sound fantastic?

Here's the way. On the nights your children have homework, turn off your TV set. Don't turn it on until the last child has finished the last assignment. Then be sure to turn it off again in time for them to get to bed at a reasonable hour. That's all you have to do.

I've been checking the effects of TV watching on school work. Children whose watching is unlimited average 20 per cent lower grades than children of the same ability whose TV watching is restricted. They get B's when they should get A's and D's instead of C's.

Our youngsters can't do their homework effectively while watching TV. They'll argue about it. They'll claim they can do both at once. But careful tests prove they can't. Study is study and TV entertainment is TV entertainment. The two don't mix. Many children are allowed to see their favorite programs first. They do their homework afterward. By then they're tired. They don't learn well. They're up too late, and are at a low ebb the next day.

Do you think I exaggerate the effect of unlimited TV watching on children? Then try my suggestion. You'll be surprised.

Marin City Notes Sold To N.Y. Firm

An issue of $752 000 in short-term notes to finance Marin City redevelopment was awarded to Guaranty Trust Co. of New York yesterday by the Marin County Housing Administration.

Guaranty Trust offered to buy the notes at an interest rate of 1.85 per cent plus a premium or discount of $17.

Closest other bidder was Crocker-Anglo National Bank, which offered the same interest at a premium of $10. Other bidders were Bank of America and Bankers Trust Co.

Erwin Farley, deputy executive director of the project, said the notes, which fall due Oct. 9, will finance early stages of the three-and-one-half-million-dollar low-rent housing project. Bonds are to be issued later.

Bill To Protect Incumbents Passed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to prevent political candidate from masquerading as the incumbent to deceive the voter breezed through the Assembl yesterday by a vote of 73-0.

Assemblyman Don Mulford (R-Berkeley), the author, said, "it is a well recognized political truism that the incumbent has an edge — one which he worked hard to attain."

The bill provides for court injunctions to prevent violations. A clause which would have made the offense a misdemeanor was amended out of the bill.

With A Level, Easy To Maintain Yard Enclosed By A White Picket Fence
A charming home in a beautiful setting. It has two bedrooms, lovely living room with fireplace that has a gas jet for easy starting. The bathroom is delightful and has an overhead electric heater with a fan—a wonderful idea. The kitchen has a large dining area, garbage disposer, exhaust fan, and is wired for electric stove. There is wiring and plumbing for laundry equipment in the garage. The doors are weatherstripped. The entire interior has just been professionally decorated. The owners have purchased a larger home and can move on short notice. The price is $16,450 and 10% down may be enough if you can qualify for an FHA loan.

Inflation Is Here To Stay!
THAT IS THE OPINION OF THE NATION'S MOST OUTSTANDING FINANCIAL FORECASTERS! REAL ESTATE IS THEIR PRIMARY CHOICE AS A HEDGE AGAINST INFLATION. This does not primarily apply to so-called "BIG OPERATORS"! THINK! You, too, may have from $10,000 to $20,000 tied up in equity in your property which may be entirely unproductive or not producing enough!
FOR EXAMPLE:
We have listed a property which can be handled for $25,000 IN CASH OR EQUITY Earnings over a proven period have been consistently in excess of $30,000 gross yearly.
ANOTHER of our listings is an older home, IN A CLASS-A RENTAL AND "ADDRESS" LOCATION — Built like the proverbial "Rock of Gibraltar," just waiting for that "smart" someone to come along and convert to 6-7-8-9 or 10 units. This may be handled for as little as $15,000 in cash or equity.
THESE are just 2 examples — We have many others!
COME, SEE US!
Problems which may seem insurmountable to you are just routine to us.

TV Hostess To Be Egg Hunt Guest

"Miss Nancy" Besst, hostess of KGO-TV's weekday morning "Romper Room" show (9:30-10 a.m.), will be the special guest at the Pixie Parents' Easter Egg Hunt in Marin tomorrow.

"Miss Nancy" will join with the members of the Pixie Parents organization in presenting the fourth annual pre-school Easter Egg Hunt at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. The program is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

Arrangements are being made for a day of entertainment which will include goat rides, egg-rolling contests, a roving clown and the Easter Egg Hunt.

Proceeds of the hunt will be used for maintaining the playground for pre-school children as well as for other charitable purposes in Marin County.

Hearing Set On Plea For Church

A public hearing on a proposal for an additional church in Marin City has been set for April 6 at 2 p.m. at the Marin County Office Building.

The hearing was set by the county planning commission at the request of Rev. B. C. Pruitt of the Church of God in Christ.

Sausalito Plan

Earl Dunphy and Eric Barnett, co-chairmen of the Sausalito Citizens Advisory Committee, will meet with their subcommittee chairmen tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the city hall with the announced purpose of "stimulating public support for the proposed Sausalito general plan."

LILY PINNED ON 'MAN IN STREET'

Hugh Turner, radio station KTIM's manager and "Man in the Street," got a lily—in fact, a whole bunch of them—placed on his chest yesterday. But Turner was very much alive, out to boost the sale of Easter seals by the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Bethels of Job's Daughters in San Rafael, Kentfield and Larkspur will aid the fund drive by a lily sale on the streets Saturday. Job's Daughter Ruth Smith is pinning the lilies on Turner, with Linda Warren (foreground) and Pat Bogel (rear) watching.

Song Writer Carmichael's Mother Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Mrs. Lida Carmichael, called by her famous composer-son, Hoagy Carmichael, "the little old lady of the ivories," died yesterday. She was 82.

"She was under five feet tall and never weighed more than 90 pounds," he said. "At the turn of the century she used to take me to fraternity dances where she'd play ragtime, two steps and waltzes. I was 3 years old, and 15 years later I played dance music for the same fraternities."

PLAYED AT MOVIES

Carmichael said his mother, a tiny woman who reared four children, played original music accompaniment for the first cowboy-Indian movies shown in 1903 in their home town, Bloomington, Ind. She composed as she played.

"She taught me most of what I learned about piano starting when I was 12 and all by ear," he said. "She could barely read music."

HER FAVORITE

His mother's favorite among Carmichael compositions was not the perennial favorite, "Stardust," but instead a relatively unknown song he wrote many years ago, "One Morning in May."

"I remember that she played 'Maple Leaf Rag' on Tommy Dorsey's radio show in 1939 and stopped the show," he said fondly. "She played 'Cannonball Rag' at my wedding reception in 1936, and George Gershwin who was there liked it so much that he played some of the original score of 'Porgy and Bess.' It hadn't been heard before."

Radio Panel To Debate Move To Recover Tax

"Is the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. acting properly in attempting to recover alleged illegal taxes?" will be debated by a four-member panel at 9 a.m. tomorrow on the KTIM radio program "Marin Sounding Board."

Taking up verbal cudgels in behalf of the taxpayers association will be its president, P. J. Rowland, and one of its directors, Berger Stockfleth.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan and a fourth panelist to be announced will also debate the question, said moderator Kitty Oppenheimer. She said telephoned questions would be welcome during tomorrow's broadcast. The program is repeated by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

'I'VE GOT THE FUTURE'

Eddie Bows Off TV Show; Next Job Is At Las Vegas

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Singer Eddie Fisher, dispossessed of his television show by his sponsor and his life's savings by his former wife, today looked forward to a future of work—and maybe marriage to actress Elizabeth Taylor.

The 30-year-old crooner closed out his regular TV program last night by warbling a medley of the songs that made him one of the country's most popular singers and lifted him from the streets of Philadelphia to the center of one of filmland's most sensational triangles.

"It is the end of something," he said after the program. "I'm a little bit sad and a a little bit relieved. I feel a little bit peculiar.

"But I've got the future to think about."

Fisher lost all his savings to his former wife, actress Debbie Reynolds, 26, last month when he signed a whopping property settlement with her to clear the way for her to get an uncontested divorce, according to his business manager.

But Fisher, whose show last night was his 484th live performance in six years, has a 12-year contract with NBC which could pay him up to seven million dollars if the network can find work for him. His latest sponsor explained he wasn't picking up the option to Fisher's show because it had dropped in ratings.

And he has a five-year contract with the Tropicana Hotel in Las Vegas calling for a million dollars. He starts a four-week engagement at the hostelry April 1, with Miss Taylor expected to take up residence nearby.

Friends say Fisher probably will stay over for an extra two weeks, long enough to get a Nevada divorce, and then marry the sultry actress. (His California divorce won't become final until next February.)

HIGH SCHOOL TO REPEAT 'OKLAHOMA!'

San Rafael High School's production of "Oklahoma!" which played to overflow houses last weekend, will be repeated tomorrow night to meet the demands of many others wishing to attend.

Hugo Rinaldi, head of the music department of the San Rafael schools, and Edward Day, director, announced the added performance will be at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the high school auditorium. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Summer Tour Offered To Marin Pupils

A tour of New England and the eastern seaboard, visits to Williamsburg and Jamestown, a view of the nation's capital, at New York City, Chicago, Detroit and Quebec are part of a 29-day summer tour for Marin High school students between the ages of 14 and 17.

The tours, each one limited to 36 students, have been planned by Redwood Travel Advisors of San Rafael. Tour leaders have been chosen from the staffs of Marin high school to accompany the groups as they travel by train and chartered bus. The first of eight tours will depart June 24. The other seven tours will leave on successive Wednesdays.

The students will have a chance to visit almost 100 colleges and universities, including Harvard University, Notre Dame, Radcliffe and Bryn Mawr colleges and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

An entire day will be spent at the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Mich; another day touring the colonial towns of Williamsburg and Jamestown in Virginia; still another day in Washington, D.C., with a boat trip to Mt. Vernon.
